(2) If the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(g) Adjustments of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to (e) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to (f) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

SEC. 9. Marketing service—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct an amount not exceeding — cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the War Food Administrator) from the payments made to producers pursuant to section 8 with respect to all milk received by such handler during each delivery period from producers, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received by handlers from producers during the delivery period and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Producers' cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the War Food Administration determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing, as determined by the War Food Administrator, the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by such producers and, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

SEC. 10. Expense of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk received during such delivery period from producers or from a producers' cooperative association or produced by such handler, the exact sum to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the War Food Administrator: Provided, That such handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such pro rata share of expense of administration on only that milk of producers received by such association or caused to be delivered by such association to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area.

(b) Suits by market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

SEC. 11. Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the War Food Administrator may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The War Food Administrator may suspend or terminate this order or any provision hereof, whenever he finds that this order or any provision hereof, obstructs, or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the War Food Administrator so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the War Food Administrator may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until discharged by the War Food Administrator, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and, when so directed by the War Food Administrator, deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person to such person, as the War Food Administrator may direct, and (iii) if so directed by the War Food Administrator, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant hereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator, may designate shall, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

SEC. 12. Agents. The War Food Administrator may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

Copies of this notice of hearing may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, in Room 1331 South Building, Washington, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: May 27, 1944.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—War Food Administration

PART 947—MILK IN FALL RIVER, MASSACHUSETTS, MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK

Order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area.

Findings and Determinations

Findings. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure covering the formulation of marketing agreements and milk orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1–900.17; 7 F.R. 3550; 8 F.R. 2815), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area. Upon the basis of evidence introduced in such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

1. The order regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, as amended and as hereby amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

2. The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk. The minimum prices specified in the said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

3. The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the tentatively approved marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk which is marketed within the said marketing area refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

1. The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

2. The issuance of this order further amending the aforesaid order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act to advance the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

3. The issuance of this order further amending the aforesaid order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of the approval of the order, and who, during the determined representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order Relative to Handling

It is, therefore, ordered, That, from and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended in the following respects:

1. In the last sentence of § 947.1 (a) (7) add after the clause "which it causes to be delivered to the plant of a handler," the words "but not a producer-handler,."

2. In § 947.3 (b) (2) change the period to a semicolon and add a second proviso as follows: "Provided further, That of any milk received from the type of handler described in § 947.6 (e), not less than the quantity of such milk allocated pursuant to § 947.7 (b) (3) (iii) shall be Class II milk."

3. In § 947.3 (d) revise subparagraphs (2) and (3) to read as follows:

(2) The difference between the amount determined pursuant to (1) of this paragraph and the total quantity of Class II milk allocated to source (3) milk pursuant to § 947.7 (b) (3) shall be such Class I milk.

(3) The total quantity of Class II milk referred to in (2) of this paragraph shall be such Class II milk.

4. Add a proviso to § 947.4 (a) as follows: "Provided, That for milk delivered to a handler from producers' farms at a receiving plant located more than 100 miles from the City Hall in Fall River, there shall be deducted the sum of 13 cents plus an amount per hundredweight equal to the lowest rail tariff, for the transportation, in carlots, of milk in 40-quart cans, as published in the New England Joint Tariff M4 (including revisions and supplements thereof), for the distance from the railroad shipping point for such receiving plant to the handler's railroad delivery point for the marketing area."

5. Revise § 947.4 (b) to read as follows:

(b) Class II Price. (1) Except as provided in (2) of this paragraph, each handler shall pay producers or associations of producers for their milk in the manner set forth in § 947.9, not less than that price per hundredweight, for milk containing 3.7 percent butterfat, calculated for each delivery period by the market administrator, as follows: divide by 33.48 the weighted average price per 40-quart can of 40-percent bottling quality cream in the Boston market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or by such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this function) for the delivery period during which such milk is delivered, or the last such price reported for a delivery period if no such price is reported for the delivery period during which such milk is delivered, multiply the result by 3.7 and subtract 15 cents: Provided, That any plus amount for skim value shall be added which results from the following computation: compute the average for all the dry skim milk powder quotations for carlots for "human food products (roller process) in barrels" and for "animal feed products (hot roller) in bags" (using mid-point of any range as one quotation), published during such delivery period, by United States Department of Agriculture (or by such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this function), for New York City, subtract 4.0 cents and multiply by 7.5.

(2) For milk delivered to a handler from producers' farms at a receiving plant located more than 100 miles from the City Hall in Fall River, the price shall be the amount computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph minus 14 cents.

6. Delete § 947.4 (d) (1) and renumber subparagraph (2) of the same paragraph to subparagraph (1).

7. Add a new paragraph to § 947.4 as follows:

(e) Computation of transportation allowances. For the purpose of this section, the milk which was disposed of during each delivery period by each handler as Class I milk from a receiving plant located within 100 miles of the City Hall in Fall River shall be presumed to have been, first, that milk which was received directly from producers' farms at such plant, and then that milk which was shipped from the nearest receiving plant located more than 100 miles from the City Hall in Fall River.

8. In § 947.6 delete from paragraph (d) the words "except that such handler shall make payments as specified in § 947.9 (i)" and change the comma to a period; in paragraph (e) delete the words "§ 947.9 (h), and § 947.11;" and in § 947.6 (g) (1) and (2) delete the word "and" preceding the word "§ 947.5" and the directly following it the words "and § 947.11."

9. Renumber paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 947.7, and all references thereto, to (b) and (c), respectively, and add a new paragraph (a) as follows:

(a) Itemization of milk by sources. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall determine for each handler, for purposes of reference in making the computations in (b) and (c) of this section, the quantity of milk received from the following sources:

(1) Producers and associations of producers on each of any lists maintained pursuant to § 947.6 (c).

(2) Producers pursuant to § 947.6 (d):

(i) With respect to the Greater Boston market; and

(3) Producers, except milk listed in (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(4) Handlers of the type described in § 947.6 (e).

(5) Other handlers, except milk listed in (4) of this paragraph.

(6) Plants, pursuant to § 947.6 (d):

(i) With respect to the Greater Boston market; and

(ii) With respect to markets outside of the marketing area, other than Greater Boston.

10. Revise § 947.7 (b) (3) to read as follows:

(3) For the purpose of this section, milk as referred to by sources described and listed in paragraph (a) of this section, shall be allocated among classes in the order of the subdivisions of this subparagraph, as follows:

(i) Actual plant shrinkage classified as Class II milk shall be allocated pro rata among sources listed in paragraph (a) (1), (2) (i), and (3).

(ii) Remaining Class II milk shall be first allocated to source listed in paragraph (a) (2) (ii),

(iii) Except as provided in (iv), in case a handler has milk from sources listed in (a) (1), (2), (4) or (6) and also has Class II milk remaining (inclusive of any plant shrinkage in Class II allocated to milk of source listed in (a) (3)) equal to 5 percent or more of the total quantity of milk from source listed in (a) (3), such Class II milk shall be first allocated to milk from source listed in (a) (3) up to and including, but not in excess of, 5 percent of the source listed in (a) (3) milk (inclusive of shrinkage allocated to source listed in (a) (3) milk, then remaining Class II milk shall be allocated to the milk from sources listed in (a) (1), (2), (4) and (6) pro rata, and any Class II milk remaining unallocated shall be considered to be from source listed in (a) (3) milk.

(iv) Milk from source listed in (a) (6) (i) received completely processed and packaged for distribution to consumers which is disposed of as Class I shall be allocated to Class I.

11. In § 947.6 (c) (1) and § 947.7 (b) (1) (vi) and 2 (vii), change the reference "§ 947.9 (g)" to "§ 947.9 (h)"; in § 947.9 (a) (1) and (2) change the references "paragraph (g)" and "paragraph (f)" to "paragraph (h)" and "paragraph (g)," respectively; and in § 947.7 (c) (1) and (2) delete the present subdivision (ii) and substitute therefor a new subdivision (ii) as follows:

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-552]

MEDWED FOOTWEAR COMPANY

P. E. Medwed, who does business as the Medwed Footwear Company in Bangor, Maine, is a shoe manufacturer and a large part of his business consists of the manufacture of moccasins. On April 7, 1943, he filed an appeal for relief from the provisions of Conservation Order M-217. Pursuant to this appeal, on April 28, 1943, the War Production Board granted the respondent the authority to use scrap and offal of cattle hide upper leather, 4½ ounces or over in the manufacture of moccasins with the understanding he would use no pieces large enough to cut work shoe uppers. Having subsequently obtained 2071 pounds of full grain leather 4½ ounces or over of which from thirty to fifty percent was large enough for cutting work shoe uppers, respondent cut and used all of such leather for the manufacture of moccasins, in violation of Conservation Order M-217. The respondent had full knowledge of the provisions of Conservation Order M-217 and his actions constituted a wilful violation of that order.

These violations of Conservation Order M-217 have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.552 Suspension Order No. S-552. (a) P. E. Medwed, doing business as Medwed Footwear Company, or under any other name, his successors or assigns, shall not put into process any cattle hide upper leather (other than kip sides, kip skins and calf) including upper leather splits, gauging 4½ ounces or over for the manufacture of any foot wear except work shoes, cowboy utility boots and lined police type high shoes, as specified in Conservation Order M-217, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve P. E. Medwed, doing business as Medwed Footwear Company, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 29, 1944, and shall expire on September 29, 1944.

[General Limitation Order L-111, as Amended May 30, 1944]

HAND TRUCKS AND OTHER HANDLING EQUIPMENT

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of steel and other materials, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1236.112 General Limitation Order L-111—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person who fabricates or assembles hand trucks, platforms, pallets, portable (platform type) elevators, or racks.

(3) "Hand Truck" means any truck, lift truck, lift jack, dolly, or trailer, not self-power propelled, with one or more free running wheels or casters, designed or used for transporting material of any kind; except (i) a hospital cart designed for moving materials in parts of hospitals customarily used by patients; (ii) a concrete buggy or cart covered by Order L-192; or (iii) a trailer for use on the highway or for use in earth moving, mining, logging, or petroleum development.

(4) "Dolly" means any low platform or structure mounted on wheels or casters (or one or more of each), and designed primarily for moving bulky loads on floors.

(5) [Revoked, September 6, 1943].

(6) "Lift truck" means a hand truck designed or used to lift and support a platform or pallet in moving. "Lift jack" means a hand truck designed or used to lift and support a part of a semi-live platform in moving.

(7) "Two wheel hand truck" means a hand truck in which the load is partly carried or balanced by a person, even though such hand truck may be equipped with more than two wheels or casters.

(8) "Platform truck" means a hand truck consisting of a platform on wheels or casters or both, not self-power propelled.

(9) "Trailer" means a platform type truck designed to be towed.

(10) "Platform" means any platform, deck or skid, with or without box top or enclosure, standing on legs or other supports, and used or designed primarily for use in conjunction with hand or power operated lift trucks, portable (platform type) elevators, or similar devices. "Semi-live platform" means a platform with one or more wheels, or casters, and one or more legs or similar supports.

(11) "Pallet" means a single or double faced support designed primarily for the same purposes as a platform.

(12) "Portable (platform type) elevator" means any elevating device, mounted on wheels or casters (or one or more of each), with either power or hand operated lift, used or designed primarily for elevating or lowering material, for purposes of tiering, stacking, or access to elevated places.

(13) "Rack" means any rack or other structure used or designed primarily for the storage of pallets or platforms, or storage or draining (or both) of barrels, drums, carboys, or similar containers.

(14) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(16) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of orders for hand trucks, platforms, and portable (platform type) elevators, and parts. (1) No manufacturer, dealer or other person shall accept any order for any new hand truck, platform, or portable (platform type) elevator, or any new parts for any such equipment, or deliver any such equipment or parts under any order tendered on or after April 13, 1943, unless such order bears a preference rating of AA-5 or higher.

(2) The foregoing requirements shall not apply to any order for parts to be delivered to a manufacturer or dealer for resale for repair purposes, or to any other person for use in the repair of any such equipment already owned by such person, if the purchaser furnishes his supplier with a certification in substantially the following form, on the purchase order or in a separate document:

I hereby certify that the above (or attached) order is for parts to be used for repair purposes only, in compliance with paragraph (b) (2) of General Limitation Order L-111.

---------- Company

By ---------- (Authorized Official)

Such certification shall in every case be signed by the purchaser or an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. No person shall make delivery under any such order if he knows or has reason to believe that such certificate is false; and no person shall falsely furnish any such certification. Such certification shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board, as well as to the supplier, that the statements therein are true. Any supplier may rely upon the information therein, and shall not be responsible for any action taken by him under this order in reliance upon inaccurate or untrue statements therein, unless he knows or has reason to believe that such statements are inaccurate or untrue.

(c) [Deleted May 30, 1944]

(d) Required specifications for hand trucks and other handling equipment. No person shall manufacture or deliver any new hand trucks, platforms, pallets, racks, or portable (platform type) elevators, or deliver any new wheels, or other parts for use on any such new equipment or for replacement on any such used equipment, except in accordance with the specifications and restrictions set forth below, and no person shall deliver, or accept delivery of, any such equipment which he knows, or has reason to believe, was manufactured, or is being delivered, contrary to such specifications and restrictions:

(1) [Revoked September 6, 1943].

(2) Restriction on the use of bearings and materials. No ball bearings or roller bearings shall be used in the manufacture of two-wheel hand trucks, platform trucks, dollies, or semi-live platforms, except (i) where the normal load capacity is 2,500 lbs. or more, and (ii) where carburized rolling elements and unground races are used. This restriction shall not be deemed to prohibit the use of pin bearings using unground steel pins of other than alloy steel.

(3) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(4) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(5) Restrictions on use of copper and copper base alloy. No copper or copper base alloy shall be used in the manufacture of hand trucks, pallets, or platforms, except in hydraulic packing washers, or where the use of other materials would create a definite explosion hazard as a result of the necessity of using such equipment in the same room with, or in other close proximity to materials subject to explosive reaction from sparks, such as black powder, lead azide, igniter composition, tracer mixtures, primer mixtures, incendiary composition, vapors from combustible substances, or dust from explosives. However, brass may be used in bearings where bearings are permitted under paragraph (d) (2).

(6) Restrictions on use of aluminum, tin, cadmium, zinc, and metallic plating and finishes. No aluminum, tin, cadmium, zinc, metallic plating or metallic finishes shall be used in the manufacture of hand trucks, pallets, or platforms, except that zinc may be used for galvanizing.

(e) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(f) Exemptions and exceptions. (1) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(2) The limitations and restrictions of paragraph (d) of this order shall not apply:

(i) To the manufacture, delivery and acceptance of parts which are to be used for repair and maintenance only and which cannot be used for replacement on existing equipment in a practical manner if made in conformity with such specifications and restrictions;

(ii) To the manufacture, delivery and acceptance of parts which on April 23, 1943, had been fabricated or processed to the extent that any other use would be impractical;

(iii) To the manufacture, delivery and acceptance of any hand trucks or other handling equipment in the process of manufacture on April 23, 1943, and to be used in filling any order accepted by the manufacturer prior to said date;

(iv) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(3) [Deleted Apr. 1, 1944]

(g) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and amended from time to time.

(2) [Revoked September 6, 1943].

(3) [Revoked September 6, 1943].

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. This letter must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(6) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-111.

Issued this 30th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

Questions have arisen as to whether the term "hand truck", as defined in paragraph (a) (3), includes equipment of the following kinds:

So-called "carriers" of the types furnished for the use of customers in self-service grocery stores for carrying small quantities of groceries to the cashier's desk; equipment of similar design used in offices for moving light wire baskets of correspondence and the like about the office; and canvas covered baskets or hampers used for moving linens, trash, and other very light materials. Items of these kinds of equipment consist of a very light frame work mounted on small wheels or casters.

Equipment of these kinds is not included in the definition of "hand truck", and is not covered by Order L-111.

It is to be noted, however, that hand trucks of heavier construction, such as those used by the employees in retail stores for moving cases or boxes of merchandise about the store in restocking the shelves or for other purposes, are covered by the order along with other trucks of still heavier construction. (Issued Mar. 6, 1944)

Book trucks, dish trucks, food carts, laundry trucks and laundry truck tubs, linen trucks, and shelf trucks are within the definition of "hand trucks" in paragraph (a) (3), except for hospital carts of the kinds which are specifically excluded by that definition, and except for "carriers" of the kinds described in Interpretation 1. Neither are such hospital carts and carriers within any of the other classes of equipment which are covered by the order.

It is to be noted that the term "hand trucks" includes both two wheel hand trucks and other kinds which have more than two wheels or casters and that paragraphs (b), (d) (5), and (d) (6) therefore apply to hand trucks of all types which are covered by the order (as well as other kinds of equipment referred to in these paragraphs). PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Limitation Order L-317 as Amended May 29, 1944]

FIBRE SHIPPING CONTAINERS; MANUFACTURE AND USE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supply of materials entering into the production of fibre shipping containers for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3270.6 Limitation Order L-317—(a) "Fibre shipping container". For purposes of this order, the term "fibre shipping container" means the following items:

(1) Any box, crate, case, basket, or hamper in set-up or knock-down form which is made in whole or in part from solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre and which is used for the delivery or shipment of materials. This does not include the following: trunks, luggage, or military locker boxes; fibre cans, tubes, or drums; inner cartons (except corrugated inner cartons and except inner cartons made from solid fibre .045 or heavier). It also does not include combination wood-and-fibre shipping containers consisting of 50% or more wood (by area).

(2) Any solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or roll to be used for wrapping, packaging, or otherwise protecting a product or material for shipment. This does not include corrugated or solid fibre sheets produced for delivery to plants, of the type commonly referred to in the container-manufacturing industry as "sheet-plants", for their use in manufacturing fibre shipping containers.

(3) Any solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre interior fitting which is cut to size for use in any type of container to provide content protection, structural strength, or both. This includes, but is not limited to, the following: partitions; pads; liners; sun bursts; corrugated wrappers (single-faced, double-faced, double-walled).

(b) "User". The term "user" means any person who uses fibre shipping containers for the shipment or delivery of materials in connection with his business.

(c) "Containerboard content". The term "containerboard content" means the amount of solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre containerboard in a fibre shipping container. This amount is computed both in terms of weight and in terms of square feet.

Manufacture and Delivery Prohibitions

(d) General. No person shall manufacture or deliver any new fibre shipping container which he has reason to believe will be used or accepted in violation of any provision of this order. No person shall deliver any new fibre shipping container (including "reshippers" defined in paragraph (m)) to any user unless the user furnishes with each purchase order a certification, signed as provided in Priorities Regulation 7, in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that he is familiar with Order L-317 of the War Production Board, and that the fibre shipping containers (or reshippers) covered by this purchase order will not be accepted or used in violation of the terms of that order.

If the user places a rated order, instead of the foregoing certification he may add to the certification of the rating (paragraph (v) of P-146) the following sentence: "The undersigned also certifies that the fibre shipping containers (or reshippers) covered by this purchase order will not be accepted or used in violation of the terms of Order L-317". The person receiving either certification shall be entitled to rely on it as a representation of the user unless he knows or has reason to know that it is false. The standard certification in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used instead of the certification required by this paragraph.

(e) Prohibited types (Schedule I). No person shall manufacture, from solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre, any container of the types listed in Schedule I of this order.

Use Prohibitions

(f) Prohibited uses—(1) Schedule II. Schedule II of this order lists certain products which may not be packed in new fibre shipping containers and certain other products which may not be packed in less than specified quantities, in new fibre shipping containers. No user shall accept or use any new fibre shipping container for any product in violation of Schedule II. This restriction does not apply to (i) containers used for wholesalers' or retailers' deliveries (as defined in Schedule III of this order), (ii) empty containers used by the Army or Navy, or (iii) containers which are quota exempt under paragraph (t) below.

(2) Carlining. No person shall use in the shipping of any product any new solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or roll as carlining except where needed for door-blocking. When such sheet or roll is used for door-blocking, only the necessary practicable minimum quantity shall be used.

(g) V-boxes. No user shall use any new V-box for packing any product except for delivery against military or Lend-Lease orders which specify that V-boxes be used. No user shall accept delivery of any V-boxes unless he has reason to believe that he will need them for the use permitted in this paragraph. The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to empty V-boxes used by the Army and Navy. The term "V-boxes" means shipping containers of the types designated as V-1, 2 and 3, in Army Specification O. Q. M. G. No. 93, dated December 2, 1942, and of the similar types described in Navy Department Specification 53B11 (INT.) and in Food Distribution Administration Specification 1742-C.

Quota Restrictions

(h) Quota products (Schedule III). Schedule III of this order lists certain products, and certain types of container uses. Beginning as of October 1, 1943, users are permitted to accept delivery of or use only a limited amount of new fibre shipping containers for packing any of the listed products (or for any of the listed uses), during each 3-month period (exclusive of amounts which are quota-exempt under paragraph (t) below). The limited amounts are called "quotas". The 3-month periods are called "quota periods". As explained below, there are two types of quotas—"footage quotas" and "tonnage quotas".

(h-1) Quotas for products added to Schedule III on May 29, 1944. For all products added to Schedule III for the first time on May 29, 1944, the percentage specified applies immediately, and, until July 1, 1944, users are permitted to accept delivery of or use for those products one-third of the quota which they would have for the quota period covering the second calendar quarter of 1944.

(i) Quota restriction. During any 3-month quota period, the total containerboard content of the new fibre shipping containers accepted or used by any user for packing any Schedule III product (or for any Schedule III use) shall exceed neither his footage quota nor his tonnage quota for that product (or use). Quotas are to be computed in accordance with the next four paragraphs below. (The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to empty containers used by the Army or Navy or to containers which are quota-exempt under paragraph (t) below).

(j) Computing footage quota. A user's "footage quota" for any Schedule III product (or use) shall be the following amount: the containerboard content (in terms of square feet) of the new fibre shipping containers used by him during the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 (or other year if specified) for packing that product (or for that use) multiplied by the quota percentage listed in Schedule III for that product (or use).

(k) Computing tonnage quota. A user's "tonnage quota" for any Schedule III product (or use) shall be the following amount: the containerboard content (in terms of weight) of the new fibre shipping containers used by him during the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 (or other year if specified) for packing that product (or for that use) multiplied by the quota percentage listed in Schedule III for that product (or use). In the case of a Schedule III product, the resulting amount may be increased to the extent permitted in the next paragraph.

(l) Minimum-pack allowance. If a user's tonnage quota for any Schedule III product is not enough for a "minimum pack" of that product, his tonnage quota for that product is increased to the extent needed for a minimum pack. However, the footage quota for that product is not increased. "Minimum pack" means the amount of a Schedule III product packed by the user during the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 (or other year if specified) multiplied by the quota percentage listed in Schedule III for that product.

(m) Adjustments for "reshippers". For quota purposes, "reshippers" shall be treated as though they were new fibre shipping containers. Accordingly, the containerboard content of all reshippers used by a user during the corresponding quarter of 1942 (or other year if specified) for packing a Schedule III product may be included in figuring his footage and tonnage quotas (paragraphs (j) and (k) above). Likewise, the containerboard content of all reshippers accepted or used by a user during any quota period for packing any Schedule III product shall be charged to his footage and tonnage quotas for that product. The term "reshippers" means new fibre shipping containers in which empty inner containers (such as glass jars, cans, etc.) are shipped to a packer and which are then used by the packer for shipping or delivering inner containers packed by him with some product. Paragraph (d) prohibits any person from delivering reshippers to any user unless the user furnishes with each purchase order the certification required by that paragraph.

Inventory Restrictions

(n) Inventory restrictions. No person shall accept any delivery which will increase his inventory of unfilled new fibre shipping containers to more than his maximum permitted inventory. He may figure his maximum permitted inventory in either (but not both) of two ways—"over-all" basis or "individual-item" basis.

(o) Over-all basis. On the over-all basis, his maximum permitted inventory of all sizes and types shall be no more than a combined total of 1½ carloads.

(p) Individual-item basis. On the individual-item basis he figures a separate inventory for each "container item class." In each class he figures how many he will need to meet his reasonably anticipated requirements in the next 30 days (as restricted by a quota on Schedule III, if any). If that is more than 1200 complete sets of that class his inventory for that class is his 30-day requirement; if not, it is 1200. The total of all his classes figured in this way will be his maximum permitted inventory, which he may divide among his several sizes and types as he sees fit. A "container item class" includes all new fibre shipping containers of the same or similar sizes and types currently being used by him. (A variation in size or type which does not make a container unsuitable for shipping the same amount of a product in substantially the same shape and form shall not be considered as representing a different size or type.)

(q) Seasonal-foods and military exceptions. The 30-day supply maximum in paragraph (p) above shall not apply to requirements for packing seasonal foods or to the Army's or Navy's requirements for empty new fibre shipping containers. Instead, the "practicable minimum working inventory" provision in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1 (and Interpretation 1a of that regulation) shall apply in those cases.

Multiple-Unit Organizations

(r) Multiple-unit organizations. Any user who uses new fibre shipping containers at more than one place may choose to apply the quota and inventory restrictions of this order either to the operations of each place separately or to the collective operations of all his places. The same choice as to the inventory restrictions is available to any container-distributor who deals in new fibre shipping containers at more than one place. After making his choice, no person shall thereafter change it unless authorized by the War Production Board. Any user or container-distributor organization which consists of a parent corporation and one or more wholly-owned subsidiary corporations may consider itself as a single user or distributor for the purposes of this paragraph.

Exceptions and Exemptions

(s) Small-user exception. The quota restrictions of paragraph (i) above do not apply to any user during any calendar year in which he accepts no more than a total of $500 worth (cost price to him) of new fibre shipping containers for all products (whether or not on Schedule III).

(t) Use and quota exemptions for certain government orders. The use prohibitions of paragraph (f) above and the quota restrictions of paragraph (i) above do not apply to new fibre shipping containers which are used by any user (whether a manufacturer or a distributor) for delivering any product to any of the following persons or which are used by any user for delivering any product to be redelivered by another party (without further processing, fabrication, or incorporation into any other product, exclusive of wholesalers' and retailers' minor finishing or decorative operations as mentioned in Schedule III) to any of the following persons:

(1) The U. S. Army or Navy (exclusive of post exchanges or ship's service departments located within the 48 states and the District of Columbia).

(2) The Maritime Commission; the War Shipping Administration; or to other persons pursuant to authorization by the Maritime Commission on Form WPB-646 (formerly PD-300).

(3) Any U. S. agency making Lend-Lease purchases.

New fibre shipping containers used for those purposes may be regarded as being in addition to the user's quota for the product involved.

(u) Exceptions for stocks in transit or on hand. Any user may use for the purpose for which he acquired them any new fibre shipping containers which were in his possession or which were in transit to him on or before October 11, 1943. In the case of any product added to Schedule II after that date he may use for that product the containers which he had acquired or which were in transit to him for that product on or before the date on which the item was added to the schedule. These exceptions are subject to the quota restrictions of paragraph (i).

Miscellaneous Provisions

(v) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(w) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-317.

(x) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(y) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 29th day of May 1944.

SCHEDULE III—PRODUCTS AND USES SUBJECT TO QUOTAS

NOTE: Schedule III amended in its entirety May 29, 1944.

Paragraph (i) of Order L-317 places quotas on the amount of new fibre shipping containers (including reshippers as defined in paragraph (m) of the order) that may be accepted or used for packing the products or for the types of uses listed below. The percentage listed opposite the item is to be used in figuring the quotas. The base period is the corresponding 3-month period in 1942 unless another year is specified in the schedule, for example "Mirrors (1943)".

Code numbers in front of some items (for example, CDGS-429 Batteries: dry cell) refer to the code numbers on the Official CMP Product List set out in "Products and Priorities" published monthly by the War Production Board, the latest copy of which may be found in any War Production Board office or obtained from the United States Government Printing Office. Each such item covers each product listed under that code number and group name in the List. The percentage applicable to the code number is applicable to each separate product and the quota for one item may not be transferred to another item in the same group. In order to find out whether any product is covered by a code number, follow the directions in the front of "Products and Priorities". The restrictions of this order apply to the product even though it may not contain copper, steel or aluminum (controlled materials). An asterisk indicates that there is no code number for the product.

In the case of products which were on the schedule before the amendment of May 29, 1944, (Schedule C) the new percentages do not apply until July 1, 1944. Until that date the percentage which formerly appeared remains applicable. See paragraph (h-1) for the rules relating to products added May 29, 1944.

The products listed below do not include repair parts, which are not restricted by the order.

NOTE: Items marked with an asterisk cover products that are not covered by code numbers.

Restricted Uses	Quota (percent)
Wholesalers' deliveries	70
Retailers' deliveries: mail, express and common carrier	70
Retailers' deliveries: other than mail, express and common carrier	60

These "restricted uses" items relate only to deliveries made by persons who have not produced the products delivered nor done any fabrication or processing work on them other than minor finishing or decorative operations usually performed by wholesalers and retailers (such as assembly of knocked-down furniture, monogramming of linen and jewelry, alteration of clothing). "Retailers' deliveries" means deliveries made by any such person who sells exclusively or predominantly at retail. "Wholesalers' deliveries" means deliveries made by any such person who sells exclusively or predominantly at wholesale. The quota for each type of use represents the maximum total amount of containers which can be so used for all products (whether or not listed in Schedule III). The quota takes the place of a separate quota for each Schedule III product.

Issued this 29th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

The restrictions of L-317 (§ 3270.6) are applicable only to new fibre shipping containers. A question has arisen as to the status of such containers which have been rejected during the course of manufacture or upon delivery because of errors in size, printing, etc. Such containers are new containers and subject to the restrictions contained in the order until they have been used for the packing of a product. (Issued Nov. 6, 1943)

INTERPRETATION 2

APPLICABILITY OF INVENTORY RESTRICTIONS TO V-BOXES

(a) Applicability of inventory restrictions to V-boxes. It has been called to the attention of the War Production Board that there is, in certain quarters, a misimpression to the effect that V-boxes are exempted from the Inventory Restrictions of Order L-317. This impression is completely unfounded. Inventories of V-boxes are controlled to the same extent as other fibre shipping containers by the provisions of paragraph (n) through (q) of Order L-317 and paragraph (b) of Direction 1 of that order.

(b) Cancellation of excessive V-box orders. V-box orders are also subject to the restrictions against placing excessive orders set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of Direction 1 of Order L-317. Therefore, all orders for V-boxes in excess of the amount which a person would be entitled to receive within these inventory limitations must be cancelled immediately.

(c) Responsibility of box manufacturers. Attention is called to the fact that box manufacturers share responsibility for seeing to it that no V-boxes (as well as other fibre shipping containers) are delivered which will cause a customer to exceed his permitted inventory, because under paragraph (d) of Order L-317 they are prohibited from manufacturing, selling, or delivering any new fibre shipping containers which they know or have reason to believe will be used or accepted in violation of the order. (Issued May 26, 1944)

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

FORGINGS IN CONTROLLED MATERIAL FORM

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 1:

The following rules apply to steel products which are produced in controlled material form by a forging process:

(1) When sold by a steel producer, they are controlled materials.[1]

(2) When sold by a forger who is not a steel producer, they are Class A products.

(3) When sold by a distributor, they are controlled materials, regardless of who produced them.

(4) In ordering them, a distributor must follow the procedure set forth in paragraph (c) of Order M-21-b-1, regardless of whether the order is placed with a steel producer or with a forger who is not a steel producer.

(5) A forger who is not a steel producer may place orders for the steel required by him to fill orders actually received from a distributor in accordance with paragraph (4) above or to replace inventory used for such purpose. The forger's orders must be identified by the allotment symbol "W. H." and shall be considered authorized controlled material orders.

Issued this 30th day of May 1944.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 5A, as Amended May 30, 1944]

MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND OPERATING SUPPLIES FOR GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES AND INSTITUTIONS

§ 3175.5a CMP Regulation 5A—(a) Purpose and scope. (1) The purpose of this regulation is to provide for governmental agencies and for institutions a uniform procedure for obtaining materials and products for maintenance, repair, operating supplies and minor capital additions (all frequently referred to collectively as MRO) both in the case of controlled materials obtained by use of allotment symbols under the Controlled Materials Plan and in the case of materials or products obtained by preference ratings. Any agency or institution affected by this regulation requiring maintenance, repair and operating supplies, in any form, in such quantities as are available from warehouses or distributors under CMP Regulation No. 4 or at retail without preference ratings or allotments, may obtain the same without using the procedure provided in this regulation, but subject to all applicable limitations in War Production Board regulations and orders.

(2) The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any governmental agency or to any institution to the extent that it is engaged in the following services or industries: gas, light, power, water, central heating, or the operation of a sanitary sewerage system or a storm sewerage system combined with a sanitary sewerage system for general use by the public, or to communications (in so far only as communications are provided for in Orders U-3 and U-4).

(3) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

NOTE: Canadian governmental agencies and Canadian institutions will obtain MRO in the United States under Canadian Order PO 5 B.

(4) The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to Claimant Agencies as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1, except to such extent as may be specifically provided by order of the War Production Board. Any Claimant Agency which desires that this regulation be made applicable to any of its departments or activities may make application therefor by letter in duplicate addressed to the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A.

(5) Any governmental agency of a United Nation may get MRO under the regulation for its own use within the United States. Other foreign agencies and institutions may not use this regulation or CMP Regulation 5 to get MRO.

(6) Any federal agency and the national headquarters of the American Red Cross may use this regulation to get MRO for export, Provided, It is for their own use in their own operations. They may not use this regulation to get MRO for export for any other purpose. The term "federal agency" shall apply to the executive departments and all agencies, both temporary and permanent, of the Executive Branch of the Federal Government which have offices in foreign countries, but not to subsidiary corporations operating under federal agencies or to organizations conducting exploratory, production or manufacturing operations financed by and conducted under the direction of federal agencies. Other governmental agencies and other institutions may not use the regulation to get MRO for export.

(b) Definitions. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation.

(1) "Governmental agency" means any governmental agency in the United States, its territories or possessions, federal, state, county, municipal or local except any agency specifically excluded from this regulation by order of the War Production Board. (See paragraph (a) (5) concerning agency of foreign government and paragraph (a) (6) concerning MRO for export.)

(2) "Institution" means any institution within the United States, its territories or possessions, public or private, including but not limited to, schools, colleges, libraries, hospitals, welfare establishments and churches. (See paragraph (a) (5) denying use of regulation to foreign institutions and paragraph (a) (6) concerning MRO for export.)

(3) "Educational institution" (see Schedule II) means, (i) any elementary or secondary school, and any college or university maintained and operated by any state or any political subdivision thereof, including school districts and cities, or by any agency of the Federal Government, its territories or possessions, or the District of Columbia;

(ii) Any other school, college or university which offers a curriculum substantially the same as that offered by a school, college or university maintained and operated by any state or any political subdivision thereof or the District of Columbia;

(iii) Any school, college, or university which is conducting one or more of the following programs as established and supervised by the United States Office of Education:

(a) Vocational Education for War Production Workers,

(b) Engineering, Science and Management War Training,

(c) Rural War Production Training;

(iv) Any school, college or university, which pursuant to letter of intent from, or contract with, the Army or Navy of the United States is engaged in housing, feeding or training any unit of military personnel;

(v) Any school, college or university which is specifically authorized by the War Production Board to operate under this regulation as an educational institution. Application for such authorization shall be by letter in duplicate stating the relevant facts addressed to the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A.

(4) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like: Provided, That neither maintenance nor repair shall include the improvement of any plant, facility or equipment, by replacing material which is still usable, with material of a better kind, quality or design.[2] Certain improvements of this kind may be obtained as minor capital additions as explained in paragraph (b) (6).

(5) "Operating supplies" means any material or product which (i) is essential for conducting any activity or rendering any service by any governmental agency or by any institution and (ii) is consumed in the course of conducting such activity or rendering such service and (iii) does not constitute capital equipment. Materials included in any finished product produced by a governmental agency or an institution which are normally chargeable to operating expense may also be treated as operating supplies.

(6) "Minor capital addition" means, as explained in Interpretation 5, any improvement or addition, the cost of which, excluding the purchaser's cost of labor, does not exceed $100. The term includes a group of items customarily purchased together and all items normally purchased as part of a single project or plan. In determining whether a job or project comes within the cost limit, all materials and products used must be included, regardless of whether the MRO symbol or rating is used in getting all or only part of the same. No job or project may be subdivided to come within this paragraph (b) (6).[3] There is no direct limit on the number of minor capital additions. The limit is in the fact that all materials and products used in the jobs or projects and obtained with the MRO symbol or ratings must be charged against the overall MRO quota which must not be exceeded. Where the capital addition involves construction, authorization to construct must be obtained to the extent required by Conservation Order L-41 or by any other applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(7) Production material required by a governmental agency or an institution for physical incorporation in products manufactured by it, which products it sells for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies, may be obtained as provided in CMP Regulation No. 1 and in CMP Regulation No. 3, and such production materials shall not be deemed maintenance repair or operating supplies, as to such agency or institution.

(c) Controlled materials—(1) Steel, copper and aluminum. Subject to the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of this regulation, any governmental agency or any institution engaged in any activity or rendering any service listed in Schedule I or Schedule II attached to this regulation, requiring delivery of any controlled material (as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1) for MRO in the conduct of such activity or service, may obtain the same by placing on or accompanying its delivery order with substantially the following certificate (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

CMP allotment symbol MRO 5A—The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the controlled materials covered by this order are required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, to be used for a purpose listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5A and that delivery thereof will not result in a violation of the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of said regulation.

An order bearing such certification shall constitute an authorized controlled material order.

(2) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

(3) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

(d) Preference ratings for MRO. (1) Subject to the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of this regulation, orders by any governmental agency or institution calling for delivery of material or products, other than controlled materials, for maintenance, repairs, operating supplies or minor capital additions are hereby assigned preference ratings as follows:

(i) AA-1 for any activity or service listed in Schedule I.

(ii) AA-2 for any activity or service listed in Schedule II.

(iii) AA-5 for any other activity or service.

(iv) For any building devoted primarily to any service or activity listed in Schedule I or Schedule II, the rating assigned to that service or activity is hereby assigned.

(2) Any governmental agency or any institution which maintains a central stores system for its own MRO where it is impracticable to charge purchases for inventory against a particular service or activity, may establish a scale of percentages for each rating, for each class of items, based upon withdrawals from its central stores system during the calendar year 1942 (or its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1942) by its various departments, branches or units, and may apply the appropriate percentage of each rating to its purchases for its central stores system.

In the alternative, any such agency or institution may apply to the War Production Board, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (k) for the assignment of ratings for such stores system.

(3) A preference rating assigned under this paragraph (d) shall be applied only by use of the following certification (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7) signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Preference rating ——— (specify rating): MRO 5A. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the items covered by this order are required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies; that this order is rated and placed in compliance with CMP Regulation No. 5A and that the delivery requested will not result in a violation of the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of said regulation.

(4) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

(e) Departments engaged in several activities. If any governmental agency or any institution, or any department or unit thereof, is engaged in several activities which are not assigned the same preference rating and if it is impracticable to apportion MRO between such activities, the principal activity alone shall be considered for the purpose of determining whether controlled materials may be obtained under paragraph (c) of this regulation, and also for determining which preference ratings may be applied under paragraph (d).

(f) Quantity restrictions. Any governmental agency or any institution which uses the MRO symbol or ratings assigned by this regulation must not order for delivery any more materials or products than is permitted by this paragraph.

(1) General quota. An agency or institution must not order for delivery in any calendar quarter MRO costing more than one-fourth of what it spent for maintenance, repair and operating supplies in 1942, or in its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1942.

(2) Seasonal quota. If operations are seasonal, an agency or institution must not order for delivery in any calendar quarter MRO costing more than the cost of maintenance, repair and operating supplies it had ordered for delivery in the corresponding quarter of 1942, or of its fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1942. Either the general quota or the seasonal quota may be chosen, but change to the other shall not be made without special authorization by the War Production Board.

[1] Forged armor plate, however, is always an A product, as set forth in Direction No. 10 to CMP Regulation No. 1.

[2] See Interpretation 5 (a): MRO symbol and rating cannot be used to buy improvements or additions other than minor capital additions.

[3] See Interpretation 6: Relationship between CMP Regulation 5A and Conservation Order L-41.

(3) Quotas for new agencies and institutions. In the case of a governmental agency or an institution which was not in operation during the base period mentioned in paragraph (f) (1) and (f) (2), the agency or institution may take as a quota the amount it spent for maintenance, repair and operating supplies during the first quarter of 1943 (or during the part of the quarter it was in operation) reasonably adjusted for seasonal or other variable factors. However, it must first notify the War Production Board, in writing, of the base it is taking and what adjustments it has made. In the case of an agency or institution starting operations after February 28, 1943, MRO may be ordered under the regulation in the minimum amounts necessary for operation but not exceeding $500 per quarter. If more than this amount is needed, application may be made to the War Production Board as provided in paragraph (f) (8).

(4) Use of increased quota as a base. Any increased quota for a quarter granted on or after March 16, 1944 by the War Production Board may be used as a quota for all future quarters unless or until this privilege be expressly denied.

(5) How to figure and make charges against a quota. In figuring a quota, an agency or institution must include every expense during the base period which it charged to a maintenance, repair or operating supplies account. It must not include amounts spent for minor capital additions. An agency or institution must charge against its quota for a quarter the cost of all MRO ordered for delivery in that quarter, regardless of when the order is placed, the material or products received or paid for. For instance, an item ordered May 15, 1944, scheduled for delivery August 15, 1944, actually received November 15, 1944, and paid for January 15, 1945, must be charged against the quota of the third quarter of 1944. Items to be charged against quota must include (i) all materials and products ordered for delivery for maintenance, repair or operating supplies, regardless of whether the MRO symbol or rating, some other rating, or no symbol or rating at all be used to get them; and (ii) all materials and products ordered for delivery for making minor capital additions for which the MRO symbol or rating is used. Materials or products going into a minor capital addition which are obtained without the use of the MRO symbol or rating need not be charged against quota. Note that in determining whether a particular capital addition falls within the permitted limits, the cost of all materials must be included, as explained in paragraph (b) (6). An agency or institution need not charge against its quota the cost of its own labor or the cost of any item on List A or B of Priorities Regulation No. 3 if, but only if, it did not count the cost of the excluded labor or items in figuring its quota.[6]

(6) Special records. Each agency and institution which is subject to this paragraph (f) must determine its quota and must keep its computations in its files for two years after the placing of its last order under this regulation. It must indicate on its computation any selection it makes under this paragraph (f) and in the case of paragraph (f) (3) "Quotas for new agencies and institutions", or paragraph (f) (4) "Use of increased quota as a base", it must indicate the base it selects. A record of expenses must also be maintained for at least two years.

(7) Treatment of separate departments. An agency or institution which has several departments, branches or units, which maintain separate records of MRO, shall treat each separately for the purpose of complying with the provisions of this paragraph (f).

(8) Applications for increased quotas. In any case where a quota provided in this paragraph is not enough for necessary operations, application for an increased quota may be made by letter in duplicate to the Government Division, Ref: CMP Regulation 5A, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. The following questions should be clearly answered:

1. What were your MRO expenses during your base year?
2. If on seasonal basis, what was the dollar volume per quarter of the MRO you ordered for delivery during your base year?
3. What are the dates of your base year and of your operating year?
4. How much have you spent for minor capital additions in each quarter of your current operating year?
5. What increases in quota have you had to date?
6. What amounts of increase (excluding labor costs) are necessary to your operations?
7. What are the specific facts justifying your needs for increase? Explain fully whether your needs for increase will be temporary or permanent.
8. If increase is for a specific operation which may not soon be recurring, between what dates will this operation be carried on?

Increased quotas will not have the effect of retroactively authorizing orders for delivery placed in violation of this regulation. An increased quota will not be granted for any period upon receipt of application after the end of such period.

(9) Agencies and institutions which use less than $1,000 worth of MRO a year not limited. The quantity restrictions of this paragraph (f) shall not apply to governmental agencies or institutions which do not require more than $1,000 worth of MRO per year.

(10) Further reports and limitations in special cases. The War Production Board may, by further regulations or orders, require specified governmental agencies or institutions to file application or reports regarding their MRO requirements and may prescribe quantitative limits for the same, either larger or smaller than the limits provided in this paragraph (f).

(g) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

(h) Special provisions relating to use of MRO symbol and preference ratings. (1) Any person (such as the operator of a toll bridge or a contract garbage collector) who, pursuant to franchise from, or contract with, any governmental agency, performs any service for such agency may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating to obtain MRO required for such service, which such governmental agency would be entitled to use if it performed such service itself. In computing quantity restrictions under paragraph (f) hereof such service shall be treated as if it were performed by a single department of such governmental agency.

(2) Any person (such as a service repair shop) engaged in the business of doing maintenance or repair work for any governmental agency or any institution may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating to obtain materials needed in the performance of the work which such governmental agency or institution would be entitled to use if it did the work itself. The cost of materials used in the performance of maintenance or repair work shall be treated as expenditures of such agency or institution for the purpose of computing its quantity restrictions under paragraph (f). A person engaged in such business may, instead, request an allotment of controlled materials and a preference rating by applying to the War Production Board, on Form CMP 4–B, but if he does so he must use that method exclusively and may not use such customer's rating or symbol.

(3) Any governmental agency or any institution or any department, branch or unit thereof which is engaged in producing any product or conducting any business listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5 may, to the extent, but only to the extent, that it is so engaged use the applicable rating assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5 and the symbol MRO–5A to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies required in conducting such business, but in so doing such agency or institution shall be deemed to operate under this regulation and shall be subject to all of the terms and provisions hereof.

(4) When any building is leased to a governmental agency or institution the landlord may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating to obtain MRO required for such building, which such governmental agency or institution would be entitled to use if it owned and maintained such building itself; but if the building is occupied by several tenants and the supplies are not for the benefit of a single tenant, the landlord may use a tenants' rating and symbol only if 75 per cent or more of the leased property is used in activities or services on Schedule I or II of this regulation, and in such case, unless all of such activities and services are listed in Schedule I, only the AA–2 rating may be used. In computing quantity restrictions under paragraph (f) hereof, such building shall be treated as if it were maintained by a single department of a governmental agency or institution.

(i) Penalties for misrepresentation or diversion. (1) The placing of any order bearing a certification or symbol as provided by this regulation shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80), that the agency, institution or person placing the order is entitled, under the terms of this regulation to the use of the symbol or preference rating indicated thereon.

(2) Restrictions on use of MRO symbol and ratings. No governmental agency and no institution shall use the MRO symbol or the preference rating assigned to it by this regulation to get anything except materials or products which it needs for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, or minor capital additions as permitted by paragraph (b) (6). If it is assigned different ratings by this regulation for different activities or services and it is practicable to segregate the purchases, it must not use a higher rating to get material or products for a purpose for which it is assigned a lower rating. If it is not practicable for the agency or institution to segregate its purchases, paragraph (e) explains what rating it may use.

(3) Restrictions on use of materials. If a governmental agency or an institution has bought material under this regulation for MRO and then finds that it has another use for it, it may use the material for the other purpose if a preference rating or allotment symbol is assigned the agency or institution by any certificate or order for that purpose. However, if the agency or institution uses the material for another use it may not replace it in its inventory by use of the rating or symbol assigned by this regulation. If the agency or institution replaced the material in inventory, it must use the rating or symbol assigned for the purpose for which the material was used. Also, if a governmental agency or an institution uses material bought under this regulation for another purpose, its records must be adequate to show that its purchases of material are substantially proportionate to its authorized uses. For example, suppose a governmental agency has a rating of AA–2 under this regulation for MRO and also a rating of AA–3 for a construction project. It may take lumber from its MRO inventory which it bought on the AA–2 rating and use it on the construction job, but if it replaces it in its inventory it must use the AA–3 rating for the purpose, so that it will not, in effect, have filled both its MRO and its construction requirements with this AA–2 rating. Exchanges of this kind may be made only where the material is acquired in good faith for use as MRO. A governmental agency or an institution may not use the AA–2 rating to get lumber if it is getting it specifically for use in the construction project.

(j) Inventory restrictions. Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to authorize any governmental agency or any institution to receive any delivery of maintenance, repair or operating supplies if acceptance thereof would increase its inventory above a practicable working minimum as provided in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, or would exceed the inventory limitations prescribed for such person by CMP Regulation No. 2 or by any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(k) Additional assistance in individual cases. Any governmental agency or any institution being unable to take care of its MRO needs with the rating assigned to it by this regulation, and any such agency or institution, whose activity or service is not listed in Schedule I or II, requiring controlled material and being unable to obtain it from a warehouse or distributor under CMP Regulation No. 4, may apply to the nearest local field office of the War Production Board on Form WPB–541 (formerly PD–1A) for a higher rating or the right to use the MRO symbol to obtain controlled materials. Such form shall bear a notation to the effect that the material applied for is required for MRO and that the applicant is operating under CMP Regulation 5A. However, applications for increased quota shall be made as provided in paragraph (f) (8).

(l) Effect on other orders and procedures. (1) The preference ratings and allotment symbols assigned by this regulation may be used by a governmental agency or an institution unless it is engaged in an activity or business which is covered by an order in the "P" or "U" series which specifically provide that the ratings assigned by CMP Regulation 5A may not be used.

(2) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

(3) [Deleted May 30, 1944.]

(4) When an order in the "E," "L" or "M" series assigns a specific preference rating to deliveries of any particular material to be used by a particular industry or for a specific purpose, such preference rating shall control and the preference ratings hereby assigned may not be applied.

(5) Nothing in this regulation shall be construed to relieve any governmental agency or institution from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or order of the War Production Board (including orders in the "E", "L" and "M" series) or with any order of any other competent authority.

(m) Reclassification of activities. Any governmental agency or any institution which is of the opinion that any activity in which it is engaged should be listed in Schedule I, if it is listed in Schedule II, or should be listed in either Schedule I or Schedule II, if it is not listed in either of such schedules, may apply to have such activity so listed by filing a letter, in duplicate, with the Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation 5A setting forth the relevant facts and the reasons why it considers such request should be granted. The War Production Board may cause such activity to be listed in one of the schedules attached to this regulation or, in special cases, may permit the applicant to operate under this regulation to the same extent as though its activity were included in one of such schedules.

(n) Records. Each governmental agency and institution or other person acquiring maintenance, repair or operating supplies pursuant to this regulation, shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years, accurate and complete records of all such supplies so acquired, and used, which shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(o) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to: Government Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 5A.

(p) Restrictions on use of ratings. The preference ratings assigned by this regulation shall not be used to get any of the items shown on List A or B of Priorities Regulation No. 3.

Issued this 30th day of May 1944.

INTERPRETATIONS OF CMP REGULATION NO. 5

Interpretations of CMP Regulation No. 5 are not all applicable to CMP Regulation 5A. Those which are, and which are of general interest to institutions and governmental agencies, will be republished separately under CMP Regulation 5A. (Issued Jan. 25, 1944.)

NON-PROFIT FIRE-FIGHTING ASSOCIATIONS

An association or corporation, operated not for profit, organized for the purpose of fighting and controlling forest fires, and which, through its employees, is actually engaged in the activity of fighting and preventing forest fires, may use the rating assigned by CMP Regulation 5A to the activity of "fire protection" to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies required for such activity, but excluding all items on List A and B of Priorities Regulation No. 3. (Issued Jan. 25, 1944.)

MRO SYMBOL CANNOT BE USED TO MAKE ALLOTMENTS

A governmental agency or an institution which is permitted to get controlled materials under paragraph (c) of CMP Regulation No. 5A for maintenance, repair and operating supplies is not entitled to use the MRO symbol for purposes of alloting controlled materials to others. For example, a governmental agency requires a spring as a repair part to be used in connection with an activity listed in Schedule I or Schedule II. It may use the MRO symbol to place an authorised controlled material order for steel which it will fabricate into the spring, but if it buys the spring from a spring manufacturer it may not make an allotment with the MRO symbol to the spring manufacturer. The spring manufacturer receives his allotment direct from the War Production Board as provided in CMP Regulation No. 1. (This interpretation is substantially similar to Interpretation No. 2 to CMP Regulation No. 5 issued April 20, 1942.) (Issued Jan. 25, 1944.)

RESALE OR GIFT OF MRO MATERIAL

A governmental agency or an institution may not use the ratings or symbol assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5A to obtain supplies which it desires to give or sell to another governmental agency or an institution or to any person. For example, a federal agency desires to purchase office supplies to be given to a state agency. The federal agency may not use CMP Regulation No. 5A to obtain such supplies because they are not operating supplies as far as its own activities are concerned. (Issued Jan. 26, 1944)

INTERPRETATION 5

MRO SYMBOL AND RATING CANNOT BE USED TO BUY ADDITIONS OR IMPROVEMENTS

(a) The MRO symbol and rating assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5A for MRO (maintenance, repair and operating supplies) cannot be used by a governmental agency or institution to buy improvements or additions except to the limited extent permitted under paragraph (b) (6) relating to minor capital additions costing $100 or less.

(b) The regulation is intended to give blanket priorities assistance to governmental agencies and institutions for use in ordering products and materials which are essential to keeping the agency's or institution's existing plant and equipment in running order. Attention is called to the fact that ratings assigned by the War Production Board for MRO are, in general, two degrees higher than those assigned for new construction, additions or improvements. The assignment of higher ratings for MRO reflects the recognition by the War Production Board of the necessity for keeping existing facilities in operating condition while the necessity for additions or improvements to existing facilities must be established, pursuant to application, on the merits of each individual case. This policy should be firmly borne in mind in using the blanket priorities assistance made available by the regulation.

(c) The MRO rating cannot be used to replace machinery or equipment which can be repaired. However, where a piece of machinery or equipment is worn out beyond repair the MRO rating can be used to buy a piece of machinery or equipment of the same general type, capacity and design, to replace it. Where an agency or institution wishes to replace worn out machinery or equipment with machinery or equipment of a different type or of greater capacity or improved design it should file an application for priorities assistance on Form WPB-541 (PD-1A) or such other form as may be prescribed. Attention is called to Interpretation No. 6, which explains how use of CMP Regulation 5A is limited by Construction Order L-41. (Compare Interpretation 8 to CMP Regulation No. 5 which explains the different rule under that regulation. The two regulations prescribe different standards because the accounting practices of business and government agencies are not based on the same principles.) (Issued Jan. 25, 1944)

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN CMP REGULATION NO. 5A AND CONSERVATION ORDER L-41

(a) Order L-41 requires War Production Board authorization before beginning any construction work except in those cases where the order expressly states that authorization is not necessary.

(b) CMP Regulation No. 5A may not be used to get materials or products for any construction work which cannot be built under L-41 without specific authorization unless the authorization specifically says that CMP Regulation No. 5 or 5A may be used.

(c) In those cases where specific War Production Board authorization is not required before beginning construction and where materials needed for construction cost no more than $100, CMP Regulation No. 5A may be used to buy materials and products needed for the construction. (This Interpretation is substantially similar to Interpretation No. 9 to CMP Regulation No. 5, issued July 29, 1943.) (Issued Jan. 25, 1944)

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1315 — RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

RUBBER HEELS, RUBBER HEELS ATTACHED, AND ATTACHING OF RUBBER HEELS

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 200 includes Amendment 13, effective June 3, 1944. The text added by Amendment 13 is underscored.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of rubber heels, rubber heels attached and attaching rubber heels have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of rubber heels, rubber heels attached and attaching rubber heels prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustment for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the standardization required by this regulation is the only practicable means of securing effective price control of rubber heels sold in the shoe repair trade.

Sec.
1315.1401 Prohibition against dealing in rubber heels, rubber heels attached and attaching rubber heels at prices in excess of the maximum.
1315.1402 Maximum manufacturers' prices for rubber heels sold in the shoe repair trade.
1315.1403 Classification and reclassification of brands.
1315.1405 Price categories for heels.
1315.1406 Federal and state taxes.
1315.1407 Sales for export.
1315.1408 Less than maximum prices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1315.1401 to 1315.1424, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

§ 1315.1401 Prohibition against dealing in rubber heels, rubber heels attached and attaching rubber heels at prices in excess of the maximum. On and after September 1, 1942, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell or deliver rubber heels or attached rubber heels in the shoe repair trade at prices in excess of the maximum fixed by this regulation;

(b) No person shall attach rubber heels at prices in excess of the maximum fixed by this regulation;

(c) No person shall buy or receive rubber heels or attached rubber heels in the shoe repair trade, in the course of trade or business at prices in excess of the maximum fixed by this regulation; and

(d) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

[§ 1315.1401 amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 10980, effective 8-5-43]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that war procurement agencies and governments whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States shall be relieved of liability, civil or criminal, imposed by price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration.]

[NOTE: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of extra packing expenses to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1315.1402 Maximum manufacturers' prices for rubber heels sold in the shoe repair trade. The maximum manufacturers' prices for sales of rubber heels in the shoe repair trade are set forth in Appendix A. Those prices vary depending upon whether the heel in question is classed as a "corded", "super", "standard", "competitive", or "special competitive" heel. The classification of a heel for pricing purposes is dependent upon the brand name on the heel and the physical tests the heel can meet. Accordingly, in order to be sold at the maximum price for any of the particular grades in Appendix A, the heel must meet both the physical tests set forth in paragraph (c) of § 1315.1405 for that grade of heel and must be of a brand which is listed in paragraph (a) of § 1315.1405 as belonging to that grade of heel. If the brand name of the heel places it in a higher priced category than the physical tests, the physical tests shall control. If the physical tests place the heel in a higher priced category than the brand name, the brand name shall control. However, in such case, the manufacturer may apply for reclassification of the brand name in accordance with § 1315.1403. If the manufacturer marks the heel with a V-marking in accordance with paragraph (a) of § 1315.1410 to indicate the physical tests that the heel can equal or exceed, the V-marking shall control.

§ 1315.1403 Classification and reclassification of brands. (a) A manufacturer who introduces a new brand name for a heel or who wishes to have a certain brand name reclassified shall file a report and six pairs of the heel with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This report shall include the following:

(1) The abrasion index and tensile strength of the heel.

(2) The classification in which he wishes the brand name to be placed.

(3) A statement indicating that all heels produced by him that bear that brand name will equal or exceed the quality of the sample heels submitted.

After receipt of the report and samples, the Office of Price Administration will either amend the regulation to classify or reclassify the heel or will deny the request for reclassification.

(b) Every manufacturer who after August 4, 1943, sells a rubber heel, the brand name of which places it in a higher price category than the physical tests it can meet (as set forth in paragraph (c) of § 1315.1405) shall file a report and six pairs of the heel with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within five days after he first sells any such heel. The report shall include the abrasion index and the tensile strength of the heel. After receipt of the report and samples, the Office of Price Administration will determine whether the brand name shall be reclassified.

§ 1315.1404 Maximum wholesalers' prices for rubber heels sold in the shoe repair trade and maximum shoe repairmen's prices for rubber heels, attached rubber heels and attaching rubber heels. Maximum wholesalers' prices for rubber heels and maximum shoe repairmen's prices for rubber heels, rubber heels attached and attaching rubber heels are set forth in Appendix A. Those prices vary depending upon whether the heel in question is classed as a "corded," "super," "standard," "competitive," or "special competitive" heel. If the heel is not marked with a V–1, V–2, V–3 or V–4, the maximum price for selling or attaching the heel or selling it attached depends on the brand name of the heel. The classification of heels by brand names is set forth in paragraph (a) of § 1315.1405. Thus, for example, if a certain brand of heel is listed in that paragraph as being a competitive grade heel and if that heel is not marked with a V–1, V–2, V–3 or V–4, the heel may not be sold, attached or sold attached at a price in excess of that stated in Appendix A for a "competitive grade" heel. If a heel is marked with a V–1, V–2, V–3 or V–4 the maximum price for selling or attaching the heel or selling the heel attached shall depend on the V-marking on the heel. For example, if a heel is marked with a "V–2" it may not be sold, attached or sold attached at a price in excess of the maximum price listed in Appendix A for a V–2 heel.

§ 1315.1405 Price categories for heels. In §§ 1315.1402 and 1315.1404 it is stated that the maximum price of a heel depends upon whether it is classed as a "corded", "super", "standard", "competitive" or "special competitive" heel. This section is for the purpose of classifying heels into the various price categories set forth in Appendix A.

(2) Sales by manufacturers. The classifications of heels not marked with a V-symbol for sales by manufacturers are the same as those set forth in the preceding subparagraph (1). However, the restrictions as to the physical tests the heel can meet which are set forth in paragraph (c) of this section are applicable to sales by manufacturers.

(b) Classifications of heels marked with V–1, V–2, V–3 or V–4. The following are the classifications for heels marked with a V-symbol:

Heels marked with—	Grade
V–1	Super
V–2	Standard
V–3	Competitive
V–4	Special Competitive

Sellers, other than manufacturers, may rely on the V-symbol that appears on the heel. No manufacturer may mark a heel with a particular V-symbol unless the heel equals or exceeds the physical tests for that V-symbol set forth in paragraph (c).

(c) Physical tests for heels sold by manufacturers—(1) Non-fiber heels. The following are the physical tests that "non-fiber" heels sold by manufacturers must meet:

Grade	Minimum abrasive index[1]		Tensile strength
	All types except whole heels	Whole heels
Super (V–1)	23	20	1,000
Standard (V–2)	18	16	800
Competitive (V–3)	13	12	500
Special Competitive (V–4)	8	8	400

[1] No minus tolerance is permitted. The methods of federal specifications EA–ZZ–H–141 and ZZ–R–601a shall be applicable to the specifications.

"Non-fiber heels" are either heels which do not contain any fiber or heels which contain fiber only in one or more plugs, which are placed in the area of greatest wear.

(2) Corded heels. A "corded" heel sold by a manufacturer must have a minimum abrasion of 28. If produced after June 19, 1943, it must contain clearly discernible whole cords which at any given level lie generally parallel to each other.

(i) Segment fiber heels. "Segment fiber heels" are heels which have a non-fiber base stock and a segment containing fibers placed at the back of the heel in the area of greatest wear. If such heels are produced before June 20, 1943, the physical tests set forth in subparagraph (1) are applicable. However, those tests shall be applied only to the non-fiber portion of the heel. If such heels are produced on or after June 20, 1943, the physical tests applicable shall be those set forth in the next subdivision.

(ii) Fiber heels. A "fiber heel" is any heel containing fiber in any portion of the heel. However, for the purposes of this regulation the term "fiber heel" does not include corded heels, segment fiber heels produced before June 20, 1943, or heels which only contain fiber in one or more plugs placed in the area of greatest wear. If the manufacturer wishes, he may apply the physical tests set forth in subparagraph (1) to fiber heels. If those physical tests are used, each compound used in the manufacture of the heels must meet those requirements. If the tests just set forth are not applied, the physical tests for fiber heels shall be their wearing qualitity as compared with non-fiber heels. In such cases, fiber heels shall be deemed to have wearing qualities which are equal to those of a special competitive heel, until tests are made which prove a better wearing quality. If a manufacturer believes that a fiber heel sold by him has wearing qualities that are equal to a higher grade of non-fiber heel than "special competitive", he shall submit eight pairs of the fiber heel and evidence that the fiber heel wears as well as non-fiber heels in the price category in which the manufacturer wishes to place the fiber heel. After receipt of this report, the Office of Price Administration will determine whether the fiber heel wears as well as non-fiber heels in the price category in which the manufacturer wishes to place the fiber heel. Until the Office of Price Administration notifies the manufacturer that the fiber heel has such wearing qualities, the heel may not be sold at a price in excess of that established for special competitive heels.

§ 1315.1406 Federal and state taxes. (a) Except as limited in the next paragraph, any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, or processing of rubber heels, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor.

(b) No shoe repairman may add and after December 31, 1942, no wholesaler may add, the amount of Federal excise tax on rubber products paid by any prior vendor to the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 200.

It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

§ 1315.1407 Sales for export. The maximum price at which a person may export any rubber heels shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Maximum Export Price Regulation[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1315.1408 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in Appendix A (§ 1315.1424) may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1315.1409 Evasion. (a) The price limitation set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 200 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to rubber heels alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(b) Every purchaser shall have the choice of buying rubber heels of a particular type and grade without buying rubber heels of another type and grade or buying any other commodity, and every purchaser, other than a purchaser from a shoe repairman, shall have the choice of buying rubber heels of a particular type and grade without having any service performed.

(c) A purchaser of rubber heels from a shoe repairman shall always have the choice of buying rubber heels and having the seller attach them to shoes without having any other service performed or buying any other commodity.

ber heels produced after August 4, 1943, for sale in the shoe repair trade with the symbol "V–1," "V–2," "V–3" or "V–4" unless the heel in question can equal or exceed the physical tests for the particular symbol set forth in paragraph (c) of § 1315.1405. If a manufacturer uses such a "V" symbol on rubber heels it shall be marked as follows: All rubber heels, except sport heels and women's scoop lifts, toplifts, toplift strips and toplift blocks, shall have the symbol imprinted prominently on the face of every such heel in the place receiving the least wear. If sport heels and women's scoop lifts, toplifts, toplift strips and toplift blocks are marked with a "V" symbol, they shall be marked in a manner which is approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration. The marking of the unit of sale container (in the case of sport heels, a container for 12 or less pairs of heels) is an approved method of marking sport heels and women's scoop lifts (1 and 3 nail hole) and died out toplifts. A paper sticker on each toplift strip or block is also an approved method of marking toplift strips and toplift blocks.

(b) Posting. On and after October 5, 1943, every shoe repairman engaged in the business of selling rubber heels or attached rubber heels or of attaching rubber heels shall keep posted in a conspicuous place in each establishment at which rubber heels are offered for sale, or at which the attaching of rubber heels is contracted for, a poster, provided by the Office of Price Administration, setting forth the maximum prices which he is permitted to charge under this regulation.

[MPR 170,[1] Incl. Amdts. 1-8]

ANTI-FREEZE

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 170 includes Amendment 8, effective June 3, 1944. The text added or amended by Amendment 8 is underscored. Revocations and redesignations are indicated by notes.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, seasonal and other factors affecting the sale of anti-freeze by manufacturers and distributors thereof have resulted in the establishment, under the General Maximum Price Regulation,[2] of maximum prices for such sales which are not generally representative and which are not best calculated to assist in securing adequate distribution of such anti-freeze.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations[3] involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 170 is hereby issued.

(b) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may, from time to time, require.

(c) Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase shall continue to do so. Such strength may be designated as follows: "_____ gallon(s) of this anti-freeze added to one gallon of water will reduce the freezing point of the mixture to 10 degrees below zero Fahrenheit." Or, as an alternative, it may be designated by a complete anti-freeze protection table from which the above information may be obtained: Provided, That where any anti-freeze is packaged which when added to water in the proportion of ¾ of a gallon or less of such anti-freeze to one gallon of water reduces the freezing point of the resulting mixture to 10 degrees below zero Fahrenheit or lower, the terms "standard," "standard strength," or "full strength" may be used instead of the above statement or protection table.

[Subparagraph (ii) amended by Am. 6, 8 F.R. 11437, 11755, effective 8-16-43]

(iii) The applicable maximum retail price as established by Appendix A (§ 1412.13) for the anti-freeze contained therein. Such price shall be designated as follows: "OPA Retail Ceiling Price $_____." The blank in the quoted phrase shall be filled in with the applicable maximum retail price as established by Appendix A (§ 1412.13) by the packager in the case of Type S, Type N and Type C anti-freeze and by the retailer in the case of Type P anti-freeze, but in the latter case the packager shall supply the retailer with instructions as to the manner of determining the maximum retail price under the provisions of Appendix A (§ 1412.13).

(2) The type (N, S, P, or C) and the applicable maximum retail price established by Appendix A (§ 1412.13) shall be printed in letters at least two inches high on containers of more than five gallons, and in letters at least as large as any other printed matter thereon other than the trade mark or trade name on containers of five gallons or less.

(a) As to a tax in effect during any part of the six-month period ending March 31, 1942. (1) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during any part of the six-month period ending March 31, 1942, the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 170.

(2) In all other cases, if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 170.

(b) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after March 31, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9694; 8 F.R. 1212, 3702) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

§ 1412.11 Applicability of General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 170 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this Regulation.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 170.

§ 1412.13 Appendix A: Maximum prices for anti-freeze. Maximum prices for anti-freeze shall be those specified in this section or by orders issued thereunder. Where a maximum price for a particular sale or delivery of an anti-freeze, such as a sale or delivery by a wholesaler to another wholesaler, is not established in this section or in an order establishing maximum prices for the particular kind of anti-freeze, the maximum price for such sale or delivery shall be the maximum price established for sales to retailers in this section or in an order issued thereunder.

(a) Standard anti-freeze, Type N and Type S. Maximum prices for standard Type N and Type S anti-freeze are established as follows:

(1) Sales by manufacturers to persons other than retailers.

	Type N	Type S
(i) Tank cars	$0.58	$0.30
(ii) Tank truck deliveries:
500 gallons or over	.60	.32
Less than 500 gallons	.62	.34
(iii) Carload lots (containers included):
(a) containers over 35 gallons	.70	.42
(b) containers over 5 gallons and including 35 gallons	.72	.44
(c) containers of 1 to 5 gallons, inclusive	.76	.47
(d) containers less than 1 gallon	.80	.51

(iv) Less than carload lots. The maximum prices established above for deliveries in carload lots plus three cents per gallon, f. o. b. manufacturer's shipping point.

(2) Sales to retailers by any person.

	Type N	Type S
(i) Containers over 35 gallons	$0.87	$0.55
(ii) Containers over 5 gallons and including 35 gallons	.90	.57
(iii) Containers of 1 to 5 gallons, inclusive	.94	.61
(iv) Containers less than 1 gallon	.99	.66

In the case of sales to retailers by sellers other than manufacturers, transportation costs in excess of three cents per gallon may be charged to buyer's account. Any such charges shall be separately stated on an invoice, which shall be furnished the buyer by the seller.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 8, effective 6–3–44]

(3) Sales at retail. Delivered, including installation in automobile cooling system where buyer so requests and where anti-freeze was customarily so installed without charge during the six month period ending March 31, 1942 by the seller or, if the seller did not sell anti-freeze during such period, by like sellers.

	Type N	Type S
(i) In quantities of 1 gallon or more	Per gal. $1.40	Per gal. $1.00
(ii) In quantities of less than 1 gallon	Per qt. .35	Per qt. .25

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 6951, effective 5–22–43 and as otherwise noted]

(b) Sub-standard anti-freeze, Type N and Type S. For sales covered by subparagraph (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price for any quantity of substandard anti-freeze of Type N or Type S, in any kind of container, shall be the maximum price, as determined under whichever one of said subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3) is applicable, for that quantity of standard anti-freeze of the same type, in the same kind of container, which would produce an anti-freeze effect equal to that produced by the quantity of substandard anti-freeze being priced. Such maximum price shall not exceed the price determined by computation under the following formula: Subtract 25% from the maximum price for a quantity of standard anti-freeze of the same type (in like containers) equal to the quantity of substandard anti-freeze being priced, and divide the result by the number of gallons of such substandard anti-freeze which must be added to 1 gallon of water to reduce the freezing point of the resulting mixture to 10 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

(c) Standard anti-freeze, Type P. (1) The maximum price which any seller may charge for standard Type P anti-freeze shall be the highest price which such seller charged on a delivery of standard Type P anti-freeze in like containers in similar amounts to a purchaser of the same class during that month of the six month period ending March 31, 1942, in which such seller delivered the largest amount of Type P anti-freeze. This maximum price in the case of sales at retail shall not exceed $2.65 per gallon on sales in quantities of 1 gallon or more or $.70 per quart on sales in quantities of less than one gallon. Such maximum prices include installation in automobile cooling systems where the buyer so requests, and where anti-freeze was customarily so installed without charge during the six month period ending March 31, 1942 by the seller or, if the seller did not sell anti-freeze during such period, by like sellers.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 5717, effective 7–28–42; and Am. 4, 8 F.R. 6951, effective 5–22–43.]

(2) If a seller cannot determine a maximum price for standard Type P anti-freeze under subparagraph (1), he shall take as his maximum price the maximum price to a purchaser of the same class as established under subparagraph (1) for the seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class for whom such a maximum price has been established under subparagraph (1).

(d) Sub-standard anti-freeze, Type P. The maximum price for any quantity of sub-standard Type P anti-freeze, in any kind of container and to any class of purchaser, shall be the maximum price for that quantity of standard Type P anti-freeze, in like containers and to the same class of purchaser, which would produce an anti-freeze effect equal to that produced by the quantity of substandard Type P anti-freeze being priced. Such maximum price shall not exceed the price determined by computation under the following formula: subtract 25% from the maximum price (to the same class of purchasers) for a quantity of standard Type P anti-freeze (in like containers) equal to the quantity of sub-standard Type P anti-freeze being priced, and divide the result by the number of gallons of such sub-standard Type P anti-freeze which must be added to one gallon of water to reduce the freezing point of the resulting mixture to 10 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

(e) The maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be increased by any charges for containers. The seller may, however, require the return of containers, but in such case the maximum prices which may be charged are the maximum prices specifically set forth in this regulation less $.025 per gallon. The same deduction shall be made in those cases where the buyer furnishes drums. Transportation costs with respect to the return or furnishing of containers shall, in all cases, be borne by the seller.

When sales are made upon a container-returnable basis, the seller may require a reasonable deposit for the return of such containers but such deposit must be refunded to the buyer upon the return of the containers in good condition within a reasonable time.

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 6951, effective 5–22–43; and Am. 5, 8 F.R. 8070, effective 5–22–43.]

(f) Credit charges. The maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 170 shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit.

(g) Standard strength anti-freeze, Type C. Maximum prices for standard strength Type C anti-freeze are established as follows:

(1) Sales to retailers by any person.

[Per gallon delivered, containers included]

	Calcium chloride, sodium chloride, or mixed salt base	Magnesium chloride base
Over 5 gallons	$0.40	$0.47
1–5 gallons	.46	.53
Less than 1 gallon	.51	.58

(2) Sales at retail. Delivered, including installation in automobile cooling system where buyer so requests and where anti-freeze was customarily so installed without charge during the six month period ending March 31, 1942 by the seller or, if the seller did not sell anti-freeze during such period, by like sellers.

	Calcium chloride, sodium chloride, or mixed salt base	Magnesium chloride base
In quantities of 1 gallon or more	Per gallon $0.75	Per gallon $0.85
In quantities of less than 1 gallon	Per quart .20	Per quart .23

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 6951, effective 5–22–43.]

Provided, That until and including March 15, 1943, any seller of Type C anti-freeze other than a manufacturer or retailer, who prior to February 1, 1943 had purchased Type C anti-freeze and had it in his possession or in the custody of a carrier or warehouse other than a carrier or warehouse owned or controlled by the person from whom such anti-freeze was acquired, may sell such anti-freeze at a price not to exceed the maximum price established in this section or at his cost of acquisition, whichever is higher, And provided further, That until and including March 15, 1943, any retailer may sell Type C anti-freeze at a price not to exceed the maximum price established in this section or at his cost of acquisition plus $.25 per gallon, whichever is higher.

[Paragraph (g) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 1232, effective 2–1–43. Proviso amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 1613, effective 2–1–43.]

(h) Substandard strength anti-freeze, Type C. For sales covered by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (g) above, the maximum price for any quantity of substandard strength Type C anti-freeze in any kind of container shall be the maximum price, as determined under whichever one of said subparagraphs (1) or (2) is applicable, for that quantity of standard strength Type C anti-freeze, in like containers, which would produce an anti-freeze effect equal to that produced by the quantity of substandard strength Type C anti-freeze being priced. Such maximum price shall not exceed the price determined by computation under the following formula: subtract 25% from the maximum price for a quantity of standard strength Type C anti-freeze (in like containers) equal to the quantity of substandard strength Type C anti-freeze being priced, and divide the result by the number of gallons of such substandard strength Type C anti-freeze which must be added to one gallon of water to reduce the freezing point of the resulting mixture to ten degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

[Paragraph (h) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 1232, effective 2–1–43.]

(2) Marking and posting. The marking and posting requirements of § 1412.6 which are applicable to Type N anti-freeze shall apply to wood distilled methyl alcohol base anti-freeze containing less than 95% by volume of wood distilled methyl alcohol, except that, such anti-freeze shall be designated as "Type W (____%)". The blank in the quoted phrase shall be filled in by the number of percent by volume of wood distilled methyl alcohol contained in such anti-freeze.

(3) Any seller other than a manufacturer or retailer, who, prior to May 22, 1943, had purchased, at the maximum prices established for sales of Type N anti-freeze, anti-freeze containing less than 95 per cent by volume of wood distilled methyl alcohol, may sell such anti-freeze at the maximum prices established for sales of Type N anti-freeze, until and including September 30, 1943. Any seller at retail who purchases such anti-freeze prior to September 30, 1943, at the maximum prices for sales of Type N anti-freeze, may resell such anti-freeze at the maximum prices established for sales of Type N anti-freeze until and including December 15, 1943.

(j) Anti-freeze of a type not specifically named. (1) The maximum prices (except as provided in paragraph (k) below) for an anti-freeze which is of a type for which maximum prices or methods of determining maximum prices for sales by the manufacturer are not specified in this section shall be maximum prices specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration which are in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 16701, effective 12–10–43.]

(2) Prior to first offering such an anti-freeze for sale, the manufacturer shall submit by registered mail to the Office of

Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application for specific authorization of maximum prices. Such application shall contain the following information:

(i) Statement as to the geographical area in which and the types of reseller through which it is proposed to distribute the anti-freeze.

(ii) Proposed maximum prices for sales in each size and type of container for sales at retail and for sales to and by each type of reseller who will handle the anti-freeze, with a detailed explanation of how such prices were calculated and a full explanation of the reasons why the manufacturer considers the proposed prices to be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

(iii) The quantitative formula of the anti-freeze; ceiling or actual purchase price, whichever is lower of each material in such formula, per unit of material; corresponding material cost for each material per gallon of anti-freeze; name and address of the supplier of each material whose ceiling price or actual selling price was used.

(iv) Detailed breakdown of costs, other than material costs, per gallon of anti-freeze, showing:

(a) Package costs for each size and type of container.

(b) Direct labor costs for packaging for each size and type of container.

(c) Direct labor costs for preparing the anti-freeze.

(d) Estimated freight absorption.

(v) Statement as to the number of gallons of the anti-freeze which must be added to one gallon of water to reduce the freezing point of the resulting mixture to 10 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, to zero degrees Fahrenheit, and by one degree Fahrenheit; specific gravity; boiling point and freezing point of the anti-freeze; boiling points and percentage compositions (by weight) of any constant boiling point mixtures which the anti-freeze forms with water; complete protection table, if available; and description and results of any tests that have been made as to the cooling properties, corrosive effects, other properties of the anti-freeze.

(3) Any authorization of maximum prices under this paragraph (j) may contain such requirements as to the marking and posting of retail prices and other information as the Office of Price Administration determines to be proper.

(4) No deliveries of the anti-freeze may be made prior to authorization of maximum prices therefor by the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraphs (i) and (j) added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 6951, effective 5-22-43 and amended as noted.]

(k) Petroleum fraction anti-freeze. No person may sell or deliver an anti-freeze composed principally of a petroleum fraction or fractions until maximum prices therefor have been authorized in accordance with paragraph (j) above except as specified below:

(1) A reseller other than a retailer who prior to December 10, 1943 had purchased and received delivery of any such anti-freeze may sell such anti-freeze at his cost of acquisition plus two cents per gallon or at the maximum price, if any, authorized for his sales in accordance with paragraph (j), whichever is higher.

(2) A retailer who prior to December 10, 1943 had purchased and received delivery of any such anti-freeze may sell such anti-freeze at his cost of acquisition plus three cents per gallon or at the maximum price, if any, authorized for his sales in accordance with paragraph (j) above, whichever is higher.

(3) A retailer who on or after December 10, 1943 purchases and receives delivery of any such anti-freeze from a reseller other than a retailer at a price not in excess of the maximum price established for such reseller's sales of such anti-freeze by subparagraph (1) above may sell such anti-freeze at his cost of acquisition plus three cents per gallon or at the maximum price, if any, established for his sales in accordance with paragraph (j) above, whichever is higher.

PART 1347—PAPER, PAPER PRODUCTS, RAW MATERIALS FOR PAPER AND PAPER PRODUCTS, PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[MPR 484,[1] Amdt. 2]

UNWASHED AND WASHED WIPING CLOTHS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 484 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 4 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation, and also supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165,[3] as amended, with respect to the rewashing of wiping cloths, maximum prices for which are established by this regulation.

2. In section 14 (a), subparagraphs (8), (9) and (10) are amended and subparagraphs (13), (14) and (15) are added to read as follows:

(8) "Retailer" means an automobile supply dealer or distributor, janitor supply house, or chandler who buys washed wiping cloths and resells them to a consumer. The term "retailer" does not include any person whose principal or major business is the selling or jobbing of waste or salvaged materials or of any textile materials.

(9) "Jobber" means any person who is not a "retailer", as defined above, and who buys and resells washed wiping cloths.

(10) "Foreign materials" includes all materials which cannot be used in the manufacture of washed wiping cloths, except that buttons, hooks, eyes, pins and similar items may be included in shipments of unwashed wiping cloths, unless otherwise specified.

(13) "Outthrow" means useable wiping cloth material which does not meet the specifications established by this regulation for the grade being delivered.

(14) "Most closely competitive seller of the same class." "Seller of the same class" means a seller (1) performing the same function, (2) of similar type, (3) dealing in the same type of commodities or services, and (4) selling to the same class of purchaser. A seller's "most closely competitive seller of the same class" shall be a seller of the same class who is selling the same or a similar commodity or service, and is closely competitive in the sale of such commodities or services, and is located nearest to the seller.

(15) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller setting different prices for commodities or services for sales to different purchasers or kind of purchasers or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

3. The text of Appendix A (a) preceding the listing of grades of unwashed wiping cloths is amended to read as follows:

(a) The maximum prices set forth below are established for the listed grades of unwashed wiping cloths. These maximum prices are for carload lots, per pound, f. o. b. point of shipment. All grades as defined herein must be free of non-absorbent, oily, greasy and painted materials, rotten or tender stock and other foreign materials, unless otherwise specified. Tare weight and foreign material in excess of 5% must be deducted from the weight of the shipment in computing the maximum price for the shipment. Weight of outthrow in excess of a 5% tolerance must be deducted from the weight of the shipment in computing the maximum price. Mixtures of grades may be sold, providing the price for the mixture does not exceed the maximum price established by this regulation for the lowest-priced grade contained in the assortment.

4. In Appendix A (a) the grades of "Unwashed heavyweight colored wipers" is amended, and a new grade "Unwashed feather ticking" is added to read as follows:

GRADES OF UNWASHED WIPING CLOTHS

	Maximum prices (cents per pound)
Unwashed heavyweight colored wipers: Heavyweight absorbent cotton rags and cotton rags containing wool, silk, or rayon, and free of blue overalls and lined garments. The cloth shall have a minimum dimension of 9 inches and a minimum area of 2 square feet	4.50
Unwashed feather ticking: Lightweight or heavyweight feather ticking, free of quilt covers and tender stock, and free of tapestry or plush	4.50

5. In Appendix B (a) (1) the grades of "Washed lightweight ticking wiping cloths" and "Washed heavyweight ticking wiping cloths" are amended and a new grade "Washed wiperettes" is added to read as follows:

GRADES OF WASHED WIPING CLOTHS

	Maximum prices (cents per pound)
Washed lightweight ticking wiping cloths: Absorbent wiping cloths of lightweight or medium weight ticking, free of quilt covers and tender stock. The ticking shall have a minimum dimension of 3 square feet and shall not be heavier than 4 yards to the pound	16.75
Washed heavyweight ticking wiping cloths: Absorbent wiping cloths of heavyweight ticking, free of awnings, tapestries, slip covers and seat covers. The ticking shall have a minimum dimension of 3 square feet	14.00
Washed wiperettes: Washed absorbent white or colored wiping cloths which may consist of tender stock, stained material and small pieces. This material must be packed separately and cannot be sold as a mixture with any other grade in the regulation	9.00

6. Appendix B (a) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) Transportation charges. All prices established by Appendix B of this regulation shall be for washed wiping cloths, f. o. b. point of shipment. The point of shipment is the point at which the material is loaded for direct shipment to the buyer. In the case of imported washed wiping cloths, the point of shipment, shall be the point or port of entry in the United States.

Sales may be made on a delivered basis. In such case if the delivery is within the city, town, or municipality from which seller makes the delivery, there may not be added any additional amount to the maximum prices stated above. If the delivery is to a point outside that city, town, or municipality, there may be added to the maximum price the actual costs of delivery incurred by seller, not in excess, however, of an amount equal to the lowest established rail transportation rate for full carload shipment, or, in the case of less than carload shipment, for less than carload shipment of washed wiping cloths to the delivery point.

7. The text of Appendix B (a) (5) preceding subdivision (i) is amended to read as follows:

(5) Invoice requirements. All sales of washed wiping cloths shall be invoiced. The invoice shall accompany delivery or be mailed before the end of the third business day following the day upon which shipment is made. A copy of such invoice shall be kept on file by the seller. The invoice shall state as separate items the following data:

8. Appendix B (a) (6) is amended to read as folows:

(6) Rewashing. The maximum price which may be charged by anyone for washing wiping cloths belonging to a consumer shall be 6 cents per pound, clean dry weight. Consumer may be required to deliver the wiping cloths for rewashing to the washer. Delivery of the rewashed cloths shall be to consumer or at the washer's usual shipping point. No charge in addition to the maximum price may be made for picking up the wiping cloths to be rewashed or for delivering the rewashed wiping cloths to the consumer.

9. Appendix B (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Sales by retailers. The maximum price for sales of washed wiping cloths by any retailer shall be the net delivered price he has paid for the wiping cloths, or the maximum net delivered price established for the wiping cloths by this regulation, whichever is lower, plus the average dollar and cent mark-up charged by him upon his sales of all grades of wiping cloths during the month of March 1942. Each retail outlet of any retailer who sells wiping cloths from more than one such outlet shall be considered a separate seller for the purpose of computing this average mark-up. The maximum price for sales of washed wiping cloths by any retailer who did not sell washed wiping cloths during March 1942 shall be the highest price charged to a purchaser of the same class by the most closely competitive seller of the same class whose price has been established in accordance with this paragraph (b).

This amendment shall become effective June 5, 1944.

(8) The maximum prices in Table A of paragraph (a) are for cheeses covered by the definitions set forth below which definitions are for the purpose of establishing standards of identity for specific pricing: Provided, however, The prescribed moisture and milk fat standards shall become effective 90 days after June 5, 1944.

(i) "Provolone and Group I" cheese. The food product commonly known as Provolone cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized by removing a portion of the fat or by adding skim milk. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. A special rennet paste is used to set the milk to a semi-solid mass. This mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote acid development and the separation of whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 125° F. When the curd is of the proper consistency it is molded into loaves which vary greatly in sizes and shapes, by dipping in hot water, then kneading and pulling until smooth and free from lumps and brittleness. It is then salted in brine and smoked. The cheese may be hung in warehouses or packed in specially constructed wooden crates for curing.

The term "Provolone and Group I" includes Provolone cheese and all other cheese made by the Provolone process or by any minor variations of such process and in any style, form and size, including but not limited to Salami, Provolette and Provolone Giants, which cheese contains not more than 45 percent moisture and its solids contain not less than 45 percent of milk fat.

(ii) "Parmesan and Group II" cheese. The food product commonly known as Parmesan cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat or by adding skim milk. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. The mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote the separation of whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 125° F. When the curd is sufficiently firm it is removed from the kettle by means of a cloth, drained for a short time and then packed in hoops for pressing. The hoops are about 18 inches in diameter and about 10 inches high. About 3 days after pressing the cheese is salted. After salting the cheese is moved to a cool, well-ventilated room where it may be held on shelves for an indefinite length of time. The surface of the cheese is occasionally rubbed with vegetable oil.

The term "Parmesan and Group II" includes Parmesan cheese and all other cheese (except "Monte, Modena and Group III" cheese) made by the Parmesan process or by any minor variations of such process and in any style, form and size, including but not limited to Reggiano and Asiago, old, which cheese contains not more than 32 percent moisture and its solids contain not less than 36 percent of milk fat.

(iii) "Monte, Modena and Group III" cheese. The food products commonly known as Monte cheese and Modena cheese are prepared from cow's milk by the Parmesan process described in paragraph (c) (8) (ii) above.

The term "Monte, Modena and Group III" includes Monte cheese and Modena cheese and all other cheese (except "Parmesan and Group II" cheese) made by the Parmesan process or by any minor variations of such process and in any style, form and size, which cheese contains not more than 32 percent moisture and the solids contain not less than 25 percent of milk fat.

(iv) "Asiago (soft) and Group IV" cheese. The food product commonly known as Asiago (soft) cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat or by adding skim milk. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. The mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote the separation of whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 125° F. When the curd is sufficiently firm it is removed from the kettle by means of a cloth, drained for a short time, and then packed in hoops for pressing. After pressing the cheese is salted and is then moved to a cool, well ventilated room where it may be held on shelves for an indefinite length of time. The surface of the cheese is occasionally rubbed with vegetable oil.

The term "Asiago (soft) and Group IV" includes Asiago soft cheese and all other cheese made by the Asiago soft cheese process or by any minor variations of such process and in any style, form, and size, including but not limited to Vezzena, Kasseri, Fondue and Fontina, which cheese contains not more than 39 percent moisture and its solids contain not less than 48 percent milk fat.

(v) "Romano and Group V" cheese. The food product commonly known as Romano cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat, or by the adding of skim milk. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. A special rennet paste is used to set the milk to a semi-solid mass. The mass is so cut, stirred and heated as to promote the separation of whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 120° F. The curd is then placed in forms where it is allowed to drain for about 24 hours. It is then salted by immersing in brine or by rubbing salt on the surface. The cheese is ripened at a temperature of about 60° F.

The term "Romano and Group V" includes Romano cheese and all other cheese made by the Romano process or by any minor variations of such process and in any style, form and size, including but not limited to Cacio Cavallo Siciliano, Fioretto Sardo, Incanestrato, Pecorino Toscano, Pepato, Romanello, Romanina, Romano white, Romano yellow, Small Romano, Toscanetto, which cheese contains not more than 32 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 40 percent of milk fat.

(d) Reference to other maximum price regulations governing sales of cheese:

(1) Sales at retail in stores shall be priced under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 422 [2] and 423.[3]

(2) Sales of an imported "cheese item", for a period of 90 days after June 5, 1944, shall be priced under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.[4] Upon the expiration of that 90 day period, all of the provisions of this section and section 10 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 shall apply to an imported "cheese item.

(ii) Definition. Monterey and High Moisture Jack Cheese. The food products commonly known as Monterey cheese and High Moisture Jack cheese (also known as California Jack Cheese) are prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. This mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote acid development and separation of the whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 110° F. About seventy minutes after heat is applied the whey is removed and the curd cooled by circulating cold water through the jacket of the vat or directly into the curd. (b) General provisions—(1) Transportation charges; Cheese factory to assembler. (i) In addition to the maximum prices established in paragraph (a), a cheese assembler may compensate any cheese factory, cheese maker, or other person who hauls cheese from the cheese factory to the assembler's warehouse for such hauling services. The maximum price which may be paid by a cheese assembler or charged by a cheese factory or hauler or other carrier for this service may not exceed the appropriate price set forth in Table B below. This price must be based on the actual distance from the cheese factory to the assembler's warehouse. The distance between the cheese factory and the assembler's warehouse shall be computed via the shortest publicly traveled route.

(7) Maximum prices for sales not already provided for. The maximum price for the sale or delivery in any place of any "cheese item" for which a maximum price is not established by this section shall be the maximum price established for "sales by cheese factories" of that style in that place by paragraph (a) of this section plus (where the requirements of paragraph (c) (1) of this section are satisfied) an assembling allowance of ¾¢ per pound.

(8) Special provisions for records and reports. The provisions of section 5 shall apply to all sales of cheese as described in this section other than those by a cheese factory or cheese maker to an assembler. (7) Special provisions for records and reports. The provisions of section 5 shall apply to all sales of cheese as described in this section other than those by a cheese factory or cheese maker to an assembler. (3) "Delivered at any place". The phrase, "delivered at any place" comprehends all sales whether made on the basis of actual delivery to the point of shipping destination or on the basis of f. o. b. shipping point or some other point. (i) Blue cheese. The food product commonly known as Bleu, Blue or Blue Vein cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may or may not be homogenized or it may or may not be homogenized and pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing fat, by adding skim milk, or by adding cream. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. In about 1 hour after setting the semi-solid mass of curd is cut into cubes about 1 inch square. About 15 minutes after cutting the whey is drained by dipping the curd onto a cheese cloth spread onto a drain rack or it may be drained in the vat. In about 15 minutes after draining the curd is broken up and placed in perforated hoops or forms for further draining. These forms are about 7¾ inches in diameter and about 6 inches high. As the curd is placed in the forms it is sprinkled with spores commonly spoken of as Penicillium roqueforti. It is then transferred to a draining room held at about 70° F. with a relative humidity of about 85 percent where it is allowed to drain for about 24 hours. At the end of about 24 hours the forms are removed. During the next few days the cheeses are usually washed each day. The cheese is then moved to the salting room which is usually held at about 50° F. The salting operation requires about 3 days. It may be dry salted or brine salted. In about a week after salting or when the cheese has become firm it is pierced through with needles to permit free access of air to the interior of the cheese. It is then placed on edge in racks and transferred to a curing room in which is maintained a temperature of about 50° F. and a relative humidity of about 95 percent. When mold starts to form in the body of the cheese the cheese is usually wrapped tightly in moisture resistant material and then with an overwrap of a suitable paper and packed in boxes for further holding or shipment. The cheese contains not more than 43 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50 percent of milk fat.

When made from sheep's milk this variety of cheese is called Roquefort cheese.

(ii) Gorgonzola cheese. The food product commonly known as Gorgonzola cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may or may not be homogenized or it may or may not be homogenized and pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing fat, by adding skim milk, or by adding cream. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. In about 1 hour after setting the semi-solid mass of curd is cut and the whey is drained by dipping the curd onto a cheese cloth spread onto a drain rack or it may be drained in the vat. In about 15 minutes after draining the curd is broken up and placed in perforated hoops or forms for further draining. As the curd is placed in the forms it is sprinkled with spores commonly spoken of as Penicillium Glaucum. It is then transferred to a draining room held at about 70° F. with a relative humidity of about 85 percent where it is allowed to drain for about 48 hours. At the end of about 48 hours the forms are removed. During the next few days the cheeses are usually washed each day. The cheese is then moved to the salting room which is usually held at about 50° F. The salting operation requires several days. It is usually dry salted but may be brine salted. In about a week after salting or when the cheese has become firm it is pierced through with needles to permit free access of air to the interior of the cheese for the purpose of activating the development of the spores of Penicillium. It is then placed on edge in racks and transferred to a curing room in which is maintained a temperature of about 50° F. and a relative humidity of about 90 percent. When mold starts to form in the body of the cheese, the cheese is usually scraped and then wrapped in paper and held for another period at about 40° F. The cheese may be scraped again and rewrapped before packing in fiber boxes for shipment. The cheese contains not more than 41 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50 percent of milk fat.

(d) Reference to other maximum price regulations governing sales of cheese:

(1) Sales at retail in stores shall be priced under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422 [2] and 423.[3]

(2) Sales of an imported "cheese item", for a period of 90 days after June 5, 1944 shall be priced under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.[4] Upon the expiration of that 90 day period, all of the provisions of this section and section 10 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 shall apply to an imported "cheese item".

This amendment shall become effective June 5, 1944, except as provided in paragraphs (a) (1) (ii), (c) (8) and (d) (2).

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

SALES BY CANNERS OF FISH FLAKES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, that maximum prices be established for sales of canned fish flakes.

[1] 8 F.R. 12404, 14073.

Pursuant to the above authority, the Price Administrator has established prices in this regulation that are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the act, and will promote equitable distribution of canned fish flakes through normal trade channels.

The maximum prices established herein are not below the average prices of canned fish flakes in the year 1941.

Determination of prices established herein has been made after consulting and advising with representative members of the industry which will be affected by the regulation.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as they were not in general use, their use is essential to effective price control and there is no effective alternative.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Rev. RO 11,[1] Amdt. 9]

FUEL OIL

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Ration Order 11 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.5151 (a) (2) is amended by deleting the words "and can be used," and by adding after the semicolon at the end of the subparagraph, the following:

However, where there is available to the applicant, as a substitute, a facility designed to use an alternate fuel, which is not in serviceable operating condition but which can be placed in such condition at reasonable expense, an interim ration for the fuel oil burning equipment may be issued for the period ending on the earliest date when the facility can be placed in serviceable operating condition;

2. Section 1394.5151 (d) is added as follows:

(d) No ration (other than an additional ration under §§ 1394.5341 to 1394.5355) shall be issued or used for furnishing heat or hot water to any premises served by equipment for the operation of which a currently valid ration for the purpose has been issued. However, a renewed ration may be issued and used even though a currently valid ration has been issued for the purpose if no other renewed ration has been issued for the purpose.

3. Section 1394.5361 (c) is added as follows:

(c) Where application is made for a renewed ration for heating premises by means of both a space heater and central heating equipment, the ration shall be figured only for the central heating equipment. The ration issued, however, may be used for the operation of the central heating equipment or space heater, or both.

4. Section 1394.5362 (b) is added as follows:

(b) Where application is made for a renewed ration for furnishing domestic hot water to any premises by means of (1) an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment or by separate water heating equipment and (2) central heating equipment, the ration shall be figured only for the central heating equipment. The ration issued, however, may be used for the operation of all such facilities or any of them.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

5. Section 1394.5362 (a) (2) is added as follows:

(2) Space heaters and cooking equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment, the renewed ration shall be, for each such unit of equipment, the figure found by multiplying ten (10) gallons by the number of months for which the ration is needed. (No renewed ration may be issued for domestic hot water furnished by means of a space heater or cooking equipment unless it is equipped with a water heating attachment.)

6. Section 1394.5363 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) General. The renewed ration for heating any residential premises (other than a house trailer) by means of one or more space heaters shall be the amount of fuel oil required to meet the minimum needs for heating the premises with such equipment. However, the ration may not be more than the maximum heating allowance specified in Column (b) of Table IX for the floor area to be heated. (Table IX will be added by subsequent amendment to this order.)

(1) Where portable space heaters are to be used, the number of rooms that may be included in figuring the floor area to be heated may not exceed the number of portable space heaters to be used for this purpose; and

(2) Where portable or non-portable space heaters are to be used, not more than 550 square feet of floor area may be counted for each such space heater, unless it is a nonportable cabinet-type space heater that circulates heat by means of a factory built-in fan or blower, in which event, not more than 1100 square feet of floor area may be counted for each such space heater; and

(3) If both portable and non-portable space heaters are to be used, the maximum heating allowance for the portable space heater shall first be figured. To that amount shall be added the maximum heating allowance for the nonportable space heater deducting from the total floor area of the rooms to be heated, the floor area counted in figuring the maximum allowance for the portable space heater.

(b) Only necessary space may be counted. In figuring the floor area to be heated for the purpose of paragraph (a) of this Section, only necessary living and sleeping quarters and space used for occupational purposes shall be counted.

7. Section 1394.5364 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.5364 How the renewed hot water ration is figured for residential premises (other than a private dwelling) using space heaters, cooking equipment or separate water heating equipment. (a) The renewed ration for domestic hot water in residential premises (other than a private dwelling) furnished by means of an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment, or separate water heating equipment shall be figured as follows:

(1) Space heaters and cooking equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment, the renewed ration shall be, for each such unit of equipment, the figure found by multiplying ten (10) gallons by the number of months for which the ration is needed. (No renewed ration may be issued for domestic hot water furnished by means of a space heater or cooking equipment unless it is equipped with a water heating attachment.)

(2) Separate water heating equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of separate water heating equipment, the renewed ration shall be two-third (⅔) of the figure obtained by adding twenty (20) gallons for the first person and five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly living in the premises, and multiplying that sum by the number of months for which the ration is needed.

8. Section 1394.5688 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Acceptance of ration checks. When a ration check is received by a person (other than a consumer) who neither is nor is required to be a depositor, he may endorse and deliver it to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for a transfer of fuel oil in the amount of the check, or endorse and deliver it to any Board in the limitation area and obtain in return an exchange certificate or certificates (on Form OPA R–1118) equal in gallonage value to the amount of the check.

9. Section 1394.5801 (b) and (c) is amended by inserting between the words "coupon" and "acknowledgment of delivery," wherever so appearing, the words "ration check."

This amendment shall become effective on June 3, 1944.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[S. O. 210]

ICING AND REICING OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES IN DESIGNATED STATES

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of May, A. D. 1944.

It appearing, that there is a shortage of ice in certain areas and the establishment of the use of a modified refrigeration service known as half-stage icing, for citrus fruit originating in Florida; and otherwise limiting refrigeration to three-fourths bunker capacity on cars of fruits and vegetables originating in Florida and on vegetables originating in Georgia, South Carolina, and North Carolina, will result in economy of motive power, manpower, and ice; the Commission is of the opinion that an emergency exists requiring immediate action: it is ordered, that:

Half-stage icing—(a) (1) Definition. The term half-stage icing as used herein means using only the upper halves of the bunkers of refrigerator cars for carrying ice, this being accomplished by setting the ice grates at a point approximately midway between the bottom and top of the bunkers.

(2) Furnishing refrigerator cars equipped for half-stage icing for loading with Florida citrus. When refrigerator cars equipped for half-stage icing are available at the point of origin when shipment is ordered to be initially iced after loading, and at the icing station where cars are to be initially iced when initial icing is ordered prior to loading, and the railroads can so furnish refrigerator cars equipped for half-stage icing without additional switching service in excess of that normally required for initial icing, all common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act operating in the State of Florida, in complying with a shipper's order for a refrigerator car, shall give priority to the furnishing of and shall furnish refrigerator cars equipped for half-stage icing for loading with citrus fruit originating in the State of Florida, and shall furnish refrigerator cars not equipped for half-stage icing only when cars so equipped are not available as specified in this paragraph.

(3) Carriers required to furnish half-stage icing service on refrigerator cars equipped for half-stage icing. No common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall permit, accord or authorize other than half-stage icing service on any refrigerator car equipped for half-stage icing, ordered for loading with, or loaded with citrus fruit originating in the State of Florida when available and furnished in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section.

(b) Icing and reicing on fruits and vegetables restricted to three-fourths bunker capacity. No common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, on any refrigerator car loaded with fruits or vegetables originating in the State of Florida, or loaded with vegetables originating in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, or North Carolina, shall initially ice or reice, or allow or permit initial icing or reicing, with more ice than is necessary to bring the ice in each bunker up to, but not above, three-fourths of that bunker's capacity. This paragraph shall have no application on cars restricted to half-stage icing under the provisions of paragraphs (a) (2) and (3) of this section.

(c) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply only to shipments billed on and after the effective date of this order originating in the States listed in paragraph (b) of this section, except that when a shipment has been unloaded under a transit arrangement the provisions of this order shall apply to such shipment if billed at the transit point on or after the effective date of this order.

(d) Tariff provisions suspended. The operation of all tariff rules, regulations, or charges insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this order is hereby suspended.

In re: Patent application of Wsevolode Grunberg.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned:

1. Having, on March 4, 1943, vested, by Vesting Order No. 1032, as property of Wsevolode Grunberg, the property described as follows:

Patent application identified as follows:

Serial Number, Filing Date, Inventor and Title

322,289; 3/5/40; W. Grunberg; Method of and means for instructing and training student operators.

2. Having found in said Vesting Order No. 1032 that Wsevolode Grunberg was a citizen of Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and a resident of France and was a national of foreign countries (Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and France);

4. Having been advised of the summary determination issued by the Vested Property Claims Committee with respect to said claim, wherein it was determined upon the basis of the facts represented to said committee that said property was at the time of vesting owned by claimant, and that the said claimant was at that time, and at all times since then has been and now is an individual residing in the United States or Canada; and that claimant is not a national of a designated enemy country; and that therefore the aforesaid vesting was effected under mistake of fact;

5. Having neither assigned, transferred, or conveyed to anyone the said property, or any part thereof or any interest therein, nor issued any license with respect thereto, nor in any manner created any right or interest in any person whomsoever;

6. Determining that the error committed in vesting said property should be corrected by assigning and conveying said property to claimant, and that such disposition of the said claim, being for the purpose of correcting a mistake in vesting such property originally, does not require the filing of any further claim, nor any further hearing;

Having made all determinations and taken all action required by law; and

Determining that under the aforesaid circumstances the disposition hereinafter effected is in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, hereby orders that the aforesaid property be assigned to claimant.

Regional and District Office Orders.

[Memphis Order G-1 Under Gen. Order 50]

MALT AND CEREAL BEVERAGES IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES OF TENNESSEE

Order No. G-1 under General Order No. 50. Filing of prices by restaurants and similar establishments; delegation of authority to fix maximum prices. Maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages in certain areas.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Memphis District Office of Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 50 issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and Region IV Revised Delegation Order No. 17, issued May 5, 1944, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages including those commonly known as ale, beer and near-beer, either in containers or on draught when sold or offered for sale at retail by any eating, or drinking establishment, either for consumption on the premises or when carried away.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all eating and drinking places or establishments located within the limits of the following named counties of the State of Tennessee: Bedford, Benton, Carroll, Chester, Coffee, Crockett, Decatur, Dickson, Dyer, Fayette, Franklin, Gibson, Giles, Grundy, Hardeman, Hardin, Haywood, Henderson, Henry, Hickman, Houston, Humphreys, Lake, Lauderdale, Lawrence, Lewis, Lincoln, McNairy, Madison, Marion, Marshall, Maury, Montgomery, Moore, Obion, Perry, Shelby, Stewart, Tipton, Wayne, and Weakley.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. (a) On and after May 22, 1944, if you operate an eating or drinking establishment, you may not sell or offer for sale any beverage subject to this order at prices higher than the applicable ceiling prices listed in Appendix A hereof. You may, of course, charge lower prices at any time.

(b) If you sell any beverage subject to this order which is not specifically listed in Appendix A hereof, and if you believe that the maximum price specified under the applicable heading "All other brands not listed above" is not appropriate to such beverage you may make application to the Memphis District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that such beverage be specifically included in Appendix A hereof. With or without such application the Memphis District Office of the Office of Price Administration may, at any time and from time to time, add new or unlisted beverages, brands, types or sizes, together with maximum prices for same to the lists set forth in Appendix A hereof.

SEC. 4. How to figure your ceiling prices. (a) This order divides eating and drinking establishments into three different groups and gives each group a different ceiling price. The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. You must figure the group to which you belong on the basis of your correct legal ceiling prices for that period.

(b) The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices for the beverages subject to this order in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. If your legal ceiling prices for various brands and types of beverages subject to this order vary so that your ceiling prices on some brands or types seem to place you in one particular group and ceiling prices on others seem to classify you into a different group, you must classify yourself into the particular group representative of the prices at which the greater number of your sales were made. You must figure the group to which you belong as follows:

(1) Group 1 B. Your establishment belongs to Group 1 B, if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 1 B establishments.

(2) Group 2 B. Your establishment belongs to Group 2 B, if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2 B establishments, but were less than those provided in Appendix A for Group 1 B establishments.

(3) Group 3 B. Your establishment belongs to Group 3 B, if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were less than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2 B establishments. All establishments not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 also belong to Group 3 B.

(c) If your eating or drinking establishment was not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, and, if the nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type is one which is properly classified in Group 1 B or Group 2 B, you may file an application with the Memphis District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that your establishment be reclassified into the same group to which its nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type belongs. Until your application is acted upon and your establishment is reclassified, it must retain the classification of a Group 3 B seller, and must observe the ceiling prices as provided for that group in Appendix A hereof. All such applications for reclassification must contain the following information:

(1) Name and address of the establishment and of its owner or owners.

(2) A description of the establishment showing its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the date it began operating.

(3) The selling prices by brand name of all beverages sold since the beginning of its operation.

(4) The names of the three nearest eating and drinking establishments of the same type, and their group number as determined under this order.

(5) Any other information pertinent to such application, or which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Filing with War Price and Rationing Board. When you have figured your proper group under section 4 above, you must, on or before June 1, 1944, file with your War Price and Rationing Board a signed statement with the name and address of your establishment, its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the group to which it belongs. Thereupon the War Price and Rationing Board will send you a card bearing your group number.

SEC. 6. Modification of prices. After you have determined your group and have put into effect the ceiling prices provided in this order for that group, the Office of Price Administration District Director for the District in which your establishment is located may direct you to charge lower ceiling prices:

(a) If, on the basis of your April 4–10, 1943, legal ceiling prices, this order, properly applied, requires you to be placed into a group with lower ceiling prices.

(b) If, as a result of speculative, unwarranted, or abnormal increases, contrary to the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, your legal ceiling prices on April 4–10, 1943, were excessive in relation to the legal ceiling prices of other comparable establishments in the District.

SEC. 7. Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the operation of this order. However, unless they are otherwise exempt from price control, they shall remain subject to the appropriate maximum price regulation or order:

(a) Sales by persons on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club cars, bar cars, and buffet cars, or sales otherwise governed by Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 1 (Dining Car Regulation).

(b) Sales by public and private hospitals insofar as they serve to patients.

(c) Sales by eating cooperatives formed by members of the Armed Forces (as, for example, officers' mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual) which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to members of the Armed Forces who are members of the cooperative.

(d) Sales where the beverages subject to this order are included in, and sold as part of, a meal and where the price of such beverage is included in the price of the meal. (Such sales remain under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1).

(e) Sales by the War Department or the Department of Navy of the United States through such Departments' sales stores, including commissaries, ships' stores ashore, and by stores operated as army canteens, post exchanges, or ships' activities.

(f) Bona fide private clubs insofar as such clubs sell only to members or bona fide guests of members. Whenever such clubs sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such clubs shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking establishment and subject to this order. No club shall be considered to be exempt as a private club, within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and unless it is otherwise operated as a private club.

No club organized after the effective date of this order shall be exempt unless and until it has filed a request for exemption with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration of the area in which it is located, furnishing such information as may be required, and has received a communication from such office authorizing exemption as a private club.

SEC. 8. Evasion. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment you must not evade the ceiling prices established by this order by any type of scheme or device; among other things (this is not an attempt to list all evasive practices) you must not:

(a) Institute any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did not have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943, or

(b) Increase any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, or

(c) Require as a condition of sale of a beverage the purchase of other items or meals.

SEC. 9. Records and menus. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment subject to this order you must observe the requirements of General Order 50, as well as Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1, either as revised and amended or as may be revised and amended, with reference to the filing and keeping of menus and the preservation and keeping of customary and future records. Among other provisions of General Order No. 50, are the following:

(a) Preserve all existing records relating to prices, cost and sales of food items, meals and beverages;

(b) Continue to prepare and maintain such records as have been ordinarily kept;

(c) Keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration two copies of each menu used by the establishment each day, or a daily record in duplicate of the prices charged for food items, beverages and meals. If the establishment has customarily used menus, it must continue to do so.

SEC. 10. Posting of prices. If you are an operator of an eating and drinking establishment you must post and keep posted, the ceiling prices of the beverages subject to this order sold by your establishment, either by:

(a) Supplying the customers menus or bills of fare showing the beverages subject to this order which are sold by the establishment; and showing the brand name, quantity and ceiling price of each kind and type of bottled beverage, and the quantity and ceiling price of all beverages sold on draught.

(b) Posting a sign giving the same information as required on menus or bills of fare by paragraph (a) above. Such a sign must be posted in the establishment at a place where it can easily be read by the customers. If you prefer you may use a similar sign furnished by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Posting of group number. If you operate an eating or drinking establishment selling at retail beverages subject to this order you must post, and keep posted, in the premises a card clearly visible to purchasers showing the group number of your establishment as classified under this order. The card must read "OPA 1B", "OPA 2B", or "OPA 3B", whichever is applicable. You may use the card furnished you for this purpose by the War Price and Rationing Board.

SEC. 12. Receipts and sales slips. Regardless of whether or not receipts have customarily been issued, upon request by any customer at the time of payment, a receipt containing a full description of the beverage sold and the price of same must be issued. Such receipts must show the date of issue and bear the signature of the person issuing same.

If you have customarily issued receipts or sales slips, you may not now discontinue the practice.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one place selling beverages subject to this order you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Enforcement. If you violate any provision of this regulation you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement action, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspensions of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 15. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. If you are a seller subject to this order your license may be suspended for violation of the license or of the order. If your license is suspended you may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which your license has been suspended.

SEC. 16. Relation to other maximum price regulations. This order supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 259 and the General Maximum Price Regulation insofar as such provisions were applicable to sales at retail by eating and drinking establishments of beverages subject to this order. Sales of beverages subject to this order when sold as part of a meal and when the price of same is included in the meal remain subject to the provisions of Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1.

(e) "Sales at retail" or "selling at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

(f) "Eating or drinking establishment" shall include any place, establishment or location, whether temporary or permanent, in which any prepared food item or meal, or any beverage is sold for immediate consumption on the premises or to be carried away without substantial change in form or substance. However, grocery and other stores that do not sell food items or meals, or beverages for immediate consumption on the premises are specifically excluded from this definition.

(g) "Other definitions." Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall apply to the other terms used herein.

SEC. 18. Petitions for amendment. Any person dissatisfied with any of the provisions of this order may request the Office of Price Administration to amend the order. Such petition for amendment must be filed in pursuance of the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition for amendment shall be directed to, filed with, and acted upon, by the District Director of the Memphis District Office.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter VI—Solid Fuels Administration for War

[SFAW Reg. 18, Amdt. 1]

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE

Since the issuance of SFAW Regulation No. 18, it has become necessary to include that size of anthracite known as No. 2 buckwheat (rice) within its provisions. It has also become necessary to provide a method whereby shipments of No. 1 and No. 2 buckwheat by producers and wholesalers to retail dealers may be accelerated under certain conditions; to impose restrictions upon the shipment of anthracite for industrial use; and to make other minor amendments designed to clarify the regulation. Accordingly, SFAW Regulation No. 18 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraphs (a), (g), (l), (m), (o), (p) and (r) of § 602.331 are amended to read as follows:

(a) "Anthracite" means that coal which is generally referred to as Pennsylvania anthracite produced or prepared in the following counties in Pennsylvania: Carbon, Columbia, Dauphin, Lebanon, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Susquehanna and Wayne; and for the purposes of this regulation is limited to the following sizes: broken, egg, stove, chestnut, pea, No. 1 buckwheat and No. 2 buckwheat (rice).

(g) "Retail dealer" means any person (including the retail outlet, branch or department of one who is also a producer, wholesaler or lake dock operator) to the extent that he acts in the capacity of a supplier, shipper, or seller of anthracite in any transaction, except a wholesale transaction, involving a shipment, sale, or sale and delivery, of broken bulk anthracite physically handled in a truck, wagon, or other less than carload facility, without regard to quantity or frequency of delivery.

(l) "Industrial process or the production of power" includes without limitation any manufacturing or commercial processing, the generation of electrical energy for resale or otherwise, and the ordinary operations of a commercial bakery or laundry. Industrial process or the production of power does not include the ordinary operations of the following, among others: apartment houses, hotels (exclusive of functions as restaurant), schools and office buildings.

(m) "Local sales in the producing region" means all sales or deliveries of anthracite at retail to consumers (other than mine employees) within the following townships and boroughs in the ten counties specified in paragraph (a) of this section:

Carbon County: Townships: Banks, Lehigh, Mahoning, Mauch Chunk, and Packer. Boroughs: Mauch Chunk and East Mauch Chunk.

Columbia County: Townships: Beaver, Conyngham, Locust, Mifflin, and Roaring Creek.

Dauphin County: Townships: Jackson, Jefferson, Lykens, Rush, Wiconisco, and Williams.

Lackawanna County: All townships.

Lebanon County: Cold Spring township only.

Luzerne County: All townships except Ross, Fairmont and Huntington.

Northumberland County: Townships: Coal, East Cameron, West Cameron, Mount Carmel, Upper Mahoney, and Zerbie.

Schuylkill County: All townships.

Susquehanna County: Clifford township only.

Wayne County: Townships: Clinton and Canaan.

(o) "Base period" means the period from April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943, inclusive, except that with respect to No. 2 buckwheat (rice) the base period in respect to shipments to destinations in the United States means the period April 1, 1943 to March 31, 1944, inclusive. Under this definition the base period with respect to No. 2 buckwheat (rice) shipments to destinations in the Dominion of Canada is the period April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943, inclusive.

(p) "Base period tonnage" means the total number of tons of anthracite shipped by any person to any person during the base period, except excludable tonnage as defined in this regulation. Base period tonnage consists of three separate tonnages for all statistical and regulatory purposes, as follows:

(i) A total base period tonnage for the following sizes: broken, egg, stove, chestnut and pea;

(ii) A base period tonnage for No. 1 buckwheat; and

(iii) A base period tonnage for No. 2 buckwheat (rice). The persons as between whom base period tonnages are established under this regulation are specified in §§ 602.334, 602.336, 602.337 (b), 602.339, 602.340 and 602.341.

(r) "Available tonnage" means the total tonnage of anthracite which a producer or wholesaler has in any calendar month for distribution after deducting the tonnage lawfully shipped or scheduled for shipment in that calendar month as follows:

(i) Pursuant to Solid Fuels Administration for War directions;

(ii) As excludable tonnage;

(iii) To mine employees to the extent permitted by § 602.333;

(iv) On local sales in the producing region to the extent permitted by § 602.334;

(v) To timber truckers in the manner and to the extent permitted by § 602.335;

(vi) To consumers in the manner and to the extent permitted by § 602.345.

2. Section 602.336 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Distribution by producer or wholesaler to equipped retail dealers (except deliveries moving by truck from mine or preparation plant). (1) Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph (a), each producer and wholesaler (including a lake dock operator) shall arrange his schedule for the distribution of his available tonnage (exclusive of deliveries by truck from a mine or preparation plant which are governed by paragraph (d) of this section) so that during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, on the basis, to the maximum extent practicable, of regular equal monthly shipments, he shall have supplied anthracite—except No. 2 buckwheat (rice)—to each equipped retail dealer in the United States and Canada, up to but not in excess of 90 percent of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, established between such producer or wholesaler and each such equipped retail dealer.

(2) From and after June 1, 1944, each producer and each wholesaler shall arrange his schedule for the distribution of his available tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) so that during the period June 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, on the basis, to the maximum extent practicable, of regular equal monthly shipments, he shall have supplied to each equipped retail dealer in the United States and Canada up to but not in excess of 75 per cent of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, established between such producer or wholesaler and each such equipped retail dealer.

Shipments of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) to persons in the United States and Canada during the months of April and May 1944 shall not be taken into account in computing the amount of excess tonnage which producers and wholesalers may have to distribute pursuant to §§ 602.337 and 602.338 of this regulation. However, for the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no producer or wholesaler shall have shipped to any equipped retail dealer a tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) in excess of the base period tonnage established between such producer or wholesaler and such equipped retail dealer. For the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no equipped retail dealer may receive from all sources combined a tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) which exceeds the sum of the base period tonnages established between such equipped retail dealer and each of the producers and wholesalers who supplied him during the base period.

(3) In the event that a producer or wholesaler is unable to make equal monthly shipments to an equipped retail dealer who advises in writing that he does not have storage facilities to accommodate all of the tonnage of either No. 1 buckwheat or No. 2 buckwheat (rice) which may be shipped to him pursuant to § 602.336 (a), and that he cannot dispose of such coal upon receipt, such producer or wholesaler may accelerate shipments of either No. 1 buckwheat or No. 2 buckwheat (rice) to other equipped retail dealers prior to October 1, 1944, without regard to equal monthly shipments to such equipped retail dealers. However, in no event shall the total tonnage shipped to each equipped retail dealer during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, exceed the total tonnage permitted by this regulation to be shipped by such producer or wholesaler to each such equipped retail dealer. In addition, the total tonnage of either No. 1 buckwheat or No. 2 buckwheat (rice) shipped by such producer or wholesaler to equipped retail dealers in the aggregate in any calendar month shall in no event exceed one-twelfth of the total tonnage permitted by this regulation to be shipped by such producer or wholesaler to equipped retail dealers in the aggregate to March 31, 1945.

3. Section 602.336 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Distribution by producer or wholesaler of anthracite moving by truck from mine or preparation plant (except sales to mine employees, local sales and sales to timber truckers). This paragraph governs the distribution of anthracite (except that referred to in §§ 602.333, 602.334, and 602.335) moving by truck from a mine or preparation plant located in any of the counties designated in § 602.331 (a). Each person who received anthracite by such method of transportation during the base period shall be deemed to have an established base period tonnage with the producer or wholesaler from whose mine or preparation plant the anthracite was received. In the event that such a person distributed such anthracite to retail dealers in the base period, he shall be required to distribute such anthracite to retail dealers with whom he has an established base period tonnage in accordance, so far as practicable, with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(This section does not govern the distribution of anthracite by a truck which is loaded at a point outside of the townships and boroughs designated in § 602.331 (m) and which is delivered at a point outside of those townships and boroughs. Such distribution is governed by § 602.339 entitled "Distribution by Equipped Retail Dealer to Unequipped Retail Dealers.")

(1) Each producer and wholesaler shall arrange his schedule for the distribution of his available tonnage of anthracite—except No. 2 buckwheat (rice)—for shipment by truck to each person with whom he has an established base period tonnage for truck shipments so that during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, he shall have supplied to each such person, on the basis, to the maximum extent practicable, of regular equal monthly shipments up to but not in excess of 90 per cent of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, of each such person.

(2) From and after June 1, 1944, each producer and wholesaler shall arrange his schedule for the distribution of his available tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) for shipment by truck to each person with whom he has an established base period tonnage for truck shipments of such coal, so that by March 31, 1945, on the basis, to the maximum extent practicable, of regular equal monthly shipments to that date, he shall have supplied each such person up to but not in excess of 75 per cent of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, of each such person.

(3) If in any calendar month during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, a person who has an established base period tonnage for truck shipments fails to send trucks to a mine or preparation plant to receive his proportionate share of the available tonnage of the producer or wholesaler with whom he has established such a base period tonnage, such producer or wholesaler may, subject to the restrictions of this regulation, distribute to retail dealers a tonnage equivalent to such undelivered tonnage. However, if a person demonstrates to the satisfaction of the appropriate Regional Representative of SFAW that after diligent effort he is unable to obtain trucks to haul his monthly quota of anthracite from a mine or preparation plant, then the producer or wholesaler may, with the approval of the appropriate Regional Representative, ship such tonnage to such person by any other reasonable mode of transportation either directly or through a wholesaler chosen by the producer and upon direction of SFAW shall make such shipments.

(4) If a producer or a wholesaler does not have records which establish a base period tonnage of a person receiving anthracite by truck, such producer or wholesaler may distribute anthracite to such person for shipment by truck: Provided, That the aggregate tonnage of truck shipments by such producer or wholesaler to all persons does not in any calendar month during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, exceed one-twelfth of 90 per cent of the aggregate base period tonnage, as adjusted, of truck shipments by such producer or wholesaler to all such persons.

(5) Before making any distribution for shipment by truck pursuant to this paragraph, a producer or wholesaler shall first obtain the following statement, filled out and signed by the driver of the truck:

4. Section 602.339 is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.339 Distribution by equipped retail dealer to unequipped retail dealers. (a) Each equipped retail dealer (including a lake dock operator or a tidewater dock operator) shall arrange his distribution schedule so that during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, on the basis, to the maximum extent practicable, of regular equal monthly shipments, he shall have supplied anthracite—except No. 2 buckwheat (rice)—to each unequipped retail dealer up to but not in excess of 90 percent of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, established between such equipped retail dealer and such unequipped retail dealer.

(b) From and after June 1, 1944, each equipped retail dealer (including a lake dock operator or a tidewater dock operator) shall arrange his schedule for the distribution of his available tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) so that by March 31, 1945, on the basis, to the maximum extent practicable, of regular equal monthly shipments to that date, he shall have supplied to each unequipped retail dealer up to but not in excess of 75 per cent of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, established between such equipped retail dealer and such unequipped retail dealer.

(c) If in any calendar month an equipped retail dealer's available tonnage is not sufficient to enable him to supply, pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, each unequipped retail dealer to whom he supplied anthracite in the base period, with the appropriate monthly portion of the base period tonnage, as adjusted, of each such unequipped retail dealer, such equipped retail dealer shall, during that month, apply a uniform percentage of reduction in shipments to each of his unequipped retail dealers.

(d) If in any calendar month during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, an unequipped retail dealer fails to send trucks to the yard of the equipped retail dealer to receive his proportionate share of the available tonnage of the equipped retail dealer with whom he has an established base period tonnage, such equipped retail dealer may, subject to the restrictions of applicable regulations, distribute to other unequipped retail dealers or to consumers a tonnage equivalent to such undelivered tonnage.

5. Section 602.341 is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.341 Receipts by retail dealers restricted. Except as provided in § 602.336 (a) (2) and (3) and paragraph (e) of § 602.338, no retail dealer may receive (1) from all sources combined a tonnage of anthracite which either exceeds 90 percent of the sum of his base period tonnage, as adjusted, established between such retail dealer and each of the producers, wholesalers or equipped retail dealers who supplied him during the base period or (2) any anthracite which a producer, wholesaler or equipped retail dealer is not authorized to ship under this regulation.

No retail dealer may receive anthracite except on condition that he will distribute it in accordance with SFAW Regulation No. 17, or other applicable regulations of SFAW.

6. A new § 602.343 is added, to read as follows:

§ 602.343 Restrictions upon distribution by producers and wholesalers of anthracite for industrial use or production of power. (a) During the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no producer or wholesaler may ship to any person and no person may acquire from all sources combined, anthracite for use in an industrial process or for the production of power or for space heating which is incidental thereto, in an amount which, when added to the anthracite in the possession or under the control of such person, exceeds the consumption requirements of such person for such purposes for a period of ninety days from the date of such shipment.

(b) During the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no producer, wholesaler or retail dealer may ship anthracite to any person in Canada for use in an industrial process or for the production of power or for space heating which is incidental thereto, in an amount which, when added to the anthracite in the possession or under the control of the person acquiring anthracite for such purpose, exceeds the consumption requirements of such person for such purpose for a period of ninety days from the date of such shipment: Provided, That the total of such shipments made during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, shall not exceed 90 percent of the consumption requirements of such person for such purpose during that period.

7. A new § 602.344 is added, as follows:

§ 602.344 Restrictions upon distribution of excludable tonnage by producers and wholesalers. (a) Unless required by § 602.336 of this regulation to make shipments out of the available tonnage of anthracite to a particular equipped retail dealer or to a particular person who receives anthracite by truck from a mine or preparation plant, a producer or wholesaler shall not ship any excludable tonnage to such an equipped retail dealer or person without first obtaining the written permission of SFAW.

(b) During the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no producer or wholesaler may ship excludable tonnage to any equipped retail dealer or to any person who receives anthracite by truck from a mine or preparation plant pursuant to § 602.336 (d) of this regulation in excess of the total excludable tonnage shipped by such producer or wholesaler to such equipped retail dealer or person during the period April 1, 1943 to March 31, 1944, inclusive, unless and until the producer or wholesaler has been notified by SFAW that (1) the retail dealer has filed a written statement in duplicate with the appropriate Regional Representative of SFAW, setting forth, among other things, the name and address of the consumer who claims to need the increased tonnage; the use to which such anthracite will be put; the tonnage of each size required; and the name and address of the producer or wholesaler that will supply the coal; and (2) SFAW has authorized the shipment of such tonnage.

8. A new § 602.345 is added as follows:

§ 602.345 Distribution by producers or wholesalers to consumers other than mine employees and consumers on local sales in the producing region. A producer or wholesaler may ship anthracite to a consumer (other than mine employees and consumers on local sales in the producing region) in amounts limited to what the consumer may receive pursuant to the provisions of SFAW Regulation No. 17: Provided, however, That the restrictions of § 602.304 (a) of that regulation shall not apply to rail shipments to consumers whose annual requirements amount to only one railroad car and who customarily receive anthracite in a railroad car lot. Each producer and wholesaler who ships or delivers anthracite to a consumer shall obtain from such consumer a Consumer Declaration upon the form prescribed by SFAW Regulation No. 17 and in accordance with the provisions thereof.

9. Existing § 602.343 is re-numbered § 602.346 and is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.346 Producers and wholesalers to advise retail dealers of base period tonnages and adjustments. (a) Each producer and wholesaler, on or before the 25th day of April, 1944, shall notify each retail dealer to whom he made shipments during the base period of the actual tonnage of anthracite—except No. 2 buckwheat (rice)—shipped during the base period, including any adjustments thereof approved by SFAW. One copy of such notice shall be forwarded to the Regional Representative of SFAW for the region in which the dealer has his place of business and one copy of such notice shall be forwarded to the Solid Fuels Administration for War, Washington 25, D. C. The figures shown on such notification shall be subject to review, and may be increased or decreased, by SFAW.

(b) Each producer and wholesaler, on or before the 25th day of June 1944, shall notify each retail dealer to whom he made shipments during the base period of the actual tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) shipped during the base period. One copy of such notice shall be forwarded to the Regional Representative of SFAW for the region in which the dealer has his place of business, and one copy of such notice shall be forwarded to the Solid Fuels Administration for War, Washington 25, D. C. The figures shown on such notification may be increased by SFAW upon approval of an application filed pursuant to § 602.349.

10. Existing § 602.344 is re-numbered § 602.347 and paragraph (a) is amended by the addition of the following:

The report shall also set forth as a separate total the tonnages of No. 2 buckwheat (rice).

11. Existing § 602.345 is re-numbered § 602.346.

12. A new § 602.349 is added, to read as follows:

§ 602.349 Adjustments of base period tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice). Because the base period of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) is different in the United States from the base period for the other regulated sizes and because shipments of this size have been almost entirely unregulated, some dealers may feel that inequities will result from this amendment. Therefore, SFAW will grant an equitable upward adjustment of the base period tonnage of No. 2 buckwheat (rice) of any retail dealer in the United States, or any person who receives anthracite by truck from a mine or preparation plant pursuant to § 602.336 (d) of this regulation, who demonstrates that (1) he received substantially less tonnage of this size during the period April 1, 1943 to March 31, 1944, than he received during the corresponding period April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, and (2) unless his base period tonnage of this size is adjusted upward, hardship will result to consumers he supplies with this size in the community he serves. Applications for such adjustments shall be filed in triplicate prior to August 25, 1944 with the Regional Representative of SFAW for the Region in which the retail dealer has his place of business. In no event will SFAW approve an upward adjustment that will result in a tonnage in excess of the total number of tons received by the applicant during the period April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943, inclusive.

13. Existing § 602.346 is re-numbered § 602.350.

14. Existing § 602.347 is re-numbered § 602.351 and is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.351 Producers or wholesalers without a base period tonnage. Any producer or wholesaler who did not make shipments of anthracite during the base period shall make shipments only (1) to or for the account of another producer or wholesaler who made shipments of anthracite to retail dealers during the base period or (2) upon specific direction of SFAW.

15. Existing §§ 602.348, 602.349, 602.350, 602.351, 602.352, and 602.353 are re-numbered §§ 602.352, 602.353, 602.354, 602.355, 602.356 and 602.357, respectively.

16. A new § 602.358 is added, to read as follows:

§ 602.358 Damages for breach of contract. No person shall be held liable under any contract for damages or penalties for any default which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this regulation.

17. Existing §§ 602.354, 602.355, 602.356 and 602.357 are re-numbered §§ 602.359, 602.360, 602.361 and 602.362, respectively.

18. Existing § 602.358 is re-numbered § 602.363 and is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.363 Short title. This regulation may be cited as SFAW Regulation No. 18, as amended.

This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., June 1, 1944.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

SUN COMPANY

Jacob L. Sohn, doing business as Sun Company, in Providence, Rhode Island, is a jewelry manufacturer. During the period between February 25 and July 1, 1943, having a quota under Conservation Order M-199 of 429.12 ounces of domestic silver, he purchased, received, and put into process for restricted uses 570.88 ounces in excess of his quota; during the third quarter of 1943, with a quota of 321.84 ounces, he purchased, received, and put into process for restricted use 3,678.16 ounces in excess of his quota; and in the fourth quarter, with a quota of 321.84 ounces he purchased and received for restricted uses 6,078.16 ounces in excess of his quota, and put into process for restricted uses 3,160.16 ounces in excess of his quota. During the period between February 17 and June 7, 1943, he purchased, received, and put into process for restricted uses, to fill unrated orders, 9,828.14 ounces of foreign silver as defined in Order M-199; all the purchases were made without the certifications or endorsements on the purchase orders required by the order. Mr. Sohn was familiar with Conservation Order M-199 and the quota it established. The purchase, receipt, and putting into process of silver in excess of the quota was in violation of the order, and the violations were wilful.

These violations of Order M-199 diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.556 Suspension Order No. S-556. (a) Jacob L. Sohn, doing business as Sun Company, or otherwise, his agents and assigns, shall not purchase, accept delivery of, or put into process any silver as defined in Conservation Order M-199, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Jacob L. Sohn, doing business as Sun Company, or otherwise, his agents or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 30, 1944, and shall expire on September 30, 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

[CMP Reg. 5A, Interpretation 7]

PURCHASER'S COST OF LABOR FOR MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Regulation 5A:

Paragraph (b) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 5A permits the use of the MRO symbol and rating to get materials or equipment for a minor capital addition, where the cost of the minor capital addition does not exceed $100 "excluding the purchaser's cost of labor".

This means that the cost of the materials or equipment going into the minor capital addition must not exceed $100. The cost of labor for the manufacture of the materials or equipment must be included in figuring their cost. The cost of labor used in construction or installation of the minor capital addition need not be included.

This applies whether the agency or institution uses its own employees to do the construction or installation work or hires an independent contractor to supply this construction or installation labor.

It also applies where the agency or institution gets an independent contractor to furnish the materials and the labor for the job, and where the agency or institution buys a machine or other article and has the seller do the work of installation.

NOTE: This interpretation is substantially similar to Interpretation No. 11 to CMP Regulation No. 5, issued May 22, 1944.

Issued this 31st day of May 1944.

(e) Issuance of production directives to producers. Not later than 10 days after the time prescribed in the preceding paragraph for the issuance of allotments to the claimant agencies, War Production Board will issue to each producer a directive for the period covered by the allotments, prescribing the percentage of the producer's facilities by groups and sub-groups allocated to the production of the following classes of orders:

(1) Original equipment; (2) replacement by military claimants; (3) indirect military replacement.

"Indirect Military" refers to claimants not designated as military claimants in paragraph (b) (4).

(f) [Deleted May 31, 1944]

Original Equipment

(g) Vehicle manufacturer's authorization. (1) Each manufacturer of vehicles or equipment listed in Table I must file his application for original equipment tires on Form WPB-3663 with the appropriate industry division of the War Production Board in accordance with instructions accompanying the form, unless he is specifically excused from filing. A manufacturer of vehicles or equipment not listed in Table I need not file Form WPB-3663, unless he is specifically instructed to do so.

(2) On or before the first day of the month preceding each quarter, manufacturers of vehicles and equipment listed in Table I for which tires have been allotted, will be authorized by the War Production Board on Form GA-1733 to accept delivery of a specified number of tires by group and sub-group. In the case of tire mounted vehicles or equipment not listed in Table I, similar authorizations will be issued to vehicle manufacturers by the appropriate claimant agency.

(3) No manufacturer may accept delivery of tires for his production of vehicles or equipment (including tire mounted components of vehicles or equipment) unless he has been specifically authorized to accept such delivery under this order.

(h) Vehicle manufacturer's certification to his supplier. (1) In order to receive tires for original equipment, each vehicle manufacturer authorized under the preceeding paragraph must certify to his supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter in which shipments are to be made, in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official:

Agency identification number or symbol ——. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that he is authorized to accept delivery of the following tires for his production during the quarterly period commencing ——, 1944; that the monthly deliveries specified will not result at any time in an inventory exceeding 10 days' supply based upon his total authorized monthly production:

Size	Ply	Type	Quantity

The identification number shall consist of the appropriate symbol followed by the major program number (see Table I, unless authorization is issued by claimant agency).

No certification other than the above is required. The standard form of certification provided in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be substituted.

(2) By using the above certification, a vehicle manufacturer who buys tire mounted components for his production may authorize the manufacturer of the components to accept delivery of tires. On the basis of the certification received from his customer, the manufacturer of the tire mounted components shall use the same certification in placing his orders for tires with a producer. He must place his certified orders within the time prescribed for vehicle manufacturers.

(3) A vehicle manufacturer's authorization for tires may be reduced or cancelled at any time by the War Production Board or claimant agency issuing the same. A manufacturer who is notified that his authorization has been reduced or cancelled must immediately reduce or cancel delivery orders which he has placed under his authorization to the extent necessary to bring scheduled deliveries within the authorized amount.

(4) A vehicle manufacturer's authorization for tires may be increased by the War Production Board or claimant agency issuing the same at any time during the quarter covered by the authorization.

In placing orders under an increase in authorization, a vehicle manufacturer must certify to the producer that he does so under "Increase dated ---------," and in addition, must use the above certification for vehicle manufacturers signed by an authorized official. This may be done by preceding the certification with "Increase dated ---------" (inserting date of increase). If the vehicle manufacturer is unable to place his certified order for additional tires, it may be referred to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, for placement.

The procedure described in (2) above may be followed in authorizing a manufacturer of tire mounted components to receive tires under the increase, but the increase must be identified by date in the certification.

(5) No manufacturer shall certify an order for original equipment tires until he has received his authorization under this order.

Replacement

(i) Replacement by procuring claimant agency. In order to receive tires for replacement purposes under its allotment for any quarter, a claimant agency which purchases tires must certify to its supplier on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the quarter in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official:

Agency identification symbol ---------. The undersigned certifies that the claimant agency identified by the above symbol is authorized to procure the following tires for replacement during the quarter commencing ---------, 1944 and that the tires have been charged against its allotment for that period:

Open Capacity and Unplaced Orders

(j) Placement against open capacity. Unplaced certified orders may be referred to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, for placement on the basis of open capacity reports received from producers. Unplaced orders must be received by the Office of Rubber Director on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter for which the orders are certified.

(k) Report by producer of his open capacity. Each producer shall report to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, by letter not later than the 20th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter, the open capacity he has available for the production of tires in each group and sub-group, after making provision for the scheduling of all orders placed with him as of the last day for placement of orders for production during the quarter. This report shall be based upon the percentage allocation of his production facilities made by directive issued to him under paragraph (e).

Producer's Acceptance and Shipment of Orders

(l) General restrictions on acceptance. Unless otherwise directed under the provisions of this order, no producer shall accept or fill any orders for tires except: (1) Orders certified under paragraphs (h) or (i) and presented to him within the prescribed time for placement; (2) orders for indirect military replacement.

Orders certified under paragraphs (h) or (i) must be presented not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter in which shipments are to be made, except certified orders based upon an increase in a vehicle manufacturer's authorization, which may be presented at any time during the quarter.

(m) Acceptance or fulfillment of orders in excess of authorized production. No producer shall accept or fill any orders for tires to be delivered in any quarter in excess of the percentage allocation of his facilities for the particular class of order established by his production directive issued under paragraph (e), unless otherwise directed under the provisions of this order. No producer shall accept orders in excess of 100% of his expected production for the quarter.

(n) Limitation on size of shipments. No producer may ship in any calendar month to a vehicle manufacturer or claimant agency more than 40% of the tires in any size or type scheduled by him for shipment during the quarter to the particular manufacturer or agency under certified orders unless he can do so without interfering with other certified orders on his schedule. Shipments for indirect military replacement may be made only to the extent that the shipments do not interfere with the producer's frozen schedule under paragraph (p).

Scheduling Provisions

(o) Directions by claimant agency. A claimant agency which purchases tires may issue the following written directions to a producer: (1) Diverting a particular shipment of tires scheduled for its account by the producer; (2) changing tire sizes to be produced for its account within a particular sub-group but only if the production capacity required and the total number of tires scheduled for its account are not increased by the change.

(p) Frozen production schedule. On the first day of the quarter, each producer's production schedule shall become a frozen schedule within the meaning of Priorities Regulation 18 for the quarterly period, and may not be altered except as provided in that regulation. A producer may, however, accept certified orders based upon an increase in a vehicle manufacturer's authorization unless the production or shipment of any such orders will interfere with his frozen schedule. In addition, written directions may be issued by a claimant agency under paragraph (o).

The following orders shall automatically become part of a producer's frozen schedule:

(1) Orders for original equipment tires which have been certified under paragraph (h) and which the producer has accepted and agreed to ship during the quarter.

(2) Orders placed with him by the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board on the basis of his open capacity report for the quarterly period.

(3) Orders for replacement tires which he has accepted and agreed to fill during the quarterly period.

(q) Other scheduling provisions. With respect to the production or shipment of tires, the War Production Board may notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule, or regulation (except Priorities Regulation No. 18) of the War Production Board or other Governmental agency:

(1) Direct the return or cancellation of any purchase order on the books of a producer.

(2) Direct changes in the production or shipping schedule of a producer.

(3) Cancel purchase orders placed with one producer and direct that they be placed with another producer.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(r) Effect of preference ratings. Within the limits established by his production directive, a producer shall accept orders certified under paragraphs (h) and (i) in the order in which they are received by him without regard to preference ratings.

(s) Status of unfilled orders at end of quarter. Unless authorized in writing by the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, no producer shall carry over any order which he has accepted for delivery during a particular quarter and which he has been unable to produce and ship during that quarter to the following quarter.

(t) Duplication of orders. No purchaser of tires shall duplicate an order for tires in any group or sub-group even though he intends to cancel or reduce his orders to the authorized or allotted amount prior to delivery.

(u) Use of producer's interchangeable facilities. A producer shall use his interchangeable facilities in accordance with List 6, Appendix II, Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

(v) [Deleted May 31, 1944.]

(w) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(x) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made in writing to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(y) Communications. All reports required to be filed under this order and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Production and Priorities Department, Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: Order R–1.

Issued this 31st day of May 1944.

SECTION 1. Prohibition against sales and purchases of vegetable waxes and beeswax at higher than maximum prices. On and after May 30, 1944, regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell, deliver or transfer any vegetable wax or beeswax at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(b) No person shall buy or receive any vegetable wax or beeswax in the course of trade or business at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(c) No person in the United States who deals directly or through his purchasing agent with a foreign seller or with the selling agent of such foreign seller shall (1) buy, or (2) receive delivery in the United States of, any vegetable wax or beeswax, in the course of trade or business at higher prices than the maximum prices established by Appendix A of this regulation; Provided, however, That a purchase of South American beeswax at a higher price may be consummated and delivery received in the United States if such purchase was made prior to May 17, 1944 under the authority of the War Production Board's General Imports Order M-63 and if, prior to the expiration of one week after issuance of this revised regulation, the War Production Board has received a report of such purchase in accordance with conditions set forth in Form WPB-3390.

(d) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 2. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

SEC. 3. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 4. Relationship of this regulation to other maximum price regulations—(a) The General Maximum Price Regulation.[1] The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries of vegetable waxes and beeswax for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. For example, sales and deliveries of less than two pounds of a vegetable wax or beeswax remain subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) The Maximum Import Price Regulation.[2] The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the Maximum Import Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries of vegetable waxes and beeswax for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

(c) Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[3] The provisions of this regulation do not apply to sales and deliveries of vegetable waxes or beeswax for export from the United States. Such sales and deliveries shall continue to be subject to the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

SEC. 5. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 6. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a product covered by this regulation imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the maximum price and in preparing records with respect thereto. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 7. Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales or purchases of vegetable waxes or beeswax after May 30, 1944, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each purchase or sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and the seller, the price contracted for or received and the quantity of each type and grade of such vegetable waxes or beeswax purchased or sold.

(b) Such persons shall keep such other records and shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section or the reports required by section 12 (a) and Appendix C hereof as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

SEC. 8. Evasion. Price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to vegetable waxes or beeswax alone, or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, discount, premium, or other privilege, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 9. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

SEC. 10. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 11. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term

SEC. 12. Maximum prices for undesignated grades and types of vegetable waxes and beeswax—(a) Carnauba, ouricury, candelilla and beeswax. Maximum prices for grades or types of carnauba wax, ouricury wax, candelilla wax and beeswax for which no maximum prices are specified in the appendices hereto, or shipped from points not designated therein, shall be the maximum prices authorized by the Office of Price Administration in response to an application therefor filed by the seller or buyer and in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

Applications for the establishment of such maximum prices shall be submitted by registered mail to the Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., prior to sale or purchase and shall be accompanied by a description of the particular vegetable wax or beeswax and of the nature of the transaction involved, the present maximum price (if any), the current selling price, and the maximum price proposed.

Sales and purchases may be made at such proposed price after the date of mailing such application subject, however, to approval of the proposed price by the Administrator. If, at the expiration of 20 days from the date of mailing the application, the seller or buyer has not been advised by the Office of Price Administration of its disapproval of the proposed maximum price, such proposed price may be considered as authorized. In the event of any modification of an unauthorized price, refund shall be made accordingly. The Office of Price Administration may at any time, by order, disapprove and modify any maximum price established under this section 12.

SEC. 13. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment to any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.*

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FOR TABLE USE, SALES EXCEPT AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In section 15, Appendix G is amended in the following respects:

1. The title of Appendix G is amended to read as follows: "Appendix G—Maximum Prices for Apples of the 1943 Crop."[2]

2. In the tables in paragraph (b) (1), (2) and (4), and (d) (1) and (e), item 4 in the column "Month" in each case, is amended to read as follows: "April and after."

3. Paragraph (b) (5) is amended by adding an undesignated paragraph to read as follows:

If the seller desires he may sell by variety and size on the basis of the average minimum net weight per box of each variety and size. Sales may be made on the basis of such average minimum net weight only if prior to the sales the seller furnishes the auction company with a manifest on which shall appear, for each variety and size of apples being sold, the number of boxes and the average minimum net weight per box.

4. In paragraph (e) footnote 2 to the table is amended to read as follows:

[2] The maximum prices stated above shall not apply where community prices are established by district or regional offices of the Office of Price Administration for apples sold at retail.

5. A new paragraph (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Determination of minimum net weight in certain cases. The "minimum net weight" of apples in standard northwest apple boxes is the gross weight of the box and contents minus the appropriate tare for the particular type of boxing, from the table below:

Type of boxing	Tare—Pounds
Box without lid and without cleats, containing loose apples with no paper wrap or other material	7
Box with either lid or cleats, but not both, containing loose apples with no paper wraps or other material	7½
Box with lid and paper wraps and liner, containing wrapped and packed apples which have been weighed and marked at time of packing in 1943	7½
Box with lid and paper wraps and liner, containing wrapped packed apples which are weighed and marked at the time of shipment by country shipper in 1944	8

CERTAIN WET CORN MILLING PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 6.41 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 6.41 Certain wet corn milling products—(a) Maximum prices. The maximum price which any seller may charge any class of purchaser for corn starch and dextrine products in bulk, corn syrup unmixed in bulk, corn syrup solids in bulk, and for crude corn sugar in bulk shall be:

(1) For corn starch and dextrine products in bulk, the sum of:

(i) His maximum price per hundredweight to the same class of purchasers established by the General Maximum Price Regulation for the same type, condition, brand (if any), and container type and size; and

(ii) $0.62 per hundred-weight in the case of any type or grade of corn starch or dextrine product in bulk with an average March 1942 moisture content between and including 11½ percent and 14 percent. In the case of any type or grade of corn starch or dextrine product in bulk which had a March 1942 moisture content below 11½ percent or above 14 percent the maximum shall be computed by adjusting the figure $0.62 on the basis of dry starch of 11½ percent moisture content. In the case of products not wholly corn starch or dextrine the figure $0.62 shall be adjusted by multiplying it by the percentage (by weight) of the corn starch or dextrine contained therein, also on the basis of dry starch of 11½ percent moisture content.

(2) For bulk corn syrup unmixed the sum of:

(i) His maximum price per hundredweight to the same class of purchasers established by the General Maximum Price Regulation for the same type, condition, brand (if any), and container type and size; and

(ii) $0.30 per hundred-weight; Provided, however, That for sales in barrels or half-barrels the resulting figure may be further increased by

(a) $0.24 per hundred-weight for sales in barrels.

(b) $0.29 per hundred-weight for sales in half-barrels.

(3) For corn syrup solids in bulk, and for crude corn sugar in bulk, the sum of;

(i) His maximum price per hundredweight to the same class of purchasers established by the General Maximum Price Regulation for the same type, condition, brand (if any), and container type and size; and

(ii) $0.30 per hundred-weight.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the term:

(1) "Corn starch and dextrine" means the carbohydrates extracted from corn grain by the wet milling process commercially dry, in suspended form, thin boiling, thick boiling, oxidized, rolled or roasted, but does not include products commercially known as refinery products.

(2) "Corn syrup unmixed" means all commodities manufactured by the wet corn milling process commercially known as refinery products except crude corn sugar, hydrol or corn molasses, corn syrup solids, and fully refined sugar.

(3) "Corn syrup solids" means all types and grades of dehydrated commodities manufactured by the wet corn milling process and commercially known as refinery products having a dextrose equivalent of 65 percent or less.

(4) "Crude corn sugar" means those commodities manufactured by the wet corn milling process and commercially known as refinery products having an average dextrose content between and including 70 percent to 80 percent; 70 sugar and 80 sugar when used in reference to crude corn sugar refer to minimum average dextrose content.

(5) "Bulk" or "in bulk" means in tank cars, tank wagons, barrels, half-barrels, steel drums, in bags, in bulk in cars, or in other containers of more than 10 pounds net weight, except that when sales of corn starch and dextrine are made to any government purchasing agency, "bulk" or "in bulk" means in tank cars, tank wagons, barrels, half-

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Amendment No. 14 to Order No. A-2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel.

An opinion accompanying this Amendment No. 14 to Order No. A-2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Order No. A-2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is amended in the following respect:

1. A new paragraph (a) (15) is added as follows:

(15) Washboards. (i) In order to remove price impediments to the supply of washboards for civilian use in cases where the loss of the seller's output would raise the average level of washboard prices to the trade, this adjustment provision permits the granting of relief to manufacturers and jobbers of these washboards. An adjustment may be granted if:

(b) The manufacturer's entire operation is being conducted at an over-all loss, or will be so within 30 days.

(c) The established maximum price does not permit the manufacturer to recover his total unit costs for the washboard.

(ii) A manufacturer's maximum price for washboards adjusted under authority of this subparagraph will not exceed either of the following:

(a) A price equal to the manufacturer's total unit cost to make and sell the washboard; or

(b) A price equal to the prevailing market level of maximum prices of similar washboards manufactured by competive firms.

(iii) Any order granting an adjustment under this subparagraph may also adjust the maximum prices for sales of these washboards by jobbers. Such adjustments will be made only if it is found that jobbers would not otherwise receive their normal peacetime dollar margins; and the adjustments will in no event exceed the dollar amount of the manufacturer's adjustment.

This Amendment No. 14 shall become effective on the 1st day of June, 1944.

FELT BASE FLOOR COVERING

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Amendment No. 15 to Order No. A-2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel.

An opinion accompanying this Amendment No. 15 to Order No. A-2 under §1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Order No. A-2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new paragraph (a) (14) is added to read as follows:

(14) Felt base floor coverings. (i) The purpose of this adjustment provision is to remove price impediments to the continued supply of felt base floor coverings by manufacturers, under the conditions stated below, in cases where the cost of living will not be affected, and where the supply would otherwise be lost. And adjustment may be made if it is found that:

(a) The manufacturer's maximum prices for his felt base floor coverings are below the prevailing level of maximum prices for other manufacturers of the same or substantially the same articles; and

(c) His entire operation is being conducted at an overall loss, or will be so within thirty days.

(ii) A manufacturer's maximum prices for felt base floor coverings may be adjusted under authority of this subparagraph in amounts sufficient to permit the manufacturer to make and sell felt base floor coverings without loss, but in no event shall the adjusted maximum price on any one item exceed the prevailing market level of maximum prices of similar felt base floor coverings manufactured by competitive firms.

(iii) Any order granting an adjustment under this subparagraph may also adjust the maximum prices for sales of these felt base floor coverings by jobbers. Such adjustments will be made only if it is found that jobbers would not otherwise receive their normal peace time dollar margins; and the adjustments will in no event exceed the dollar amount of the manufacturer's adjustment.

AUTHORIZATION TO ACCEPT CLASS R COUPONS

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Deputy Administrator In Charge of Rationing by § 1394.8153 (b) (4) (iv) of Ration Order No. 5C, as amended, the following order is prescribed:

(a) Findings. Under the laws of the State of Oklahoma, tax exempt gasoline for nonhighway purposes may be sold by licensed distributors and the retail facilities operated by such distributors for which duplicated licenses have been issued, and such transfers must be made in quantities of fifty gallons or more. Purchasers of tax exempt gasoline are required to make application to the State Tax Commission, file a signature card and are then issued a tax exempt permit number. Purchase permits expire on the 31st day of December each year; distributors' licenses remain in force until surrendered, suspended or cancelled. Licenses are revocable for a violation of any provision of the statute.

Tax exempt gasoline may be sold to farmers for agricultural purposes, aircraft and aircraft schools financed by the Federal Government or State and Federal Governments for training of enlisted army men, industrial establishments for cleaning and dyeing purposes or for manufacturing paints and rubber goods (all other industrial users are subject to tax), State Boards of Public Welfare in the distribution of commodities donated to the State by the United States or any Bureau or Commission thereof for relief among needy citizens, and district school busses whether owned, leased or hired and used solely for the transportation of children to and from school. All farm equipment and public welfare trucks used for the above purposes must be registered with the Tax Commission.

At the time of a bulk sale the seller is required to execute a delivery invoice giving the date of sale or delivery, name, location and license number of the seller, the quantity sold or delivered, price per gallon and total sale price, name of buyer and whether the tax is to be paid by seller or purchaser. If the bulk sale is tax exempt the seller must execute a tax exemption invoice in triplicate which is signed by both seller and purchaser and stipulates the number of gallons purchased, the purpose for which the fuel is to be used, date and place of purchase, name and license number of seller, name, address and exemption permit number of purchaser and place of delivery. Copies of this invoice are retained by the buyer and the seller, and the original is transmitted to the Tax Commission in lieu of taxes. Tax exemption invoices are serially numbered in book form and each invoice must be accounted for. Both seller and buyer must retain copies of these invoices for a period of three years.

Approximately 2300 distributors' licenses or duplicates thereof have been issued. Of this number 800 to 1000 represent refineries or bulk operators who are not required to apply for authorization to accept "R" coupons. Therefore, only about 1300 additional operators would be authorized to accept "R" coupons under this order. Each of these bulk sellers is required to maintain records of all purchases, receipts and sales and retain copies of delivery and tax exemption invoices for a period of three years. Each outlet is required to file a monthly report with the State Tax Commission showing the daily retail sales and an itemized statement of bulk sales setting forth the amount of gasoline sold, delivery and tax exemption invoice numbers, and name and address of purchasers. Original tax exemption invoices must be attached in order to obtain credit for such tax exempt sales.

Industrial users of non-highway gasoline for purposes other than cleaning or dyeing or manufacturing paints and rubber goods are not tax exempt. Retail distributor outlets should not be authorized to accept "R" coupons from such users since verification of the proper use of "R" coupons cannot be made. No problem is created by this decision as a very large percentage of such gasoline is delivered in tank wagons or purchased at bulk plants not subject to the prohibition against the acceptance of "R" coupons. In the small number of cases where tank delivery facilities are not available, "E" coupons may be made available. The order, therefore, should be limited to the acceptance of "R" coupons for the transfer of tax exempt gasoline only.

In substance the laws of the State of Oklahoma carefully safeguard the sale of tax exempt gasoline and contain strict standards in order to assure that such transfers will be made for non-highway purposes. The issuance of tax exemption invoices and the keeping of full records together with the right to inspect such records will enable the investigators of the Office of Price Administration to determine whether or not prohibited transfers are being made. Hence, it appears that authority may be extended to licensed distributors and retailers to whom duplicate licenses have been issued, located in the State of Oklahoma, to make tax exempt transfers of gasoline in exchange for Class "R" coupons to duly licensed purchasers without facilitating the unlawful acquisition of Class "R" coupons.

(b) Order. It is hereby ordered that licensed distributors in the State of Oklahoma who are permitted by that State to make tax exempt sales of gasoline are authorized to accept Class R coupons at their retail facilities for which duplicate licenses have been secured for such tax exempt sales where these sales are made in quantities of 50 gallons or more, for non-highway use, and are made as tax exempt sales in compliance with the laws of the State of Oklahoma; Provided, That such distributors and their retail facilities maintain records of such sales, at the place of business where such transfers of gasoline are made, in accordance with the laws and regulations of the State of Oklahoma and permit employees of the Office of Price Administration to inspect such records during business hours.

(c) Definitions. The definition of terms and rules of construction contained in § 1394.7551 of Ration Order 5C shall apply to the order.

(d) Effective period. This order shall become effective June 1, 1944, and shall remain in effect until modified or revoked.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421, and 507, 77th Cong.; W.P.B. Dir. No. 1, Supp. Dir. No. 1Q, 7 F.R. 562, 9121, E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719)

Issued this 31st day of May 1944.

[Preference Rating Order P–142, Direction 8]

ADVANCE AUTHORIZATION FOR SPECIAL ITEMS OF CAR MATERIALS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Preference Rating Order P–142:

(a) This direction permits railroad operators to place advance orders for the following items of car materials listed in paragraph (b) (2) of Order P–142:

Air Brakes—AB	Code No. CA
Hand Brakes—Power	Code No. CB
Brake Beams	Code No. CH
Couplers and Coupler Bodies	Code No. MA
Bolster Springs—Car	Code No. MC

subject to the following conditions:

(1) Advance orders for items under this direction may be placed for delivery during each of the three calendar quarters following the quarter in which the order is placed. Thus during the second quarter of 1944, advance orders may be placed for delivery in the third and fourth quarters of 1944 and the first quarter of 1945.

(2) The operator may order for delivery in each advance quarter up to 75% of the amount of each of the above items authorized for him under Order P–142 for the first quarter of 1944. With the exception of power hand brakes (Code CB), he may use the same preference ratings, to the same extent, as were authorized for the particular item for the first quarter of 1944. For power hand brakes, he may use only a rating of AA–3 for advance quarters, regardless of the ratings authorized for that item in the first quarter of 1944.

For example, if an operator was authorized in the first quarter of 1944 to buy 100 AB Air Brakes with AA–1 rating and 200 with AA–3 rating, he may, under this direction, place orders for each advance quarter for not more than 75 with AA–1 rating and 150 with AA–3 rating. Also, if he was authorized in the first quarter of 1944 to buy 10 power hand brakes with AA–1 rating and 50 with AA–3 rating, he may, under this direction, place advance orders each quarter for 45, all with AA–3 rating.

(b) Each operator must continue to apply each quarter on Form WPB–2585 for firm authorizations in accordance with paragraph (k) (3) of Order P–142. To the extent that the firm authorization on that form differs from the advance authorization for any item under this direction, orders must be cut back, or new orders may be placed, accordingly.

(c) This direction applies only to railroad operators under Order P–142 (serial numbers below 1000), and not to transit or other operators.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Limitation Order L–336]

PAPER CUPS AND PAPER FOOD CONTAINERS

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of paper cups and paper food containers and the material used in their manufacture, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Definitions

§ 3270.61 Limitation Order L–336—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Paper cups and paper food containers" means all empty open nested paper cups and round nested paper food containers with or without lids. The term does not include flat envelope types of cup, wedge-shaped food pails or nested paper plates.

(2) "In-plant feeding" means the serving of food, drink or refreshments on the premises of a plant, business activity, governmental agency or institution to its employees when the food or drink is prepared on the premises of the plant, business activity, governmental agency or institution or when the food, or drink prepared in bulk (such as coffee or soup), is brought to the plant, business activity, governmental agency or institution and served in paper cups or paper food containers on the premises. It shall also include the serving of food, drink and refreshments by (i) military exchanges and service departments, (ii) hospitals serving their patients, (iii) service welfare organizations such as USO, Red Cross, etc., (iv) persons engaged in serving passengers in trains and in planes, and (v) educational institutions in serving their students. In-plant feeding includes the serving of food, drink and refreshments between meals as well as at meal-time. For instance, the use of paper cups for drinking water is included within the meaning of the term.

(3) "A caterer or concessionaire" means a person who has an agreement with an operator of a plant, business activity, governmental agency or institution to regularly provide in-plant feeding for its employees, and who prepares his food or drink on the premises of the plant, or brings his food, or drink prepared in bulk (such as coffee or soup), to the plant and serves it on the premises. It does not include persons supplying drink or refreshments in paper cups or paper food containers from outside the plant.

(4) "Hot drink cup" means any unwaxed tall cup, double-wrapped, or single-wrapped of comparable weight, which is suitable for dispensing hot liquids.

(5) "Cold drink cup" means any one or two-piece waxed cup of six-ounce size or larger.

(6) "Military exchanges and service departments" means U. S. Army and Marine Corps Post Exchanges; U. S. Navy and Coast Guard Ship's Service Departments; War Shipping Administration Training Organization Ship's Service activities.

General Restrictions

(b) Prohibited uses. No person shall sell or deliver the following types of paper cups if he knows or has reason to believe that they will be used for the purposes stated, and no person shall commercially use such paper cups for those purposes: (1) packages of cups for retail sales, (2) hot drink cups for any purpose other than in-plant feeding, (3) hot drink cups for serving cold foods or beverages, (4) paper cups to be served with individual bottled beverages in paper or glass containers (except for in-train feeding) and (5) portion control cups for party favors, or in any other form, for sale through retail stores.

(c) Quantity limitation of hot drink cups. No person shall commercially use more hot drink cups in any month than 80% of his average monthly consumption during the months of January through March 1944. This provision does not apply to the Army, Navy, military exchanges or service departments. However, the War Production Board may authorize a quota to a person who does not have one or an increase in quota, where there has been an increase in the number of production workers, installation of new in-plant feeding facilities, or where such action appears justified from the facts presented. Application for authorization of a quota to a person who does not have one or an increase in quota may be made by letter to the appropriate field office of the War Production Board.

(d) Inventory. No user shall accept delivery of any paper cups and paper food containers which will increase his inventory of any size and type to more than his reasonably anticipated requirements for the ensuing thirty days, except that the minimum standard commercial packing case quantity may be purchased whenever the purchaser's inventory is less than a thirty days' supply.

Restriction on Manufacturers

(e) Maintenance of production of hot drink cups and flat bottom cold drink cups. To meet the requirements of the armed forces and in-plant feeding operations, manufacturers of hot drink cups and flat bottom cold drink cups shall maintain a rate of monthly production of these items equivalent to the highest monthly production attained during 1943 and the first quarter of 1944 to the extent permitted by Paragraph (f) and subject to contingencies beyond his control.

(f) Restriction on tonnage of paper stock to be processed. No person shall accept more paper stock for the manufacture of paper cups and paper food containers in the second and third quarters of 1944 than the sum of the amounts determined to be his quota for those two quarters. A person's quota for the second quarter of 1944 is 100% of the amount that he used for the manufacture of paper cups and paper food containers in the fourth quarter of 1943. His quota for the third quarter of 1944 will be determined after the amount of pulp to be allocated to the entire industry for that period has been determined. Any person who accepts delivery of more than his quota of paper stock for the second quarter must deduct the excess from his quota for the third quarter.

Restrictions on Distribution

(g) Distribution of production between military and civilian requirements. Regardless of preference ratings, each manufacturer of paper cups must set aside the following percentage of his production of paper cups in each month beginning with July 1944, for delivery to the Army and the Navy on orders received from them before the 15th of the preceding month:

17% of his monthly production of 6 to 9 oz. hot drink cups.

If he has not received orders from the Army or Navy by the 15th of the preceding month for the full amount of the set-aside, he may release any surplus for delivery on orders as specified below. He shall make up his set-aside of flat bottom cold drink cups within each of the two size groupings specified above from sizes in accordance with orders placed by the Army and Navy. Set-asides under this paragraph shall be computed on the basis of the number of cups.

Use of Preference Ratings

(h) Assignment of ratings. Any person may use the blanket MRO rating assigned to him by any regulation of the War Production Board (including CMP Regulation No. 5, CMP Regulation No. 5A and orders in the P or U series to buy paper cups and paper food containers for in-plant feeding, subject to the restrictions contained in this order.

(i) Use of rating by caterer. A caterer or concessionaire may use his customer's blanket MRO rating to buy paper cups and paper food containers for use in providing in-plant feeding to employees of the customer.

(j) Ratings on application. Preference ratings for users not included above and preference ratings differing from those assigned may be assigned on application by any person on Form WPB–541 (formerly PD–1A). The assignment of a rating to an applicant on this form will permit him to use that rating to get only the specific quantities and items authorized. This application shall be filed with the appropriate field office, and shall be given consideration on the basis of the requirements for extreme emergencies in in-plant feeding operations, disaster and blood donor feeding by the Red Cross or operating supplies for industrial plants.

(k) Application and extension of ratings. The ratings assigned pursuant to or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3. Ratings applied or extended to get paper cups or paper food containers may not be extended to obtain materials for use in their manufacture.

(l) Equipment for use of chinaware. No person may use his blanket MRO rating to purchase paper cups or paper food containers for the serving of hot food or beverages if such person is equipped to use chinaware or other containers. In the event that such equipment can only serve a portion of his needs, he may use his MRO rating to order only the quantity of paper cups or paper food containers required in excess of such equipment.

(m) Paper cups for packaging purposes. Attention is called to the fact that persons buying paper cups and paper food containers for use in packaging food or other products for shipment or delivery are not permitted to use blanket MRO ratings for this purpose. Persons engaged in in-plant feeding operations also may not use their blanket MRO ratings to buy paper cups and paper food containers which are to be sent to a food packer to be filled and returned to the plant for in-plant feeding.

Miscellaneous

(n) Appeals. Appeals from Order L–336 shall be filed by addressing a letter to the appropriate field office of the War Production Board.

The letter of appeal need not follow any particular form. It should state informally, but completely, the particular provisions appealed from, the precise relief desired, the reasons why denial of the appeal would result in undue and excessive hardship, and such other statistical and narrative information as may be pertinent.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

MISCELLANEOUS CHEMICALS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of the chemicals subject to this order for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.491 Allocation Order M–340—(a) Definitions. (1) "Subject chemical" means any chemical listed in Appendix A, as therein defined.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any subject chemical and includes a person who imports any subject chemical or has it produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who buys any subject chemical for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall deliver a subject chemical to any person except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board. No person shall accept delivery of a subject chemical which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorization or directions as to deliveries to be made by suppliers in each calendar month will generally be issued by War Production Board prior to the beginning of such month, but may be issued at any time. They will normally be issued on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) which is to be filed by the supplier with War Production Board as explained in paragraph (g) below.

(3) If a supplier is authorized or directed by War Production Board to deliver a subject chemical to any specific customer or group of customers, but is unable to make the delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation or otherwise, the subject chemical shall revert to inventory, and shall not be delivered, or used, without further instructions.

(c) Exceptions for small deliveries. (1) Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery by any supplier to any person in any calendar month of a subject chemical in a quantity not exceeding the quantity stated in Column 3 of Appendix B.

(2) The aggregate quantity of a subject chemical which any supplier may deliver in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), shall not exceed:

(i) The quantity which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix D, to deliver on small orders; or

(ii) If he is a distributor, the quantity which he acquired upon certification that it was required to fill small orders or the quantity which he acquired himself on such a small order, or

(iii) If he is a distributor who customarily delivers exclusively on small orders, any quantity.

(d) Exceptions for deliveries for other reasons. Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery of a subject chemical by any supplier to any other person for a purpose stated in Column 4 of Appendix B.

(e) Restrictions on use. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall use a subject chemical except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(2) Each person who with an order for a subject chemical furnishes a certificate required by paragraph (f) shall use the subject chemical delivered on such order only as specified on such certificate except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(3) War Production Board may from time to time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of a subject chemical to be delivered to, or then in inventory of the prospective user.

(f) Supplier to obtain from customer a certificate of use. No supplier shall in any calendar month (beginning in the case of each subject chemical with the calendar month in which the order becomes effective as to that chemical as stated in Appendix A) deliver to any person a greater quantity of such subject chemical than is stated in Column 3 of Appendix B unless he shall have received from such person a certificate as to the use for which such person is ordering such subject chemical. Such certificate shall be substantially in the form and shall be subject to the instructions stated in Appendix C and shall be in the hands of the supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is to be made. It need not be filed with War Production Board. A supplier must not deliver a subject chemical where he knows or has reason to believe the purchaser's certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe he may rely on the certificate.

(g) Applications by suppliers for leave to deliver or use. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of, or to use, a subject chemical during any calendar month shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. The application should be made on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix D. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(2) War Production Board may issue to any supplier other and further directions with respect to preparing and filing Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602).

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–340,.

SECTION 1. Scope of this regulation—(a) Products covered. This regulation applies to fabricated concrete reinforcing bars, mill lengths and random stock lengths.

(1) "Fabricated concrete reinforcing bars" means any concrete reinforcing bars which are cut to specified lengths, or are bent to a specific radius, or are specifically bent or cut in a manner customarily performed by fabricators. It also includes mill lengths and random stock lengths.

(2) "Mill lengths" means concrete reinforcing bars in the lengths originally delivered to the fabricator.

(3) "Random stock lengths" means concrete reinforcing bars in other than mill lengths which are sold from a fabricator's inventory without cutting or bending.

(4) "Concrete reinforcing bars" means any or all plain or deformed steel bars, customarily used in concrete construction and whether square or round, of the following areas and diameters:

Area (in square inches):	Diameter (in inches)

and also means any or all plain round steel rods or wire, customarily used in concrete construction, of the following areas and diameters:

.20	½

(b) Persons covered. This regulation applies only to fabricators and resellers selling fabricated concrete reinforcing bars and persons purchasing fabricated concrete reinforcing bars from fabricators or resellers. The following definitions apply:

(1) "Fabricator" means a person in the business of selling fabricated concrete reinforcing bars who (i) maintains a warehouse stock of such materials, (ii) operates a plant or plants equipped with adequate machinery for the cutting and bending of concrete reinforcing bars, and (iii) supplies engineering service.

(2) "Reseller" means a person who sells fabricated concrete reinforcing bars fabricated by and purchased from others.

(3) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representatives of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(c) Transactions covered. This regulation applies to all sales and deliveries of fabricated concrete reinforcing bars for delivery within the 48 states or the District of Columbia except those transactions enumerated in paragraph (d) of this section 1.

(d) Transactions not covered. This regulation does not apply to the following transactions except as provided in the regulation noted:

(1) Installed sales. Where fabricated concrete reinforcing bars are sold on an installed basis, the maximum prices therefor are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.[2]

(2) Export sales including sales for the account of Lend-Lease. An "export" or an "export sale" is defined in the Second Revised Maximum Export Regulation[3] and the definition therein includes sales to Government agencies for the account of Lend-Lease. The Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation applies to all such sales.

(3) Sales of unfabricated concrete reinforcing bars by a "producer" as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 6. Where unfabricated concrete reinforcing bars are sold by a "producer" as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 6, the maximum prices therefor are not established by this regulation, but are established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6. "Unfabricated concrete reinforcing bars" are concrete reinforcing bars sold by a producer in lengths and quantities customarily considered to be mill or stock lengths by the same producer on April 16, 1941, or prior thereto.

(4) Sales of straight concrete reinforcing bars by a "seller" as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 49 who is not also a "fabricator" as defined in this regulation. Where a seller, as defined in Revised Price Schedule No. 49, operates a warehouse at which he does not qualify as a fabricator, the maximum prices for straight concrete reinforcing bars delivered from such warehouse are determined by Revised Price Schedule No. 49. Where a seller operates a warehouse at which he qualifies as a fabricator, the maximum prices for all concrete reinforcing bars delivered from such warehouse are determined by this regulation.

SEC. 2. Prohibition against dealing in fabricated concrete reinforcing bars sold or offered for sale at prices above the maximum. Regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell or deliver fabricated concrete reinforcing bars at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A of this regulation.

(b) No person shall buy or receive, in the course of trade or business, fabricated concrete reinforcing bars at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A of this regulation.

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 3. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 4. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by an official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 5. Taxes. As to any tax upon, or incidental to, sales or deliveries of fabricated concrete reinforcing bars imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, if the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller under this regulation may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of the tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

SEC. 6. Evasive practices. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to fabricated concrete reinforcing bars alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by mixing fabricated concrete reinforcing bars in an order for mill or random stock lengths, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 7. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation shall be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 8. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale of any commodity for the sale of which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 9. Records and reports. (a) Every person making a purchase or sale of fabricated concrete reinforcing bars under this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years, or as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall be in effect, whichever period is shorter, complete and accurate records of every such purchase or sale (including but not limited to copies of invoices, statements of refunds and copies of calculations required under paragraphs (a) (11) and (c) (7) of Appendix A).

(b) Persons affected by this regulation shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

SEC. 10. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[5]

(ii) Where delivery of the concrete reinforcing bars is made to the fabricator within the limits of the switching district of a basing point, there may be added the applicable switching charge under Revised Price Schedule No. 6 for an identical quantity: Provided, That such switching charge may not exceed $0.025 per hundred pounds for a sale in carload quantities of twenty-five tons or more, or $0.10 per hundred pounds for a sale in less than carload quantities, except that for deliveries of thirty tons or more within the limits of the switching district of Chicago, Illinois, such charge may not exceed $0.03 per hundred pounds; and that in no instance need the switching charge provided for in this subparagraph fall below $2.00 for any single sale.

(2) Outgoing freight. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (c), there may also be added the lowest applicable railroad charge for the transportation of an identical quantity of fabricated concrete reinforcing bars from the plant of the fabricator to the point of delivery to the consumer: Provided, That where such delivery is made in whole or in part by truck, $0.10 per hundred pounds may also be added.

(3) Fabrication in transit. Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (c), if the privilege of fabrication in transit at the plant of the fabricator is available between the point of origin of the concrete reinforcing bars and the point of delivery to the consumer, and yields a charge lower than the total charge calculated pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) for the transportation of an identical quantity

(4) Michigan and Toledo. (i) No additions for rail freight transportation charges may be made on less than carload quantities for delivery within the switching limits of the City of Detroit, Michigan. (ii) No additions for rail freight transportation charges may be made on carload quantities for delivery within the switching limits of the City of Toledo, Ohio, or the City of Detroit, Michigan. (iii) On less than carload quantities for delivery in the State of Michigan other than the switching limits of the City of Detroit, there may be added: (a) where the lowest applicable railroad charge at the carload rate from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to the point of delivery to the consumer is 32 cents or less per hundred pounds, 15 cents per hundred pounds plus the difference between the lowest applicable railroad charge for the transportation of an identical quantity from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to the point of delivery to the consumer and the lowest railroad charge at the carload rate; or (b) where the lowest applicable railroad charge at the carload rate from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to the point of delivery to the consumer is more than 32 cents per hundred pounds, the lowest applicable railroad charge for the transportation of an identical quantity from the applicable basing point to the point of delivery to the consumer. (iv) On carload quantities for delivery in the State of Michigan other than the switching limits of the City of Detroit there may be added: (a) where the lowest applicable railroad charge at the carload rate from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to the point of delivery to the consumer is 32 cents or less per hundred pounds, 15 cents per hundred pounds; or (b) where the lowest applicable railroad charge at the carload rate from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to the point of delivery to the consumer is more than 32 cents per hundred pounds: the lowest applicable railroad charge for the transportation of an identical quantity from the applicable basing point to the point of delivery to the consumer.. (v) In case delivery is made in whole or in part by truck to any point in the State of Michigan or in the City of Toledo, Ohio, $0.10 per hundred pounds may also be added.

(5) Direct shipments. Where a shipment is made directly from the mill to the consumer, irrespective of whether the bars are fabricated or not, the maximum charge which may be added for transportation is the lowest applicable railroad charge for the transportation of an identical quantity from the applicable basing point to the consumer: Provided, That where such delivery is made in whole or in part by truck, $0.10 per hundred pounds may also be added. This subparagraph (5) does not apply to sales for delivery within the State of Michigan and within the switching limits of the City of Toledo, Ohio.

(6) Welded stirrups. In the case of welded stirrups the only transportation charges which may be added are: (i) the lowest applicable railroad charge for the transportation of an identical quantity of welded stirrups from Pittsburgh, Pa., Birmingham, Ala., or Chicago, Ill., whichever is most favorable to the purchaser; and (ii) $0.10 per hundred pounds when delivery is made in whole or in part by truck.

(7) Segregation. In computing the rail freight charges pursuant to this paragraph (c), the specific concrete reinforcing bars or fabricated concrete reinforcing bars purchased and sold need not be segregated or otherwise identified by the fabricator: Provided, That during any calendar year after January 1, 1943, should the difference between the total amounts invoiced by a fabricator for freight charges on sales from any plant, office or point of shipment, and the total amounts for freight charges actually incurred by the fabricator at the same plant, office or point of shipment result in an excess or a deficit to the fabricator at such plant, office or point of shipment, such excess shall be dissipated or such deficit may be retrieved by the fabricator by adjustment of freight charges on outgoing shipments from said plant, office or point of shipment on sales during the first three months following such year or, if there are no sales or sales are insufficient during said three months, as soon as sufficient sales are made. In the event a fabricator intends to liquidate his business at any plant, office or point of shipment such excess shall be dissipated immediately on freight charges to be invoiced on subsequent deliveries. In the event that a change in inventory has occurred at the end of any year, the fabricator may adjust any deficit and shall adjust any excess on the basis of the actual weight of reinforcing bars shipped by the fabricator during such year. For the purpose of determining the amount of the deficit to be retrieved or the amount of excess to be dissipated the amount of incoming freight shall be calculated using the weighted average of all incoming freight paid by the fabricator during the year in which the change in inventory occurred. In computing rail freight charges for the purposes of this paragraph no dissipation is required of an excess occasioned for shipments to a purchaser in less than carload quantities where the concrete reinforcing bars were received at the plant of the fabricator in carload quantities and the fabricator subsequently invoiced his purchaser on a less than carload basis for the incoming shipment. Furthermore, in computing the amount of rail freight charges pursuant to this paragraph the fabricator shall adjust for amount due from carriers under shipments on the basis of a fabrication in transit privilege.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective June 6, 1944.

SILVER

Maximum Price Regulation No. 198 is redesignated as Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 198, and is revised and amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to revise and combine existing regulations and orders relating to silver and to establish maximum prices for silver bullion, semifabricated articles and scrap in a single regulation.

The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

The Administrator has given due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and to relevant factors of general applicability, and so far as practicable has consulted with representatives of the industries affected. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Such specifications and standards as are used in this Regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

SECTION 1. Commodities covered by this regulation. (a) This regulation establishes maximum prices for:

(1) Standard commercial bars and all other forms of silver bullion, whether foreign, domestic or Treasury;

(2) Semifabricated articles;

(3) Silver scrap; and

(4) The processing of silver and silver scrap.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Silver bullion" means silver which has been melted, smelted or refined and which is in such state or condition that its value depends primarily upon the silver content and not upon its form.

(2) "Standard commercial bars" means silver bullion in the form of bars weighing approximately 1,000 troy ounces, .999 fine.

(3) "Semifabricated article" means silver which has been melted, smelted or refined, and further processed or combined with other materials by alloying, machining, rolling, drawing, turning, blanking, slitting, cutting, spinning, remelting, recasting or other similar process, or by being subjected to special refining processes, but which is not suitable for ultimate use without further processing or combination with other materials. The term includes, but is not restricted to, silver alloys, grain, shot, crystals, powder, wire, sheet, blanks, circles, solders, brazing alloys, sintered products, silver-clad metals, silver inlays, and bar silver in weights or degrees of fineness different from the weight or fineness of standard commercial bars. The term also includes sheet, wire and tubing of rolled gold plate or gold filled stock consisting of fine or carat gold on a silver alloy base. It also includes silver scrap produced by suppliers in semifabricating operations and sold by such suppliers as silver casting metal. The term does not include standard commercial bars or any article, other than those specifically referred to herein, which is suitable for ultimate use without further processing or combination with other materials. The term semifabricated article, however, includes any silver bullion in a form other than standard commercial bars and such silver bullion shall be priced in accordance with the provisions of this regulation for the pricing of semifabricated articles containing silver.

(4) "Silver scrap" means materials containing silver, whether in metallic form or not, which are the waste or by-product of metal working of any kind, or of any use of silver in industry or the arts; it also includes all articles containing silver which have been discarded from their original use because of obsolescence, failure, or other reasons. It is, however, limited to materials which derive their principal value from the silver contained therein; and it does not include articles which are still useful in their existing state for their original purpose if such articles are bought and sold for reuse in their existing state for their original purpose. Neither does it include scrap produced by suppliers in semifabricating operations and sold by such suppliers as silver casting metal.

(c) This regulation does not apply to:

(1) Any commodity which is listed in Appendix A or B of Maximum Price Regulation No. 136[1] [Machines and Parts and Machinery Services]; nor to any commodity listed in Appendix A of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188[2] [Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods Other Than Apparel]; nor to any commodity for which a maximum price is established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 171[3] [Film Scrap]; nor to any commodity for which a maximum price is established by any other price schedule or maximum price regulation, except the General Maximum Price Regulation;[4]

(2) Babbitt metal; silver salts; and lead-base, tin-base, and tin-lead-base solders containing 6 percent silver or less;

(3) Component parts and subassemblies of (i) aircraft, ammunition, armored trains, artillery, balloon barrage equipment, bombs, bomb-sights, caissons, fire control equipment, gas masks, grenades, gun sights, military bridges, mines, mortars, projectiles, pyrotechnics, small arms, ships and boats and torpedoes; and (ii) amphibians, armored vehicles, automobiles, tanks, trailers and trucks sold or delivered for military purposes to the United States or any agency thereof, or the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An act to Promote the Defense of the United States" or any agency of any such Government. The term "component parts and subassemblies" includes all metallic and nonmetallic component parts, adjuncts and accessories which have been machined or fabricated. The term does not include raw or unfinished materials or any other materials which are in such form as to permit their use in the manufacture of products other than those listed in this subparagraph.

SEC. 2. Transactions and persons to which this regulation applies. (a) This regulation applies to all sales and deliveries of the commodities covered except:

(1) Sales for export, which are covered by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[5];

(2) Sales of silver scrap to persons other than consumers;

(3) Sales by an owner of his used personal or household effects or other personal property used by him; and

(4) Sales of silver by the United States Treasury Department pursuant to an act approved July 12, 1943, entitled "An Act to Authorize The Use For War Purposes of Silver Held or Owned by the United States, (Pub. Law 137, 78th Cong.)." Such sales are likewise exempt from the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) This regulation applies to the importation of silver.

(c) This regulation applies to toll or service charges for the processing of scrap or other forms of silver.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices for standard commercial bars—(a) Definitions. (1) "Seller's most favorable basing point" means the basing point to which the cost of transportation from the point of shipment is lowest.

(2) "Point of shipment" means the point at which the silver is first loaded on a conveyance for shipment directly to the buyer, except that, in the case of imports, it means the port of entry, or the station of the common carrier nearest to the point on the international boundary at which the shipment first enters the Continental United States.

(b) Base prices. The maximum price for standard commercial bars, delivered, free of all charges, to the seller's most favorable basing point, shall be:

For foreign silver: 45 cents per troy ounce .999 fine.

For domestic silver: 71.111 cents per fine troy ounce.

(NOTE: For pricing purposes, Treasury silver is to be considered as domestic silver.)

(c) Basing points. The following basing points, or free delivery points, are established for standard commercial bars:

For foreign silver: New York, N. Y., San Francisco, Calif.
For domestic silver: New York, N. Y.; San Francisco, Calif.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Denver, Colo.

(d) Delivered price. If delivery is made to the buyer at any point other than the seller's most favorable basing point, the maximum delivered price shall be the applicable one of the prices set out in paragraph (b) of this section, plus the cost of transportation from the point of shipment to the destination, minus the cost of transportation from the point of shipment to the seller's most favorable basing point.

(e) Price f. o. b. point of shipment. Standard commercial bars may, of course, be sold f. o. b. point of shipment. The maximum price f. o. b. point of shipment is the maximum delivered price at the seller's most favorable basing point, minus the cost of transportation from the point of shipment to the seller's most favorable basing point.

(f) Distributor's differentials. A seller other than a refiner may sell or deliver standard commercial bars in lots of less than 200,000 ounces at the base prices set out in paragraph (b) above, plus the differentials established by this paragraph. Moreover such sales or deliveries, at the prices provided in this paragraph, may be f. o. b. the seller's shipping point rather than on the basis of the seller's most favorable basing point; and, if the seller makes delivery to the buyer's place of business, he may add an amount not in excess of express charges.

Quantity differentials for sellers other that refiners are as follows:

	Cents
100,000 ounces up to but not including 200,000 ounces	.25
25,000 ounces up to but not including 100,000 ounces	.375
10,000 ounces up to but not including 25,000 ounces	.50
5,000 ounces up to but not including 10,000 ounces	.75
2,000 ounces up to but not including 5,000 ounces	1.25
Under 2,000 ounces	2.00

In addition to these quantity differentials a seller other than a refiner may add .375¢ per fine troy ounce on sales of domestic silver.

	Cents
10,000 ounces up to but not including 25,000 ounces	.50
5,000 ounces up to but not including 10,000 ounces	.75
2,000 ounces up to but not including 5,000 ounces	1.25
Under 2,000 ounces	2.00

(h) Credit charges. A seller of standard commercial bars may add his customary charges for the extension of credit beyond 10 days from date of invoice. However, no charge may be added for credit of shorter duration.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices for semifabricated articles.

(NOTE: The provisions of this section are applicable to sales of silver bullion other than standard commercial bars. However, the maximum prices at which silver bullion (or semifabricated articles) other than standard commercial bars may be imported are to be determined under section 8 rather than under this section).

(a) Maximum prices. Maximum prices for semifabricated articles shall be determined by taking as a base the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942 for the same commodity containing foreign silver and adding to this base price 9.634 cents per fine troy ounce of foreign silver, or 36.125 cents per fine troy ounce of domestic silver contained in the article to be priced. (NOTE: For pricing purposes Treasury silver is to be considered as domestic silver.)

(b) Determination of base price.—The seller shall determine his base price by applying the first one of the following rules which is applicable: (In applying these rules, the seller must remember that an article he handled in March 1942 which has the same design and specifications as the article to be priced is "the same commodity", even though it was made of foreign silver while the article to be priced may be made of domestic silver. For the purpose of finding the base price, the change from foreign to domestic silver makes no difference.)

Rule 1. Take the highest price at which the seller delivered the same commodity to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942.

Rule 2. Take the highest price at which the seller offered the same commodity for delivery to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942.

Rule 3. Take the highest price at which the seller delivered the same commodity to a purchaser of a different class during March 1942, and adjust it to reflect his customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

Rule 4. Take the highest price at which the seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered the same commodity to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942.

(c) Additions to base price. To find the maximum price, take the base price, figured according to the rules in paragraph (b) of this section, and add 9.634 cents per fine troy ounce of foreign silver or 36.125 cents per fine troy ounce of domestic silver contained in the article sold.

(d) Terms of sale. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other differentials unless the change results in a lower price; and no seller shall require the purchaser to pay any greater proportion of the transportation cost than he required purchasers of the same class to pay in March 1942.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices for sales by manufacturers of semifabricated articles which cannot be priced under section 4—(a) Definitions. (1) "Comparable product" is a silver containing product which has an established maximum price, and which has a similar use and is made by a similar process and by the same manufacturer as the product being priced. If more than one product can be regarded as comparable, then the one whose current direct costs are nearest to the current direct costs of the product being priced shall be the comparable product. A product is not comparable with the product being priced if its current direct costs vary by more than 25% from the current direct costs of the product being priced. Neither is a product containing foreign silver to be considered as comparable with a product containing domestic or Treasury silver.

(2) "Direct costs" means the sum of direct labor costs and direct material costs. Direct labor costs shall in no event be figured on wage rates higher than those permitted by law, and direct material costs shall in no event be figured on prices higher than the maximum prices established by the applicable price schedule or maximum price regulation.

(b) Pricing method. A manufacturer shall determine his maximum price for a semifabricated article which cannot be priced under section 4 by using the following formula:

The maximum price of the comparable product divided by the current direct costs of the comparable product equals the markup factor, which multiplied by the current direct costs of the product to be priced yields the seller's maximum price.

(c) Terms of sale. All customary discounts, practices relating to the payment of transportation charges, and other trade practices in effect with respect to the sale of the comparable product shall apply to the maximum price determined under paragraph (b).

(d) Reports. Within 10 days after determining a maximum price for a product under paragraph (b), the manufacturer shall submit a report to the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch of the Office of Price Administration, containing a description of the product, a statement of the maximum price determined under paragraph (b), and a statement of how he figured such price. Maximum prices so reported shall thereafter be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) by order issued by the Administrator.

(e) Pricing method for products which cannot be priced under paragraph (b). The maximum price for a product which cannot be priced under paragraph (b) shall be a price, in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation, to be determined upon specific application to the Office of Price Administration. Prior to the sale of such product, the seller shall submit to the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch of the Office of Price Administration an application for establishment of a maximum price. Such application shall contain a description of the product to be priced, a statement as to why it cannot be priced under paragraph (b), a statement of the seller's proposed maximum price, detailed explanation of how he arrived at that price, and an explanation of the basis upon which such price is believed to be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation. The price submitted for approval shall be deemed to be approved unless the Office of Price Administration specifically disapproves such price and establishes an approved maximum price within 15 days from the date on which the application is received by the Office of Price Administration, or, if further information is requested from the seller within such 15 day period, then within 15 days from the date on which all such information is received. A price once approved shall thereafter be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) by order issued by the Administrator. A price once approved under this regulation or under regulations previously applicable to silver need not be reported again by the same person.

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for semifabricated articles which cannot be priced under section 4, when sold by a seller other than a manufacturer—(a) Pricing method. A seller, other than a manufacturer, shall determine his maximum price for a semifabricated article which cannot be priced under section 4, as follows:

(1) Select, from the same general classification and price range as the commodity being priced, the comparable commodity containing silver for which a maximum price is established under section 4 of this regulation, and of which the seller sold the largest number of units during March 1942;

(2) Divide this maximum price for that commodity by his replacement cost of that commodity; and

(3) Multiply the percentage so obtained by the cost to him of the commodity to be priced.

The resulting figure shall be the maximum price for the commodity.

(b) Terms of sale. All customary discounts, practices relating to the payment of transportation charges, and other trade practices in effect with respect to the sale of the comparable product shall apply to the maximum price determined under paragraph (a).

(c) Reports. Within 10 days after determining a maximum price for a commodity under paragraph (a), the seller shall submit a report to the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch of the Office of Price Administration containing a description of the commodity, a statement of the maximum price determined under paragraph (a), and a statement of how he figured such price. Maximum prices so reported shall thereafter be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) by order issued by the Administrator.

(d) Pricing method for commodities which cannot be priced under paragraph (a). If the seller cannot determine his maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section, he shall apply to the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch of the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price in accordance with the provisions of section 5 (e).

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for silver scrap. The maximum price for silver scrap shall be 44.75¢ per fine troy ounce of silver contained, delivered free of all charges to the buyer's receiving point.

For the purposes of this regulation there is no difference between scrap derived from foreign, domestic or Treasury silver. The maximum price for all silver scrap shall be 44.75¢ per fine troy ounce, except that scrap produced by suppliers in semifabricating operations and sold by such suppliers as silver casting metal may be priced as a semifabricated article containing domestic or Treasury silver if the seller complies with the provisions of this regulation governing the sale of semifabricated articles containing domestic or Treasury silver.

SEC. 8. Maximum prices at which silver may be imported—(a) Standard commercial bars. Silver in the form of standard commercial bars may not be imported at prices higher than those established in section 3.

(b) Semifabricated articles and silver bullion other than standard commercial bars. The maximum price at which semifabricated articles and silver bullion other than standard commercial bars may be imported shall be a price in line with the general level of maximum prices established by this regulation. This price will be established by the Office of Price Administration upon application by the importer to the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch of the Office of Price Administration. This application may be in the form of a letter which shall contain:

(1) The names and addresses of the importer, the party from whom he is purchasing, any agents involved in the transaction, and the point to which delivery is to be made;

(2) A description of the commodity for which a maximum price is sought, including the form and the degree of fineness; and

(3) The maximum price proposed by the applicant, together with any facts tending to show that the proposed price is in line with the general level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

Pending establishment of a maximum price, any person, otherwise authorized by law, may import, or offer or agree to import, semifabricated articles or silver bullion other than standard commercial bars, so long as the contract provides that the price shall not exceed the price to be approved by the Office of Price Administration. A price once approved under this regulation or under regulations previously applicable to silver need not be reported again by the same person.

(c) Silver scrap. Silver scrap may not be imported at a price higher than that established in section 7.

SEC. 9. How domestic, Treasury and foreign silver are distinguished—(a) Definitions. (1) "Domestic silver" means silver which the Director of the Mint, subject to any regulations which have been or may hereafter be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to section 4 (c) of the Act of July 6, 1939, is satisfied has been mined subsequent to July 1, 1939, from natural deposits in the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof.

(2) "Treasury silver" means silver sold by the United States Treasury Department pursuant to an Act approved July 12, 1943, entitled "An Act to Authorize the Use for War Purposes of Silver Held or Owned by the United States", (Pub. Law 137, 78th Cong.).

(3) "Foreign silver" is any silver other than domestic or Treasury silver, as defined above.

(b) Pricing of Treasury silver. Treasury silver is to be considered as domestic silver for pricing purposes.

(c) Fungibility of silver stocks recognized. Although this regulation deals with three kinds of silver (domestic, Treasury and foreign), it is recognized that all three kinds of silver are physically identical and no person is required to keep his stocks of silver physically separate as to kind in order to charge the higher prices authorized for domestic or Treasury silver or for semifabricated articles containing such silver. Sale at such higher prices is permitted, however, only when the seller complies with the provisions, where applicable, of sections 10 and 11.

SEC. 10. Requirements where a refiner sells silver as domestic silver—(a) Surrender of miner's affidavits. As a condition to his right to charge the higher price allowed for domestic silver, a refiner must prove that the silver which he sells is domestic silver by submitting, not later than the 25th day of the month following the month in which the sale is made, to the Director of the Mint, Washington, D. C., miners' affidavits executed on Treasury Department Forms TSA–2 and/or TSA–2A, pursuant to section 80.7 of the Newly-Mined Domestic Silver Regulations of July 6, 1939, sufficient to cover the quantity of silver sold; and must authorize and direct the Director of the Mint to cancel such affidavits.

(b) Invoice. The refiner must give an invoice to the buyer containing:

(1) The names and addresses of the buyer and seller;

(2) A description of the silver sold, including the degree of fineness and the quantity in troy ounces;

(3) The prices charged; and

(4) The following certification:

We certify that the silver covered by this invoice is domestic silver, and that miners' affidavits on Treasury Department Forms TSA–2 and/or TSA–2A, sufficient to cover this quantity of silver, have been forwarded to the Director of the Mint for verification and cancellation, or are in our possession and will be so forwarded within the time allowed by the Office of Price Administration.

The buyer must retain this invoice, and the seller must retain a copy for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(c) Corrections. If the proper affidavits are filed in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, and if the silver is invoiced and certified as required in paragraph (b), the character of the silver as domestic silver shall be deemed to be prima facie established. However, if within one year from the date on which affidavits applicable to the last sale under this regulation are received, the Director of the Mint notifies the refiner that the United States Coinage Mints are not satisfied that such silver (or part of it) was in fact eligible for deposit under the Act of July 6, 1939; then:

(1) The refiner must submit for cancellation additional affidavits sufficient to cover an equivalent amount of silver and transfer such amount of silver from its domestic silver account to its foreign silver account for sale only as foreign silver; or

(2) The price must be adjusted downward to the maximum price for foreign silver; the refiner must refund any payment in excess of that maximum price; and the buyer must accordingly adjust his records of the amount of domestic silver purchased by him.

SEC. 11. Requirements where a seller, other than a refiner selling domestic silver, sells silver as domestic or Treasury silver—(a) Explanation. A person who buys domestic or Treasury silver, and who resells silver bullion or manufactures and sells semifabricated articles, is permitted to pass on to the buyers of such commodities the higher cost of domestic or Treasury silver. In order to do this, however, the seller is required to keep an account of the domestic and the Treasury silver which he buys and sells; and he is permitted to deliver, or settle for, and to receive payment for bullion or semifabricated articles as being or containing domestic or Treasury silver only if the silver contained in the commodities thus sold is not in excess of the amount of domestic and Treasury silver which he has bought and has not sold or otherwise disposed of.

(b) Inventory of domestic and Treasury silver. (1) No seller (other than a refiner selling under section 10), shall sell bullion or semifrabricated articles as being or containing domestic or Treasury silver unless his inventory record shows that his purchases of domestic and Treasury silver have exceeded his sales or other disposals of such silver by an amount at least equal to the silver which he proposes to sell.

(2) This inventory record must be kept in terms of fine troy ounces of silver. Domestic or Treasury silver purchased in the form of standard commercial bars or in other forms of bullion or as semifabricated articles may be added to this inventory account; and such silver under firm contract of purchase for future delivery may be considered as purchased and may be added to this inventory account within 5 months of the contract delivery date, subject to later adjustment if not actually delivered within that time. No silver shall, however, be added to or considered a part of this inventory account unless invoiced and certified at the time of delivery as domestic or Treasury silver.

(3) The fine silver content of all bars, semifabricated articles and other commodities which the seller disposes of as being or containing domestic or Treasury silver must be subtracted from this inventory account. Thus, if a seller has sold an article subject to Maximum Price Regulation 188 at the price allowed by that regulation for certain articles containing domestic silver, he must, when the article is delivered, reduce his inventory account of domestic and Treasury silver by an amount equal to the fine silver content of the article sold. It is not necessary to make any deduction from this inventory account of domestic or Treasury silver by reason of scrap and processing losses. With these two exceptions, however, any loss or disposition of domestic or Treasury silver must be deducted from this inventory account.

(4) For purposes of determining current inventory of domestic and Treasury silver, bullion, semifabricated articles and other articles containing silver will be considered to have been "delivered" if they have been delivered to the buyer or loaded on any carrier, including a carrier owned and controlled by the seller, for delivery to the buyer. Where there is no physical delivery, settlement shall be considered as the equivalent of delivery. If bullion or semifabricated articles sold as being or containing domestic or Treasury silver are rejected or returned by the buyer, the seller may adjust his inventory account accordingly.

(5) Any person subject to this regulation may begin his inventory record with the closing inventory figure shown on the latest report filed with the Office of Price Administration on Form OPA 677:125A.

(c) Invoice and certificate. No seller (other than a refiner selling domestic silver) shall sell bullion or semifabricated articles as being or containing domestic or Treasury silver unless he gives to the buyer an invoice containing:

(1) The names and addresses of the buyer and the seller;

(2) A description of the articles sold, including the silver content in fine troy ounces;

(3) The prices charged; and

(4) The following certification:

We hereby certify that the articles listed in this invoice contain domestic (Treasury) silver as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 198.

The buyer must retain this invoice, and the seller must retain a copy thereof, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

SEC. 12. Toll or service charges—(a) Services covered. This regulation applies to charges made for the refining, casting or other processing of silver, silver scrap, or other material containing silver so as to produce silver bullion or semifabricated articles. This regulation does not apply, however, to any charge made for the milling, smelting or refining of copper, lead or zinc ores, concentrates, mattes, speiss, bullion, slimes or dore. Neither does it apply to any charge made for the processing of any other material unless the principal value of such material is derived from the silver contained therein.

(b) Maximum charges. The maximum charge or price for any service covered by this regulation shall be the first of the following which is applicable:

(1) The highest price which the same person charged for the same service during March 1942;

(2) The highest price which the same person quoted for the same service to be performed during March 1942; or

(3) A price to be determined upon specific application to the Office of Price Administration in accordance with the provisions of section 5 (e).

SEC. 13. Records and reports. (a) On sales of domestic silver by refiners both seller and buyer must retain the records required by section 10 (b) above.

(b) On sales of domestic or Treasury silver by other sellers both seller and buyer must retain the records required by section 11 (c) above. The seller must likewise keep a record of his purchases and sales of domestic and Treasury silver for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(c) This regulation requires the submission of reports by the following:

(1) Sellers determining maximum prices for semifabricated articles under section 5 or section 6.

(2) Importers determining maximum prices for semifabricated articles and silver bullion other than standard commercial bars under section 8 (b).

(3) Persons determining maximum prices for services under section 12 (b) (3).

(d) Persons subject to this regulation shall keep such other records and submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration as the Administrator may from time to time require, subject to approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 14. Applicability of regulation—(a) Geographical. This regulation applies to the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia (referred to in the regulation as "the continental United States").

(b) Export sales. The maximum price at which any person may export silver bullion, semifabricated articles or scrap shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Import sales. The maximum price at which anyone may import silver bullion, semifabricated articles or scrap shall be determined under this regulation. (See section 8).

(d) Relation to other regulations. (1) This regulation supersedes the General Maximum Price Regulation and all orders (except individual adjustment orders) and supplementary regulations under the General Maximum Price Regulation as to all sales and deliveries which are covered by this regulation or specifically exempted therefrom. Specifically, this regulation supersedes the following:

(i) Order 62 under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation (Standard Commercial Bars of Newly-mined Domestic Silver);

(ii) Section 5.4 of Revised Supplementary Regulation 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation (Semifabricated articles containing newly-mined domestic silver); and

(iii) Section 5.5 of Revised Supplementary Regulation 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation (Silver other than newly-mined domestic silver).

(2) This regulation does not affect Maximum Price Regulation No. 136 (Machines and Parts and Machinery Services), nor Maximum Price Regulation No. 177 (Film Scrap), nor Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods other than Apparel), nor any other price schedule or maximum price regulation, except as stated above. Nor does it affect the following parts of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 to the General Maximum Price Regulation:

(i) Section 5.1 (Silver salts); and

(ii) Section 5.2 (Solder and babbitt metal containing silver).

SEC. 15. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorizations has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 16. Applications for adjustment—(a) When available. The Office of Price Administration may, by order, adjust any maximum price established by this regulation whenever it finds, from an application for adjustment or on its own motion, that the price impedes or threatens to impede any seller's production or distribution of any commodity and that the seller's production or distribution is necessary for essential war or civilian purposes. (This section is, under like conditions, applicable to the maximum price of services as well as commodities.)

(b) Considerations. In determining whether production is impeded or threatened, among other factors, consideration will be given to: (1) costs of and revenue from the commodity in question; (2) the relative importance of the commodity in the seller's over-all business; (3) the profitableness of the seller's business; and (4) any special facts which the seller calls to the attention of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Amount of adjustment. Increase in price will be permitted in an amount which the Office of Price Administration considers sufficient to avoid the impeding of production or the threat of impeding production.

(d) Form of application. An original and copy of an application for adjustment must be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. It is suggested that, before filing an application for adjustment under the provisions of this section, the seller obtain from the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement of the specific information that will be necessary in order that his application may receive prompt action.

SEC. 17. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1* issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 18. Prohibitions. (a) Regardless of any contract or other obligation,

(1) No person shall sell or deliver silver scrap to a consumer at a price higher than the maximum;

(2) No consumer shall buy or receive silver scrap in the course of trade or business at a price higher than the maximum;

(3) No person shall sell or deliver silver bullion or any semifabricated article to any person at a price higher than the maximum;

(4) No person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive silver bullion or any semifabricated article at a price higher than the maximum;

(5) No person in the course of trade or business shall import silver bullion, semifabricated articles, or silver scrap at a price higher than the maximum;

(6) No person shall invoice, sell, deliver or settle for any silver bullion or any semifabricated article at a price higher than the maximum price which would be applicable if the silver in the commodity sold were foreign silver, unless the silver in the commodity sold qualifies as domestic or Treasury silver under this regulation, and unless the seller complies fully with all the applicable provisions of sections 10, 11 and 13 of this regulation, relating to evidence of origin, invoicing, certification and record-keeping; and

(7) No person shall pay or receive a price higher than the maximum for any service covered by section 12 of this regulation.

(b) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Any practice or device which is an attempt to get the effect of a price higher than the maximum price without actually charging or paying more than the maximum is prohibited, and is just as much a violation of this regulation as an outright excessive price. This applies to devices involving commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like. It likewise applies to the practice of sawing standard commercial bars and selling the resulting part bars in quantities of 1,000 ounces or more as semifabricated articles.

(d) Prices lower than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 19. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and proceedings for the suspension of licenses.

SEC. 20. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,† licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of any one or more maximum price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(NOTE: Definitions are interspersed throughout this regulation where it seems desirable to include them in the text. These definitions are not repeated below but reference is made to the place in the regulation at which they appear. Certain definitions which do not appear elsewhere are set out below.)

(a) (1) "Bullion", see section 1 (b) (1).

Any parent or subsidiary corporation of a consumer corporation, and any corporation owned, operated, affiliated with, under common control with, or otherwise controlled by a consumer, and any corporation owned, operated, or otherwise controlled by a consumer or an officer or director of a consumer corporation shall also be considered to be a consumer.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts

CONTRACTS FOR EVAPORATED AND POWDERED SKIMMED MILK

NOTICE OF CONTINUANCE OF EXCEPTION

In the matter of an exception from the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act of contracts for evaporated milk and powdered skimmed milk.

A public hearing was held before Merle D. Vincent, Director of the Exemptions Branch of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division in Room 7129, Labor Department Building, Washington, D. C., on March 21, 1944, pursuant to a public notice by the Secretary of Labor published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 10, 1944 (9 F.R. 2697), for the purpose of receiving evidence and hearing argument from all interested parties on the question whether the exception of November 31, 1942, permitting the award of Government contracts for evaporated milk and powdered skimmed milk without the inclusion in such contracts of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act shall be extended to December 31, 1944, in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of the act. The testimony and documents received pursuant to the notice have been duly considered by the presiding officer and he has filed a report with me finding that there is insufficient data in the record upon which to make a proper final determination of this matter and recommending (1) that further evidence be secured on costs of production, and (2) that the exception be extended temporarily until September 1, 1944, pending a final determination upon receipt of such evidence. I have reviewed the report of the presiding officer and have determined to accept his recommendations.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That:

1. The parties specified in the presiding officer's report shall furnish the information described therein to the Secretary of War prior to July 15, 1944; and

2. The exception from the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act of contracts for evaporated milk and powdered skimmed milk shall be continued to September 1, 1944, pending a final determination upon receipt of such information.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of May 1944.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

[Docket 5164]

KETCHIKAN PACKING CO. and WILLIAM H. STANLEY, INC.

NOTICE OF HEARING

Complaint. The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the parties respondent named in the caption hereof and hereinafter more particularly designated and described, since June 19, 1936, have violated and are now violating the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act, (U. S. C. Title 15, section 13) as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936, hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges with respect thereto as follows:

PARAGRAPH ONE: Respondent Ketchikan Packing Company is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Territory of Alaska, with its principal office and place of business located in the City of Ketchikan, Territory of Alaska, where it has engaged and is engaged in the business of canning and packing canned salmon, which are thereafter shipped to Seattle, Washington, where the respondent maintains a general sales office, for labeling, warehousing, distribution and sale. This respondent is hereinafter designated as the respondent seller.

PAR. TWO: The respondent seller, since June 19, 1936, has engaged in the business of distributing and selling canned salmon, in its own name, and for its own account, for resale; to promote such sales and to distinguish its canned salmon from the canned salmon sold by competitors, respondent seller utilizes registered trade-marks or brands, which brands are generally known to the trade as packers' or sellers' brands, as distinguished from the trade-marks or brands utilized by buyers, which brands are generally known to the trade as buyers' brands or private brands.

The respondent seller's brands are utilized by it to identify its canned salmon in the consumer's mind so that respondent seller may establish a market for its branded products and enhance and maintain the resulting benefits of consumer acceptance and good will created by its products.

The respondent sells and distributes its canned salmon under its own registered brands "Nemo", "Sea" and "K. P. Co.", and also sells and distributes such products under the private brands of its buyers and also under the private brands of its buyers' customers.

PAR. THREE: The respondent seller, since June 19, 1936, has distributed and sold and distributes and sells its canned salmon through direct sales to certain buyers, who are paid commissions or brokerage fees on purchases made by them in their respective names and for their respective accounts, and the respondent seller's method of distribution and sale to them, as hereinafter illustrated, is representative of the distribution and sales methods of a number of West Coast packers.

Such buyers customarily designate themselves as "brokers", "merchandise brokers", or as "primary distributors", although they are known to the trade as "buying brokers" or "speculative brokers". Such "buying brokers" or "speculative brokers" customarily operate by placing orders for merchandise with those sellers, and only with those sellers, who will grant and pay them commissions or brokerage fees on their own purchases, including purchases under their own private brands. Some of such buyers are large scale buyers and sellers of merchandise distributed under their own private brands, which brands usually show the name and address of the buyer but not of the packer, and identifies the merchandise as being the product of the respective buyer who owns the label.

Such buyers place their orders for merchandise with respondent seller and other sellers, who, on receiving and accepting such orders, deliver the merchandise to a common carrier for delivery, but require that the buyer pay the purchase price as a condition precedent to the delivery of the merchandise. If such merchandise is lost or damaged in transit, such buyers file claims in their own names and collect damages from the carrier for their own account.

On receipt of the merchandise, such buyers insure such merchandise and warehouse it in their own warehouses or in public warehouses, and thereafter generally utilize the warehouse receipts covering the merchandise, together with the insurance contract, as collateral or security to obtain bank loans.

Such buyers mask these operations under the fictitionalized designation of "brokers", "merchandise brokers", or "primary distributors", for the sole purpose of coloring the name and method of their operation in order to collect commissions or brokerage fees from respondent seller and other sellers who will pay such buyers commissions or brokerage fees on their own purchases, notwithstanding the fact that it is well known to be the custom of such buyers to invoice and sell such merchandise in their own names, for their own accounts, at their own prices, and on their own terms, and to assume full and complete credit risks.

PAR. FOUR: Respondent William H. Stanley, Inc., is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York with its principal office and place of business located at 103 East 125th Street, New York, New York. Since June 19, 1936, it has engaged in the business of buying for resale and selling for its own account and in its own name, canned salmon and other sea food products, and is one of the largest exclusive purchasers of sea food products in the United States. This respondent's method of purchase and sale, as herein illustrated, is generally representative of the purchase and sales methods of a number of the respondent seller's other buyers. This respondent at various periods since June 19, 1936, has utilized at its own expense considerable space in many public warehouses located in various sections of New York City and the States of New York and New Jersey, to store in its own name and for its own account its large, extensive and valuable stock of salmon and other sea food products. This respondent is hereinafter designated as respondent buyer.

PAR. FIVE: The respondent buyer since June 19, 1936, to promote its sales of canned salmon and other sea food products, to establish a demand and create good will for its own private brands of salmon and other sea food products, and to build up a business in its own name and for its own account under its own private brands as distinguished from the various packers' brands of salmon and other sea food products it buys and sells, has utilized several registered trademarks as brands.

Alasker
Fish Net
Sea Spray
Servmor
Eatmor
Upstream
Everfine
Good Buy
Our First Stream King

The respondent buyer has created a wide demand for its salmon and other sea food products sold under its own private brands and is one of the largest, if not the largest private brand distributor of such products in the United States.

This respondent buys its private brand products from many packers, and often in a given season, or during the same approximate period of time, will purchase canned salmon and other canned sea food products under one or more of its private brands from several competing sellers.

PAR. SIX: Respondent buyer, William H. Stanley, Inc., since June 19, 1936, in the course and conduct of its said business, has purchased in its own name and for its own account, for resale, a substantial portion of its requirements of packer's brands, its private brands and its customers' private brands of canned salmon products, from respondent seller Ketchikan Packing Company, which company is located, and distributes its commodities from states other than the state where the respondent buyer is located, and pursuant to said respondent buyer's purchase and said respondent buyer's instructions, such commodities are caused to be shipped and transported by the respondent seller across state lines to the respondent buyer, or to respondent buyer's customers.

The respondent buyer's purchases from the respondent seller are representative of the respondent buyer's purchases of salmon and other sea food products, since June 19, 1936, from the packers and distributors listed below, which commodities are purchased under the respective packers' brands, respondent buyer's own private brands, and respondent buyer's customers' brands:

Alaska Salmon Company, San Francisco, Calif.
Columbia River Packers Assn., Astoria, Oregon.
Coast Fishing Company, Wilmington, Calif.
Funsten & Company, San Francisco, Calif.
Halfhill Company, Ltd., Los Angeles, Calif.
E. H. Hamlin Company, Seattle, Wash.
H. A. Irving & Co., San Francisco, Calif.
L. P. Maggioni & Company, Savannah, Ga.
Marine Products Company, San Diego, Calif.
Parrott & Company, San Francisco, Calif.

PAR. SEVEN: Respondent seller, Ketchikan Packing Company, since June 19, 1936, in connection with the sale of its canned salmon, in interstate commerce, to respondent buyer, William H. Stanley, Inc., for its own account for resale, and to other buyers for their own account for resale, as hereinbefore set forth, has transmitted, paid and delivered, and does transmit, pay and deliver, directly or indirectly, to said respondent buyer, William H. Stanley, Inc., and to other buyers for their own respective accounts, commissions, brokerage or other compensation or allowances in lieu thereof, in substantial amounts, and respondent buyer William H. Stanley, Inc., since June 19, 1936, has received and accepted, and is now receiving and accepting commission, brokerage and other compensation or allowances in lieu thereof in connection with its purchases of canned salmon, in interstate commerce, from respondent seller Ketchikan Packing Company, and from other sellers from whom respondent buyer purchases and has purchased canned salmon and other sea food products in its own name, and for its own account, for resale.

PAR. EIGHT: The foregoing acts of respondent seller, Ketchikan Packing Company, in granting and paying commissions or brokerage fees on its sales of salmon to William H. Stanley, Inc., and to other buyers, and the foregoing acts of respondent buyer William H. Stanley, Inc., in receiving and accepting commissions or brokerage fees on its purchases of salmon from Ketchikan Packing Company, and from other sellers, are in violation of the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act, as amended.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission, on this 23rd day of May, A. D., 1944, issues its complaint against said respondents.

Notice. Notice is hereby given you, Ketchikan Packing Company, a corporation, and William H. Stanley, Inc., a corporation, respondents herein, that the 30th day of June, A. D., 1944, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer, the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of May, A. D. 1944.

Chapter IX—War Food Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders)

PART 904—MILK IN THE GREATER BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, MARKETING AREA

ORDER SUSPENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area, it is hereby found and determined that the provisions of such order which exclude from participation in the marketwide equalization pool the handling of milk of a handler who sells or distributes less than 10 percent of his total receipts of milk as Class I milk in the marketing area, are provisions which obstruct and do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to producers of milk under such order.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, effective as of 12:01 a. m., June 1, 1944, and continuing during the month of June 1944, §§ 904.8 (d) and 904.10 (g) of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area, are hereby suspended.

shall have the right to change at any time the above percentage applicable to dehydrated onions, and to fix percentages and change them from time to time on such other dehydrated vegetables as he may designate, pursuant to the authority contained in (a) (1) hereof. All dehydrated vegetables produced on, or subsequent to, the effective time hereof which are to be set aside for sale and delivery to governmental agencies shall, when the Director so determines, be processed, packaged, labeled, and cased in accordance with such directions as he may issue. Quantities of dehydrated vegetables set aside may be released at any time by notice to that effect from the Director.

(c) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions of paragraph (b) hereof shall not apply to contracts now existing or hereafter made between processors and governmental agencies. In the event of any conflict between the specifications of a contract entered into between a processor and a governmental agency and directions issued under (b) hereof, the contract specifications shall prevail for the quantities of dehydrated vegetables specified in the contract.

(2) The restrictions of (b) hereof shall not apply to those quantities of dehydrated vegetables which properly fall within the two following categories: (i) Sample lots distributed in quantities not to exceed 25 pounds of any dehydrated vegetable to any one user, over a three-month period, for research or experimental purposes; and (ii) quantities of dehydrated vegetables needed as essential ingredients by food product manufacturers under existing contracts, or contracts that may hereafter be made, with a governmental agency: Provided, That processors first receive a certificate duly executed on Form FDO 30–3 by the purchasing officer of the contracting governmental agency specifying the total quantity of the restricted dehydrated vegetable needed by the manufacturer in the performance of his contract and that the processor immediately endorse and deliver said certificate to the Director.

(3) The Director may specify quotas and issue certificates of quotas, for the year beginning July 1, 1943, and ending June 30, 1944, and for any period or periods subsequent thereto, for industrial or commercial users of dehydrated vegetables, and each processor may, on or subsequent to July 1, 1943, sell and deliver to each such user a part or the whole of the quota of dehydrated vegetables allotted to said user: Provided, That processors (i) obtain from each such user purchasing dehydrated vegetables the certificate of quota issued by the Director on Form FDO 30–5; and (ii) immediately endorse and mail each such certificate to the Director.

(d) Records and reports. (1) All dehydrated vegetables disposed of by a processor pursuant to (c) (2) and (c) (3) hereof, shall be reported in detail by the respective processor to the Director at the end of each calendar month on Form FDO 30–1 and such supplements thereto as the Director may prescribe.

(2) Each processor of a dehydrated vegetable shall keep and preserve, for not less than 2 years, the following accurate records with respect to all dehydrated vegetables enumerated in (a) (1) hereof: (i) an inventory of each dehydrated vegetable, by styles (for example, shredded, sliced, diced, powdered, flaked, or stripped), which the respective processor had on hand on March 21, 1943; (ii) an inventory of each dehydrated vegetable, by styles, as aforesaid, which the respective processor has on hand at the close of each calendar month; (iii) the quantity of each dehydrated vegetable, by styles, as aforesaid, produced during each calendar month by the respective processor; (iv) the shipments to governmental agencies, enumerated in (a) (3) hereof, of each dehydrated vegetable, by quantities and styles, as aforesaid, during each calendar month; and (v) the shipments and sales (including the name and address of each consignee and each purchaser) of all dehydrated onions, by quantities and styles, as aforesaid, during each calendar month. The foregoing records shall be kept with respect to each dehydrated vegetable without regard to whether it may be required to be set aside, under the provisions of this order, for sale to a governmental agency.

(3) Each processor of dehydrated vegetables shall mail to the Director, within two days (Sundays excepted), after the final date of each calendar month, a report on Form FDO 30–1 containing all of the information called for by Form FDO 30–1. A report, as aforesaid, shall be filed with respect to each dehydrated vegetable enumerated in (a) (1) hereof without regard to whether it is required, by the provisions of this order, to be set aside for sale to a governmental agency.

(4) The Director shall be entitled to obtain such information from, and require such reports and the keeping of such records by, any person, as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Director's discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

(e) Audits and inspections. The Director shall be entitled to make such audit or inspection of the books, records and other writings, premises or stocks of dehydrated vegetables of any person, and to make such investigations, as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Directors' discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

(f) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship on him may file a petition for relief with the administrator of this order. Such petition shall be addressed to Administrator, War Food Order No. 30, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Office of Distribution, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Petition for such relief shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Order Administrator may take any action with reference to such petition which is consistent with the authority delegated to him by the Director. If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the action taken by the Order Administrator on the petition, he shall obtain, by requesting the Order Administrator therefor, a review of such action by the Director. The Director may, after said review, take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final. The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not be construed to deprive the Director of authority to consider originally any petition for relief from hardship submitted in accordance herewith. The Director may consider any such petition and take such action with reference thereto that he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(g) Violations. Any person who violates any provision of this order may, in accordance with the applicable procedure, be prohibited from receiving, making any deliveries of, or using dehydrated vegetables, or any other material subject to priority or allocation control by any governmental agency. In addition, any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order is guilty of a crime and may be prosecuted under any and all applicable laws. Further, civil action may be instituted to enforce any liability or duty created by, or to enjoin any violation of, any provision of this order.

(h) Delegation of authority. The administration of this order and the powers vested in the War Food Administrator, insofar as such powers relate to the administration of this order, are hereby delegated to the Director. The Director is authorized to redelegate to any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture any or all of the authority vested in him by this order.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless instructions to the contrary are issued by the Director, be addressed to the Director of Distribution, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. WFO–30.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter IX—War Food Administration (Agricultural Labor)

PART 1100—REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO SALARIES AND WAGES OF AGRICULTURAL LABOR

SALARY OR WAGE INCREASES REQUIRING APPROVAL

The regulations relative to salaries and wages of agricultural labor issued by the War Food Administrator on January 17, 1944 (9 F.R. 655) are hereby amended as follows:

1. The fifth sentence of § 1100.8 is amended to read as follows: "The hearing shall be conducted by two or more members of the board as the board shall direct."

2. Section 1100.9 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1100.9 Salary or wage increases requiring approval. Section 4001.7 of the general regulations provides that salaries or wages of agricultural labor may be increased up to $2,400.00 without approval, unless the Administrator has issued a specific wage ceiling regulation as described in § 1100.7 hereof. That section of the general regulations provides that the phrase "$2,400.00 per annum" shall mean $200.00 a month or the equivalent weekly, hourly, piece work rate or comparable basis.

However, no increase in salary or wage payments may be made to employees engaged in agricultural labor who, on December 9, 1943, received such payments in the amount of $2,400.00 per annum or more, or when the effect of the increase will be to increase salary or wage payments to more than $2,400.00 per annum, without the prior approval of the Administrator. It makes no difference whether the salary or wage increase is accomplished by salary or wage increases per se, or by means of bonuses or other forms of additional compensation. All such payments which will have the effect of raising the earnings of an employee who earns $2,400.00 per annum or more, or of raising the earnings of the employee to more than $2,400.00 per annum, must be approved to be lawful.

Any increase in the rate of overtime or any payment of overtime where it was not the practice of the employer to pay overtime prior to December 9, 1943, may not be made without prior approval of the Administrator. Lawful overtime payments need not be included in determining whether an employee receives "$2,400.00 per annum", but all other additional forms of compensation such as bonuses, perquisites and the like, must be included.

Payments by the same employer of the same salary rates or wage rates for the same type of work for the similar period or season made lawfully between December 9, 1942 and December 9, 1943, may be made without approval of the Administrator. Increases in such rates to more than the rate of $2,400.00 or increases in such rates which are a rate of $2,400.00 or more per annum must be approved to be lawful: Provided, however, That nothing in these regulations is to be construed to prevent an increase, without prior approval, in the hours of employment or amount or volume of work performed on a piece rate basis.

Payment of total compensation, including bonuses, perquisites, and other additional forms of compensation in the same amount or at the same rates as those made lawfully between December 9, 1942 and December 9, 1943, may be made without approval even though that compensation is more than $2,400.00 per annum. Bonus payments lawfully in existence before December 9, 1943, based on a percentage of business or profits or other factor, may be paid without approval regardless of the dollar amount of the bonus, as long as the basic salary or wage rate and the method of computing the bonus are not changed, even though the total compensation is more than $2,400 per annum. A change from a salary to a commission basis of pay, however, requires prior approval.

An employer who has established a new job classification or who has begun business after December 9, 1943, must obtain approval of the Administrator for the payment of wages or salaries in excess of $2,400 per annum for such job classification, or in such new business: Provided, however, In the case of new employees, that if the wage or salary rates in question are not in excess of the maxima of those prevailing for similar job classifications within his own organization, or if no such rates are available, then within the local area in the year preceding December 9, 1943, the approval of the Administrator is not required. An increase in the wage or salary rate for job classifications established after December 9, 1943, where the rate of payment is $2,400 or more per annum or where the proposed increase will make the rate of payment more than $2,400 per annum, must have prior approval. Additional new workers may be employed to do the same type of work that other employees are performing without approval: Provided, That payments are made at the same rate as that made to such other workers doing the same type of work. Approval is not required to fill a vacancy in a position as long as no greater payments are made to the new employee hired to fill the vacancy than were paid to the employee who last previously occupied the position.

Adjustments in instances of promotions, reclassifications, merit increases and the like, may be made only with the approval of the Administrator, when such adjustments are with reference to wages or salaries which are at the rate of $2,400.00 or more per annum, or if the proposed adjustment will increase the rate to more than $2,400.00. However, reasonable adjustments for the following purposes may be made without approval of the Administrator if made pursuant to a salary or wage plan or schedule submitted to and approved by the Administrator:

(a) Individual promotions or reclassifications.

(b) Individual merit increases within established wage or salary rate ranges.

(c) Operation of an established plan of wage or salary increases based on length of service.

(d) Increased productivity under incentive plans.

(e) Operation of a trainee system.

(f) Such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in rules or regulations of the Administrator from time to time.

Promotions and reclassifications for the purposes of the preceding paragraph comprehend only cases involving materially increased responsibilities or a substantial change in the nature of the work performed. Merit increases within a given salary range and increases based upon length of service shall not exceed in frequency or in maximum amount the frequency or maximum amount given in such positions in that salary or wage range during a normal period, and there shall be no substantial increase in the average salary rate in any given job classification range. Changes in salary rates in a single job classification may not be increased without approval, even though the salary or wage schedule has been approved by the Administrator.

When a specific wage ceiling regulation relating to an area, crop, class of employer, or otherwise, is issued, as described in § 1100.7 hereof, no payments above the rates described in such specific regulation may be made without the prior approval of the Administrator; Provided, That, if an employer was paying a particular employee doing the same type of work at a higher wage or salary rate between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942, such employer may pay such employee at the wage or salary rate paid during that period. Payments may be made by those affected, up to and including the rates prescribed by such specific wage ceiling regulations, without the approval of the Administrator. Except in those instances where a lower rate has been established by a specific wage ceiling regulation, no approval is required to increase salary or wage payments to agricultural labor up to $2,400.00 per annum ($200.00 per month).

The existence of prior contracts for salary or wage payments or increases will not justify payments or increases without the prior approval of the Administrator where such approval is required by these regulations or by any specific wage ceiling regulation.

Any increases in wage or salary payments where approval is required will be in contravention of the act, if made without approval. Any increase will be lawful only from the date specified in the approval, if prior approval is required.

3. Section 1100.10 is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

(d) Wage or salary adjustments may be made with the approval of the Administrator to correct inequalities between immediately inter-related job classifications where such inequalities have arisen because of elimination of substandards of living or because of the applicability of the Little Steel formula, but only to the extent required to keep the minimum differentials necessary to maintain productive efficiency. Such adjustments are to be tapered off rigorously when applied to higher job classifications.

4. Section 1100.12 is amended by changing the first sentence to read as follows:

In the case of salary or wage payments existing on December 9, 1943, by means of which an employee is paid $5,000.00 or less per annum for any particular work, the general rule is that no decrease can be made by an employer in such salary or wage rate paid for such work in the local area between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942.

5. Paragraph (a) of § 1100.16 is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

Where the hearing is conducted by a Wage Board, three members of the Wage Board shall constitute a quorum authorized to conduct such hearing, and the chairman of the Wage Board, or temporary chairman in the absence of the regular chairman, shall act as presiding officer at the hearing, administer oaths and affirmations and rule on motions, requests, and on the admission and exclusion of evidence.

6. The first sentence of paragraph (d) of § 1100.16 is amended to read as follows:

Upon conclusion of the hearing, if the Director or a majority of the Board, as the case may be, is satisfied that the charge is supported by substantial evidence, the Director or the Board, as the case may be, shall find accordingly.

7. The last sentence of paragraph (e) of § 1100.16 is amended to read as follows:

The determination of the Administrator shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings except as set forth in § 1100.14 (b) hereof.

(56 Stat. 765, 50 U.S.C. Supp. II 961 et seq., as amended by Pub. Law No. 34, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 9681; regulations of Economic Stabilization Director, dated August 28, 1943, as amended, 8 F.R. 11960, 12139, 16702,)

Issued this 1st day of June 1944.

Respondents were aware of the provisions of Limitation Order L-135 and their actions constituted a wilful violation of that order.

These violations of Limitation Order L-135 diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.555 Suspension Order, No. S-555. (a) Abraham Harry Ray and Moses Ray doing business as the Ray Brothers, or otherwise, their successors or assigns, during the three months period beginning July 1, 1944 and ending September 30, 1944, shall not use in the production of upholstered furniture more metal upholstery springs than 5% by weight of the total weight of metal upholstery springs used by them in the year 1941; and during the three months period beginning October 1, 1944 and ending December 31, 1944, the respondents shall not use in the production of upholstered furniture more metal upholstery springs than 7½% by weight of the total weight of metal upholstery springs used by them in the year 1941.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Abraham Harry Ray and Moses Ray, doing business as the Ray Brothers, or otherwise, their successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions of this order.

(c) This order shall take effect on July 1, 1944 and shall expire on December 31, 1944.

PART 1157—CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY

[General Limitation Order L-53-b, as Amended June 2, 1944]

REPAIR PARTS FOR TRACK-LAYING TRACTORS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain repair parts necessary to service track-laying tractors for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1157.7 General Limitation Order L-53-b—(a) What this order does. The purposes of this order are to regulate the sale and delivery of repair parts for track-laying tractors; to prohibit dealers and distributors from obtaining excessive inventories of repair parts; to prohibit tractor owners from getting more repair parts than they actually need; and to allocate deliveries of repair parts between military and non-military purchasers. The order tells how repair parts can be sold and who can buy them.

(b) Restrictions on sales and deliveries of repair parts. (1) A producer, dealer or distributor located in the United States must not sell or deliver repair parts to any person except for export unless he has received from such person an emergency certificate. (Certain exemptions are explained in paragraph (c) below and special restrictions on export sales are explained in paragraph (d) below.) The emergency certificate must be in substantially the form set forth below, signed by hand or signed as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

In accordance with Order L-53-b, I certify, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that all the repair parts covered by this order are immediately necessary to put my tractor(s) in serviceable condition and are not for stock; that I do not have like parts on hand; that I have not placed another order for any of these parts with any other person, and that the parts will only be used on the following tractor(s) _____
Name of Purchaser
Address of Purchaser

The certificate shall constitute a representation to the seller and to the War Production Board that all the statements in it are true. Any producer, dealer or distributor who receives this certificate may rely on it unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(2) The standard certification of Priorities Regulation 7 must not be used instead of the emergency certificate provided for above. The emergency certificate must not be waived in the manner provided in Priorities Regulation 7; however, the seller may sign the emergency certificate in his own name for the buyer if he knows all the facts and is willing to assume full responsibility for the truth of every statement contained in it. Telegraph, telephone and verbal orders may be accepted by complying with the applicable provisions for telegraph, telephone and verbal orders of Priorities Regulation 7.

(c) Exemptions. The following sales and deliveries are exempt from the requirement of an emergency certificate:

(1) Where the producer, dealer or distributor receives from the purchaser Form WPB–1319 approved by the War Production Board. Any person who is unable to furnish an emergency certificate may apply for this approval by filing the required number of copies of this form in accordance with the current instructions for the form;

(2) Where the purchaser is a producer, or a dealer or distributor located in the United States or Canada;

(3) Where a military agency is buying repair parts direct from a producer;

(4) Where the order is for fuel filters or oil filters in a quantity to permit not more than 500 hours operation.

(d) Repair parts for export. (1) A producer, dealer ,or distributor located in the United States must not sell or deliver repair parts for export outside the United States unless he receives from the purchaser Form WPB–1319 approved by the War Production Board. Application for this approval may be made by filing the required number of copies of this form in accordance with the current instructions for the form.

(2) The following sales and deliveries for export are exempt from this requirement:

(i) Sales and deliveries to dealers and distributors located in Canada;

(ii) Sales and deliveries by a producer to an export dealer or distributor within the dealer's or distributor's annual quota as approved by the War Production Board pursuant to a quota application filed by the producer on Form WPB–1319 in accordance with the current instructions for the form;

(iii) Direct sales to military agencies by producers;[1]

(iv) Any sale or delivery not exceeding $100 to any other person for export;[2]

(e) Allocation of repair parts deliveries by manufacturers of track-laying tractors. (1) Unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, each manufacturer of track-laying tractors must deliver to the military agencies during the period from July 1, 1944, to December 31, 1944, and during each succeeding calendar year, all repair parts ordered by them in sufficient time for delivery in each such period except that such deliveries must not exceed 65% of his total deliveries of repair parts by value at invoice price during any such period.

(2) Whenever unfilled orders in the hands of a manufacturer of track-laying tractors calling for immediate delivery of any repair part shall exceed his inventory of that repair part, he shall, so long as such condition exists, make no delivery of that part to dealers or distributors in the United States and Canada for stock until he has filled all other orders and shall apportion his deliveries of such repair part as follows:

(i) Deliveries directly to military agencies: not more than 65% of his total deliveries of such repair part,. if there are unshipped orders on hand from other persons for such repair part.

(ii) Deliveries to or for the account of other persons: not more than 35% of his total deliveries of such repair part, if there are unshipped orders on hand from military agencies for such repair part.

(3) Whenever a manufacturer of track-laying tractors receives a repair parts order from a dealer or distributor located in the United States or Canada, he must, for the purposes of paragraph (e) (2) above, treat it as a stock order unless the dealer or distributor states that the parts are to fill customers' orders actually received which he is unable to fill from his stock. Each such statement shall constitute a representation of the truth thereof, and any producer may rely on it unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(f) Quotas for dealers and distributors in the United States and Canada. Unless specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, a producer must not, during any calendar quarter, ship to any dealer or distributor located in the United States or Canada, more than $10,000 worth of repair parts at invoice price or 50% of the value of his shipments to such dealer or distributor during the preceding six calendar months, whichever is the greater. However, a producer may ship to any such dealer or distributor during any calendar quarter 10% more than the quota of such dealer or distributor but such excess shipments must be charged against the quota of the dealer or distributor for the next calendar quarter and must not be counted in computing any future quotas. Similarly, excess shipments made during the second quarter of 1944 or any prior quarter under paragraph (b) (5) of Order L–53–b, as amended March 6, 1944, must not be counted in computing any quotas. It will be against the policy of the War Production Board to authorize any increase in quotas on account of sales by such dealers or distributors for overseas use.

(g) Filing orders upon specific direction of the War Production Board. A producer, dealer or distributor shall, upon specific direction of the War Production Board, make delivery of any repair part in accordance with such direction.

(h) Preference ratings. No person shall apply or extend any rating to get any repair parts from a producer, dealer or distributor, and no producer, dealer or distributor shall require a rating as a condition of the sale or delivery of repair parts. Any rating purporting to be applied or extended to any such transaction shall be void and no producer, dealer or distributor shall give any effect to it in filling an order.

(i) Definitions. (1) "Track-laying tractor" means a vehicle powered by an internal combustion engine, used for pushing or pulling heavy loads, obtaining traction and steered by a full crawler or track-type device; but not Ordnance models of tank-type construction such as models M–2, M–4, M–5 and M–6 or U. S. Engineer models specifically designed for transport by air (airborne tractors).

(2) "Repair part" means:

(i) Any part manufactured or sold by a producer, for use in the repair of track-laying tractors, but not parts sold by a producer to other manufacturers for incorporation into or for repair of other products manufactured by them;

(ii) Tools which bear a producer's standard parts number and which are used in servicing track-laying tractors.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing track-laying tractors; it also includes any other person to the extent that he is engaged in the business of manufacturing parts specifically designed for use in the repair of track-laying tractors. It does not include any person primarily engaged in the business of manufacturing common components or any person to the extent that he supplies parts to a manufacturer of track-laying tractors.

(4) "Dealer or distributor" means any person engaged in the business of buying repair parts for the purpose of resale but the term does not include any producer.

(5) "Export dealer or distributor" means any dealer or distributor who is engaged in the business of selling repair parts outside the United States and Canada.

(6) "United States" means the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(7) "Military agency" means the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration and any other agency or person so designated by the War Production Board.

(j) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time, except where otherwise stated.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Reporting requirements. The form of application (Form WPB–1319) provided for in this order has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. The letter must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board in the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(iii) Any manufacturer, dealer or owner specified as a supplier in the authorization for a used truck shall accept any order placed with him for such truck (if the order is accompanied by the authorization), as if such order bore a preference rating, unless he is permitted to, and does, reject the same under the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, § 944.2. However, nothing herein shall require the sale of any used industrial power truck by any person who acquired and holds such truck for his own use and not for resale.

(iv) The restrictions contained in (i), (ii), and (iii) of this paragraph (b) (2) shall not apply to deliveries of used industrial power trucks made by one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same enterprise under common ownership where no transfer of title or ownership of such trucks is involved, or to deliveries of any used industrial power trucks owned by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, from one department to another within any such agency, or from any of such agencies to any other of such agencies.

(3) Authorizations. Application for authorization of the War Production Board required by paragraph (b) (1) and (2) shall be made by the purchaser on Form WPB–1319 prepared in accordance with the instructions for such form. The War Production Board may grant such application unconditionally or upon specified conditions, including the requirement that the order be placed with a supplier named by the War Production Board, or that the order shall only cover such model, type or size of truck as may be designated by such Board.

(c) [Deleted Mar. 16, 1944]

(d) Standardization of models. (1) No manufacturer shall after July 10, 1942 begin the manufacture of any industrial power truck which is not a standard model. The design and structure of any standard model shall be only as specified or described in such manufacturer's catalogue or bulletin; except that electric fork trucks with capacities from 2,000 pounds to 6,000 pounds may be built in both center and end control types; and that alterations may be made in counter weights, die pullers (power winch), height of lift, voltage, battery capacity, explosion or fire prevention features, and the length or width or type of fork or ram.

(2) On and after August 15, 1942, no manufacturer shall begin the manufacture of any standard model which is not an approved standard model. Approved standard models for each manufacturer shall be only those industrial power trucks listed hereafter and from time to time by order or orders supplementary to this order. The provisions of paragraph (d) (1) hereof relative to changes in design and structure shall be applicable to approved standard models.

(3) On or before the 15th day of October and of each succeeding calendar month, every manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form WPB–1262 (formerly PD–385), which shall include (i) such manufacturer's proposed production schedules so far as then planned, but in any event, for not less than the three calendar months following the filing of the report; and (ii) his proposed delivery schedules so far as then planned, but in any event for not less than the one calendar month following such filing. The production schedules for the three calendar months, and the delivery schedules for the one calendar month following the filing of the report shall be deemed to be approved by the War Production Board upon the receipt of the report by the War Production Board, unless the War Production Board shall otherwise direct. The War Production Board may, at any time, change any schedules; direct the cancellation of any order shown on any schedule; prescribe any other schedule for production or deliveries for any period, regardless of whether a schedule for such period, or any part thereof, has been reported by the manufacturer, or theretofore approved by the War Production Board; allocate any order listed on the report to any other manufacturer; or direct the delivery of any industrial power truck so listed to any other person, at the established price and terms. No manufacturer shall produce or deliver any industrial power truck except in accordance with schedules approved or prescribed by the War Production Board, as above provided; and no manufacturer shall alter any such approved or prescribed production or delivery schedules unless authorized or directed to do so by the War Production Board.

(e) Experimental models. In addition to the approved standard models of industrial power trucks which a manufacturer is permitted to produce under paragraph (d) of this order and Order L–112–a, a manufacturer may also produce experimental models (in any design and structure), if he does so in accordance with all of the following restrictions:

(1) He may not produce more than the minimum number of experimental models or any larger ones than the minimum capacity, required to determine their suitability for commercial production, operation, and application; in no case may he produce more than two units of the same model and capacity;

(2) He may not acquire for such purpose any facilities which are capital additions;

(3) He may not produce any such model if he knows or has reasonable cause to believe that such action would divert any materials, manpower, technical skill, or other facilities needed by him or any other person for any defense order (as defined in Priorities Regulation 1) or for any order rated AA–5 or higher, or to fill any order specifically authorized by the War Production Board; and he shall immediately discontinue such production whenever and as long as it causes or threatens to cause such diversion;

(4) Such experimental models may not be offered for sale or be demonstrated, displayed or distributed.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and as amended from time to time.

(2) Existing contracts. Fulfillment of contracts in violation of this order is prohibited regardless of whether such contracts are entered into before or after July 10, 1942. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for default under any contract or order, which shall result directly or indirectly from his compliance with the terms of this order.

(3) Reporting requirements. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[NOTE: Paragraphs (4), (5) and (6), formerly (5), (6) and (7), redesignated June 2, 1944.]

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. This letter must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plan or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(6) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C.; Ref.: L–112.

SPECIAL PROCEDURE FOR USE OF ABBREVIATED ALLOTMENT NUMBER U–2 BY UTILITIES

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 6:

(a) Scope of this direction. This direction applies to construction, installations and purchases by utilities, which are authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB–2774, except as provided in paragraph (f) below. The term "utilities" includes all producers as defined in Utilities Order U–1 and operators as defined in Utilities Order U–3 or U–4.

(b) Use of abbreviated allotment number U–2 by utilities. The abbreviated allotment number U–2 may be used by utilities to obtain controlled materials and Class A products when such number is assigned on Form WPB–2774 by the War Production Board. The utility may not order controlled materials or use the statement described in paragraph (d) below on a contract or purchase order until it has received its approved Form WPB–2774.

(c) Use of abbreviated allotment number U–2 by contractors and manufacturers. The abbreviated allotment number U–2 may be used by contractors, subcontractors and manufacturers of Class A products to obtain controlled materials or Class A products needed for incorporation into utility construction, installations or purchases authorized on Form WPB–2774 when such persons have received a contract or order bearing the statement described in paragraph (d) below. A contractor, subcontractor, or manufacturer of Class A products may not order controlled materials or Class A products for the construction, installation or purchase until he has received a contract or order endorsed with such statement.

(d) Statement to be placed on contracts or purchase orders. The following statement, in addition to the certification required by Priorities Regulation No. 7, should be placed on contracts or purchase orders when required for the purpose of paragraph (c) above:

> WPB–2774, OWU Serial Number——
> You are hereby authorized to use the abbreviated allotment number U–2 to order controlled materials and Class A products needed to fill this contract or order.

The standard form of certification described in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used instead of the above statement.

(e) Status of orders for controlled materials bearing abbreviated allotment number U–2. Delivery orders for controlled materials, bearing the abbreviated allotment number U–2 in accordance with this direction, are authorized controlled materials orders if they are in sufficient detail to be placed on a mill schedule and if they specify the month in which delivery is requested. The use of the abbreviated allotment number U–2 is not limited to any particular month or quarter, and no quarterly identification need be shown on orders bearing such number.

(f) Specific allotments. This direction does not apply in the case of any controlled materials or Class A products for which allotments are made on Form WPB–2774 in specific quantities and for specific quarters, with the allotment identified by a seven-digit allotment number. The procedures to be used to obtain such controlled materials or Class A products are described in CMP Regulation 6.

(g) Nothing in this direction shall affect any restriction contained in any E, L, or M order.

Issued this 1st day of June 1944.

In the case of paints or paint products, he may not purchase, accept delivery of or use more cans than (1) 20% of his 1944 packing quota or (2) 50% of his unused 1944 packing quota, whichever is larger.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M–290, Direction 3]

REPORTS OF REDUCTIONS IN V-BOARD REQUIREMENTS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Conservation Order M–290:

(a) Reports by V-box manufacturers. Any manufacturer of V-boxes whose requirements of V-board for boxes to be delivered prior to June 30th are reduced (due to cancellations or cut-backs or for any other reason) below the amount he was authorized to get during the second quarter under Order M–290 must report, within 48 hours after such reduction in requirements, to the Paperboard Division of the War Production Board; Ref: M–290, the kind and quantity of containerboard for which he will not require his second quarter authorization. This applies even if the manufacturer already has the board in inventory.

This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(b) Interpretation No. 2 of Order L–317. In this connection the attention of all manufacturers of fibre shipping containers is called to Interpretation No. 2 of Limitation Order L–317 which reads as follows:

> (a) Applicability of inventory restrictions to V–boxes. It has been called to the attention of the War Production Board that there is, in certain quarters, a misimpression to the effect that V–boxes are exempted from the Inventory Restrictions of Order L–317. This impression is completely unfounded. Inventories of V–boxes are controlled to the same extent as other fibre shipping containers by the provisions of paragraph (n) through (q) of Order L–317 and paragraph (b) of Direction 1 of that order.
> (b) Cancellation of excessive V-box orders. V-box orders are also subject to the restrictions against placing excessive orders set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of Direction 1 of Ord r L–317. Therefore, all orders for V-boxes in excess of the amount which a person would be entitled to receive within these inventory limitations must be cancelled immediately.
> (c) Responsibility of box manufacturers. Attention is called to the fact that box manufacturers share responsibility for seeing to it that no V-boxes (as well as other fibre shipping containers) are delivered which will cause a customer to exceed his permitted inventory, because under paragraph (d) of Order L–317 they are prohibited from manufacturing, selling, or delivering any new fibre shipping containers which they know or have reason to believe will be used or accepted in violation of the order.

Issued this 1st day of June 1944.

[General Limitation Order L–185, as Amended June 2, 1944]

WATER HEATERS

Section 3288.51. General Limitation Order L–185 is hereby amended as follows:

§ 3288.51 General Limitation Order L–185—(a) Definitions. (1) "Direct fired water heater" means any device for the direct transference of heat produced by the combustion of coal, wood, fuel oil or gas, or derived from solar rays, to the water of a hot water supply system. The term includes, but is not limited to, coils, side-arm water heaters, bucket-a-day stoves, laundry stoves (with cored water sections), dome type water heaters, steel hot water supply heaters, or service water tank heaters having not more than two cored water sections, automatic storage water heaters, instantaneous or continuous flow water heaters, underfired storage water heaters, and solar water heaters. The term does not include any low pressure cast iron or steel boiler designed for the purpose of heating water to provide heat for the interior of a building by means of circulating steam or hot water.

(2) "Indirect water heater" means any device to which steam or hot water is piped for the transference of the heat of such steam or hot water to the water of a hot water supply system, or the water of a hot water space heating system. The term includes, but is not limited to, coils, side arm water heaters, submerged type water heaters or any indirect water heater (including tanks) commonly referred to as a storage water heater consisting of a heating element installed in a hot water storage tank for the purpose of heating and storing hot water for any use, and any indirect water heater consisting of a coil or a nest of tubes installed in a shell or pressure vessel having a diameter 12" or less (if other than circular in cross section and internal cross sectional area 113 sq. in. or less), designed for the purpose of supplying hot water to a hot water supply system or a hot water space heating system. The term does not include any storage tank, the manufacture of which is governed by Limitation Order L–199, even though used in conjunction with any indirect water heater. It is not intended by the foregoing definition to include any product which is controlled by Limitation Order L–123.

(3) "Hot water supply system" means any system of supplying hot water used in whole or in part for bathing, washing, cleaning, cooking or other similar purposes. The term does not include any system for supplying hot water for specialized industrial or agricultural purposes.

(4) "Hot water space heating system" means any system which is designed for the purpose of heating the interior of a building or other structure (including ships) by utilizing the heat of hot water.

(5) "Metal jacket" means any metal covering, lining, or portion thereof (but not any metal band two inches or less in width used to support a jacket which holds dry insulation) for any direct fired or indirect water heater, except any metal covering, lining, or portion thereof which conducts flue gases, water, or steam through and to the outside of a direct fired or indirect water heater, and except any ferrous metal wire netting used as a base for the wet application of insulating material.

(6) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy.

(b) Use of copper, stainless steel, and monel metal in manufacture. No person shall use in the manufacture, fabrication, or assembly of any direct fired or indirect water heater, any copper, copper base alloy, stainless steel, or monel metal except:

(1) For repair parts not including tanks;

(2) For temperature, pressure, vacuum or electrical controls, safety devices or valves;

(3) For tank spuds or tappings;

(4) For coils and tubular units built with copper tubing of 1½" outside diameter or less, in indirect water heaters only. However, the shells, steam heads, tube plates and other cast parts of indirect water heaters shall be of ferrous metal, or non-metallic materials except that terminal outlets and spacer plates may be of a copper base alloy in which no primary tin or copper is used, and the alloy shall be of no higher grade than alloy 5A of the A. S. T. M. specification B–145–42–T.

The exceptions to the restrictions in the use of copper, stainless steel, or monel metal contained in paragraphs (b) (2) and (b) (4) thereof do not apply to the production of indirect water heaters designed for hot water space heating systems.

(5) For coils and terminal outlets for direct fired side-arm water heaters, except that any copper base alloy used in the production of terminal outlets may contain no primary tin or copper, and the alloy shall be of no higher grade than alloy 5A of the A. S. T. M. Specification B–145–42–T.

(c) Use of copper, stainless steel, and monel metal in the installation of repair and replacement parts. (1) No person shall in any repair or replacement use or install parts containing in the aggregate more than two pounds of copper or copper base alloy, stainless steel, or monel metal, if the weight of the copper, copper base alloy, stainless steel, or monel metal so used or installed exceeds by more than one pound the weight of copper, copper base alloy, stainless steel, or monel metal replaced. The restrictions in this subparagraph do not apply to the replacement of ferrous heating elements for direct or indirect water heaters.

(2) All copper and copper base alloy replaced in any repair shall be delivered by the person making the repair to a scrap dealer or other person specified under Supplementary Order M–9.

(d) Manufacture and installation of metal jackets. No producer shall manufacture or fabricate any metal jackets except:

(1) From materials in his inventory on May 8, 1944, or obtained from frozen, idle and excess inventories; or

(2) From allotted material when used to manufacture metal jackets to be installed pursuant to a specific contract or purchase order in any aircraft or vessel other than a pleasure craft, or to be installed on any direct-fired water heater using fuel oil as fuel.

(e) Restrictions on production. No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble more units of direct fired or indirect water heaters than the percentage of his 1941 unit production of the same classification of hot water heaters which is indicated in Schedule A hereto attached.

(f) Exceptions. The restrictions of this order do not apply to the production of articles or parts not available in the producer's inventory when the same are required by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, or Coast Guard, or by the rules and regulations promulgated by the Coast Guard for merchant vessels, for use in ships, boats, planes, laundries, kitchens, hospitals, bakeries, or advance bases.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB–1477 with the Field Office of the War Production Board, for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(h) Communications. All communications concerning this order, unless otherwise directed should be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference L–185.

SEC. 4. Prior orders. (a) Orders of adjustment Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 were issued pursuant to Maximum Price Regulation No. 436. Sellers affected by such orders may notwithstanding the other provisions of this regulation charge the maximum prices authorized by such orders.

SEC. 5. Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with a purchase, sale, delivery or transfer of crude petroleum alone or in conjunction with any other materials, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or by a change in the quality of a product, or otherwise.

SEC. 6. Transfers of business or stock in trade. (a) If the business, assets or stock in trade of any seller or any person as defined in section 9 (c) are sold or otherwise transferred after October 15, 1941, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records and make reports shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the records and reports provisions of this regulation and amendments thereto.

SEC. 7. Licensing, applicability of the registration and licensing provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation. (a) The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] are applicable to every person subject to this regulation selling at wholesale or retail any petroleum covered by this regulation. When used in this section the terms "selling at wholesale" and "selling at retail" have the definitions given them by §§ 1499.20 (p) and 1499.20 (o) respectively of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Said registration and licensing provisions became effective as to person selling at wholesale on May 11, 1942, and as to persons selling at retail on May 18, 1942.

SEC. 8. Petitions for amendment and applications for adjustment—(a) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment with the Petroleum Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[2]

NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 8087, 8665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 8444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.

NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petition for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.

(b) Applications for adjustment. (1) Any corporation subject to the provisions of this regulation all of whose securities are owned by another corporation, or which owns all of the securities of another corporation or all of whose securities and all of those of another corporation are owned directly or indirectly by a third corporation may file an application for adjustment to a maximum price established under Article II or III for the sale of crude petroleum, or petroleum or natural gas to such other corporation.

(2) Such application for adjustment shall be accompanied by a statement under oath setting forth, (i) The percentage of shares or units of any issues of securities of the subsidiary corporation or corporations held beneficially or of record by any person or persons and the names and post office addresses of such person or persons, (ii) The hardship or inequity which would result to the petitioner from failure to grant the petition.

(3) An application for adjustment under this paragraph shall be filed with the Petroleum Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. in the manner provided for applications for adjustment under Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(c) Local shortages. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust by order any maximum price established under this regulation for any seller or group of sellers when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of petroleum gas and natural gas which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such petroleum gas and natural gas; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Applications for adjustment shall be filed in Washington, D. C., in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

SEC. 9. Definitions. (a) "Crude petroleum." The term "crude petroleum" does not extend to petroleum products. Crude petroleum does not become a petroleum product until put through a bona fide refinery process which results in the production of more than one petroleum fraction.

(b) "Posted purchase price as of October 1, 1941" means a price posted by a person who during the 60-day period after October 1, 1941, actually purchased from a producer crude petroleum produced at any pool to which the posted price was applicable.

(c) "Person" when used in this regulation includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, their legal successors and representatives.

(d) "Pool" means any underground accumulation of crude petroleum or associated hydrocarbon substances, including but not limited to natural gas, constituting a single and separate reservoir or source of supply within a field, area, or horizon whether or not presently discovered or developed.

(e) "Contract" means an agreement, the existence of which is established by written evidence.

(f) "Producers" means royalty owners or other sellers of crude petroleum.

(g) "Receiving tank" means the tank of the producer of crude petroleum, sometimes called stock tank or shipping tank, in which the oil from one or more wells is first gauged or measured for sale, delivery or storage.

(h) "Seller of the same class" means a seller (1) performing the same function, (2) of similar type, (3) dealing in the same type of commodity, and (4) selling to the same class of purchaser.

(i) "Wet gas" means any natural or petroleum gas, and refinery gas, which is sold to be processed for the extraction of vapors and liquids, from which operation some residue gas results.

(j) "Dry gas" means any natural or petroleum gas, and refinery gas, sold for consumption either directly as fuel or to be consumed in the production of any other commodity or for use in gas lift, pressure maintenance or repressuring operations, and includes such gas when delivered directly from wells, and the residue gas resulting from extraction operations.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CRUDE PETROLEUM

NOTE: How to determine maximum prices for crude petroleum. To determine the maximum price for crude petroleum, first examine section 10 to see whether a specific price has been established for the particular field. If no specific price has been established for the particular field, then the formula in section 11 shall be used to determine the maximum price.

SEC. 10. Specific prices. The following specific prices shall be the maximum prices for the items named at the points enumerated below. Except for specific maximum prices established for the Lance Creek Field under section 10 (o) (2), where a contract was in effect on October 1, 1941, for the purchase of crude petroleum at the receiving tank at a price in excess of the highest posted purchase price as of October 1, 1941, for the given pool applicable to such production and deliveries were made prior to or within 60 days after October 1, 1941, in accordance with such contract, and if a specific maximum price has been established for crude petroleum produced at such pool under section 10, then the maximum price at the receiving tank for the production covered by the contract or any renewal of such contract or a new contract between the same buyer and seller concerning the same production shall be the sum of the price actually charged on October 1, 1941, or if no delivery was made on October 1, 1941, on the first delivery after such date and the difference between the specific price as set out in this section 10 and the highest posted price as of October 1, 1941, except that on and after May 17, 1943, the maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum produced in the Franklin heavy sand crude area located in Venango County, Pennsylvania, shall be the sum of the two amounts specified above and 20¢ per barrel.

Illustration: A contract for the purchase of crude petroleum was in effect on October 1, 1941, at 25¢ per barrel above the posted price, which posted price was $1.00 per barrel, and a specific price for the pool is established at $1.10 per barrel. The maximum price will be the sum of the contract price and the difference between the specific price and the posted price. The difference between the specific price ($1.10) and the posted price ($1.00) is .10, therefore, the maximum price would be 10¢ plus the contract price ($1.25) or $1.35.

Where contracts of the type described above were in effect on October 1, 1941, duly authenticated copies of such contracts shall be filed by the purchaser with the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., within thirty days after August 19, 1943, unless copies of said contracts have heretofore been filed with the Office of Price Administration.

(a) Arkansas—(1) McKamie, Dorcheat, Macedonia and Big Creek pools. The maximum price at the receiving tank for sour distillate produced in the McKamie pool, Lafayette County, Arkansas, and in the Dorcheat pool, the Macedonia pool and Big Creek pool, Columbia County, Arkansas, shall be $1.25 per barrel.

(2) Smackover Field. The maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum produced in the Smackover Field, Ouachita and Union Counties, Arkansas, shall be a flat price of 98¢ per barrel.

(3) Smart Field. The maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum of 40° API gravity and above, produced in the Smart Field in Columbia County, Arkansas shall be $1.18 per barrel with the customary differentials for lower gravity crudes.

(4) Stephens Field. The maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum of 40° API gravity and above produced in the Stephens Field in Nevada, Ouachita and Columbia Counties, Arkansas, shall be $1.18 per barrel with the customary differentials for lower gravity crudes.

(5) Urbana Field. Effective January 12, 1944, the maximum price at the receiving tank for heavy Urbana crude oil produced in the Urbana Field, Union County, Arkansas, shall be 88¢ per barrel.

(b) California—(1) Ventura Avenue Field. Effective February 2, 1942, the maximum price at the receiving tank for royalty crude petroleum produced in the Ventura Avenue Oil Field on all sales made to Shell Oil Company, Inc., lessee, and its successors and assigns by the persons entitled from time to time to share in the royalty interests reserved under oil leases known as the Taylor, Edison and Gosnell leases, shall be as follows:

SEC. 11. Formula for determining maximum prices. (a) The maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum from any given pool shall be the posted purchase price as of October 1, 1941, for such pool.

(b) Where on October 1, 1941, there was for any given pool no posted purchase price, or more than one posted purchase price, the maximum price for a particular producer at the receiving tank for crude petroleum from such pool shall be the price paid for crude petroleum at any receiving tank of the same producer as of October 1, 1941, unless this price is below the highest of the posted purchase prices, if any, and in that case, the maximum price shall be the highest posted purchase price: Provided, however, That a price paid pursuant to a contract in effect on October 1, 1941, and entered into prior to that date, shall not be considered in determining the maximum price for crude petroleum unless the contract price reflected current market conditions on or about October 1, 1941.

(c) Where a contract was in effect on October 1, 1941, for the purchase of crude petroleum at the receiving tank at a price in excess of the highest posted purchase price for the given pool applicable to such production and deliveries were made prior to or within 60 days after October 1, 1941, in accordance with such contract, then the price actually charged on October 1, 1941, or if no delivery was made on October 1, 1941, on the first delivery after such date, shall be the maximum price for the production covered by the contract.

(1) Such tentative price.

(2) An explanation as to why it is impossible to determine his maximum price under paragraph (a), (b) or (c) of this section 11.

(3) A description of the available transportation facilities, and a description of the gravity, characteristics and source of the crude petroleum in question.

Such tentative price shall be the maximum price for crude petroleum produced from the same pool until a substitute maximum price is set in writing by the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. If a seller and purchaser have agreed upon a price for the sale of crude petroleum subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration, a maximum price determined in accordance with this paragraph (d) shall be effective retroactively to February 2, 1942, or the date of the agreement whichever is later.

(1) Such tentative differential or price.

(2) An explanation as to why it is impossible to determine his maximum price at the particular point under paragraph (e) of this regulation.

(3) The location of the source of the crude petroleum in question and of the particular delivery point, and

(4) An itemized statement of the costs involved in transporting the crude petroleum from the receiving tank to the particular delivery point and of any other items comprising the tentative differential or price.

Such tentative differential or price shall be the seller's maximum differential or maximum price for the particular sale and for all subsequent sales of crude petroleum from the same receiving tank delivered at that point unless it is disapproved in writing or a substitute maximum differential or maximum price is set in writing by the Office of Price Administration. If a seller and purchaser have agreed upon a price for a sale of crude petroleum at a point other than at the receiving tank subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration, a maximum differential or maximum price determined in accordance with this paragraph (f) shall be effective retroactively to February 2, 1942, or the date of the agreement, whichever is later.

ARTICLE III—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR NATURAL AND PETROLEUM GAS

NOTE: How to determine maximum prices for natural and petroleum gas. To determine the maximum price for natural and petroleum gas, first examine section 12 to see whether a specific price has been established. If no specific price has been established, then the maximum price for wet gas shall be determined in accordance with section 13 and the maximum price for dry gas shall be determined in accordance with section 14.

SEC. 12. Specific prices. The following specific prices shall be the maximum prices for the items named at the points enumerated below:

(a) Sweet natural gas, Hugoton Field, Oklahoma. The maximum price for sweet natural gas, without liquid hydrocarbon fractions being extracted, produced in the Hugoton Field, located in the State of Oklahoma, for use in the manufacture of furnace black, shall be 4¢ per thousand cubic feet at a base pressure of 16.4 pounds per square inch absolute.

SEC. 13. Formula for determining maximum prices—Wet gas. (a) A seller's maximum price at any particular time for wet gas produced from any given field shall be the highest prices that could be charged at that time under the terms and conditions of any contract which was in effect on May 1, 1942, between the seller and the purchaser for the sale of wet gas produced from such field.

(b) If a seller had no contract in effect with a particular purchaser on May 1, 1942, for wet gas produced from any given field, then such seller's maximum price to such purchaser at any given field shall be the highest price that could be charged at that time under the terms and conditions of any contract which was in effect on May 1, 1942, between such seller and a purchaser of the same class for the sale of wet gas produced from such field.

(c) Where a maximum price for wet gas cannot be determined under (a) or (b), or where a maximum price has been determined under (a) or (b) and the purchaser wishes to extract, condense and save additional products from the wet gas not contemplated by the contract nor by any contract between a seller and a purchaser of the same class in the given field, a tentative maximum price may be set. The purchaser shall make a request in writing to the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., for approval of such tentative maximum price within 15 days after it has been set by him. In connection with his request, the purchaser shall file with the said office a statement setting forth (1) an explanation as to why it is impossible for the seller to establish a maximum price under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section 13; (2) the tentative maximum price, and an explanation of the method used in arriving at such price; (3) the maximum prices for sellers and purchasers of the same class at the two nearest fields to the one in question, if known; and (4) if a written contract has been entered into, an authenticated copy thereof. The tentative maximum price shall be the maximum price for the production from the field to purchasers of the same class unless the tentative price is disapproved by the Office of Price Administration within 15 days from the date it is filed as provided above. Ordinarily a tentative price set under this paragraph (c) will not be approved unless such tentative price is in line with the maximum prices for sellers and purchasers of the same class at the nearest fields to the one in question. A tentative price which has been approved as a maximum price hereunder, may subsequently be changed by order of the Price Administrator.

SEC. 14. Formula for determing maximum prices; dry gas. (a) Where a contract for the sale of dry gas was in effect on May 1, 1942, the seller's maximum price to the same purchaser for deliveries of dry gas produced from the same source or sources as the dry gas covered by the contract shall not exceed the price that could be charged for such deliveries under the terms of the contract that was in effect on May 1, 1942: Provided, however, That where under the terms of any contract in effect on May 1, 1942, between a seller and a purchaser, the price for dry gas was adjustable to the price of fuel oil, the seller's maximum price to such purchaser shall be computed by regarding the maximum price of fuel oil on May 1, 1942, as the price of such fuel oil.

(b) Where a seller had contracts in effect on May 1, 1942, for the sale of dry gas but did not then have a contract with a particular purchaser for dry gas produced from the same source or sources as the dry gas covered by those contracts, the seller's maximum price to that purchaser for deliveries of dry gas shall not exceed the highest price that could be charged for such deliveries under (a) to a purchaser of the same class. If the seller had no contracts in effect on May 1, 1942, with purchasers of the same class, then, his maximum price shall be determined under (c) below.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of other paragraphs of this section 14, a seller's maximum price for deliveries of dry gas to a particular purchaser shall be either the maximum price established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section 14 or a price agreed upon between the seller and the purchaser and reported in writing to the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., by such seller within 10 days of the date of the agreement, which price must be in line with the level of maximum prices for dry gas generally prevailing in the general producing area, or if there is only one producer of dry gas in one general producing area, a price in line with the level of maximum prices prevailing in the nearest producing area in which similar conditions obtain. Once the seller has determined his maximum price for deliveries of dry gas to a particular purchaser under this paragraph (c) that price is his maximum price to that purchaser thereafter.

The seller may not accept payment for deliveries of dry gas subject to a maximum price determined under paragraph (c) until fifteen days have elapsed after mailing the report of such maximum price. Within the fifteen day period, the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment of the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment any time upon written order of the Office of Price Administration.

In connection with the report required in paragraph (c), and concurrently therewith the following information shall be submitted to the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration.

By the seller. (1) The seller's present maximum price for dry gas established by this regulation and the maximum price agreed upon accompanied both by a statement as to the point (such as the well-head, the pipe line or pipe line terminus) at which delivery to the purchaser is made, and by copies of the contract (if any) on the basis of which the present maximum price is established and of the proposed renewal thereof, or of the new contract for the sale of dry gas contemplated by the parties.

(2) Names and addresses of the purchasers of the seller's production.

By the purchaser. (3) The disposition made of the gas purchased from the seller by each purchaser thereof.

(4) Maximum prices of dry gas established for other sellers in the particular producing area or, if the seller is the only producer in the particular area, in the nearest producing areas in which similar conditions obtain. Maximum prices should be stated for each class of purchasers together with a description of each class. Estimated percentage of total volume moving at each price should be stated and the nature of the facilities used in making delivery to each purchaser should be described.

(5) A statement in writing signed by the purchaser or purchasers that they will absorb any increase in the cost of dry gas resulting from the reported price and that they do not intend prior to the expiration of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, to rely upon such cost increase as a basis of application for increase in their resale prices or in the prices of other commodities or services sold or supplied by them.

The information required to be submitted by either the purchaser or the seller may be filed either with the report or separately. Information required of either the seller or the purchaser, if filed separately, will, upon request, be treated as confidential.

(d) Where a seller is unable to determine his maximum price for dry gas under (a) or (b) above, a tentative maximum price may be set, and the seller shall comply with the requirements of filing as provided in section 13, paragraph (c), and the tentative maximum price shall be subject to disapproval and change as therein provided.

Effective date. This Regulation No. 436 shall become effective June 7, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 2d day of June 1944.

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Ration Order 11 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.5353 (a) (1) is amended by adding after the period at the end of the subparagraph the sentence, "However, such a ration may be issued only for equipment acquired before June 1, 1944 unless the applicant was, at the time he acquired the equipment, eligible for a new oil cooking stove under section 2.4 (a) (9) of Ration Order 9A."

(The zones are described in § 1394.5330.) There are five (5) validity periods, all extending through August 31, 1945. Fuel oil may be transferred to a consumer in exchange for any Period 1 coupons on and after the date (but not before June 1, 1944) on which the consumer receives the coupon sheet from the Board, Provided, That the date of receipt is entered by him on the coupon sheet. If he opens a fuel oil ration bank account for any fuel oil dealer establishment he must become a depositor as to all his fuel oil dealer establishments (including those where he is and those where he is not a distributor under Ration Order No. 5C). However, no separate fuel oil ration bank account may be opened for any fuel oil dealer establishment, or any group of them, for which he does not maintain a gasoline ration bank account.

This amendment shall become effective on June 6, 1944.

PART 1515—PETROLEUM PRODUCTION OPERATIONS

OPERATIONS IN CALIFORNIA

§ 1515.10 Supplementary Order No. 4, as amended June 1, 1944, to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944—(a) Scope of this order. Except as otherwise modified by the provisions of any other order issued as a supplement to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, or by the provisions of any specific exception issued pursuant to Conservation Order M–68 or to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, the provisions of this supplementary order shall to the extent provided herein be applicable to the use of material in petroleum production operations in the fields and pools of the State of California listed in Exhibit A, but not elsewhere.

(b) Definitions. The definitions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, shall apply in this supplementary order. In addition:

(1) "Designated area" means the pools specified in Exhibit A of this supplementary order.

(2) "New well" means any well spudded subsequent to December 23, 1941.

(c) Authorized uses of material to drill new wells in the designated area. Notwithstanding the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, material may be used to drill, complete, and provide additions to any new well in the designated area, only where:

(1) The well is drilled to, and completed in, a pool listed in Columns 3 and 4 of Exhibit A opposite the name of the field in which such pool is located, and

(2) The well is drilled to a vertical depth not greater than the depth specified in Column 5 of Exhibit A opposite the name of the pool to which such well is drilled, and

(3) The well is completed in only one pool, and

(4) The well is drilled, with respect to the pool in which it is to be completed, on a drilling unit of at least the size prescribed for that pool in Column 6 of Exhibit A and in conformity with all of the uniform well spacing provisions for such size drilling unit contained in paragraph (d): Provided, That where no drilling unit size is prescribed for a pool in Column 6 of Exhibit A the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not extend to such pool, and

(5) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which the well is located are first consolidated, and

(6) The well is drilled with due diligence to maintain a vertical well bore.

However, a well may be intentionally deviated from the vertical if the surface location of the well (in this case, the place on the surface directly over the bore hole at the lowest at which the well is open to production) conforms to the other provisions of this supplementary order.

Where a well is intentionally deviated from the vertical, a directional survey of the well bore must be filed with the Director of Production, District Five, within thirty days after completion of the well.

(d) Uniform well-spacing provisions—(1) Uniform 5 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) may be considered to conform to "uniform 5 acre well-spacing" only where, with respect to the pool in which the well is to be completed,

(i) The well is located on a drilling unit consisting of at least 5 contiguous surface acres, no portion of which drilling unit is attributable to or falls within 200 feet of any other drilling or producible oil or gas well located on the same lease or property, and

(ii) The well is located at least 400 feet from every other drilling or productible oil or gas well, and

(iv) The distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit upon which the well is located does not exceed a distance of 750 feet.

(2) Uniform 10 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) may be considered to conform to "uniform 10 acre well-spacing" only where, with respect to the pool in which the well is to be completed,

(i) The well is located on a drilling unit consisting of at least 10 contiguous surface acres, no portion of which drilling unit is attributable to or falls within 250 feet of any other drilling or producible oil or gas well located on the same lease or property, and

(iii) The well is located at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line separating unconsolidated property interests, and

(iv) The distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit upon which the well is located does not exceed a distance of 1100 feet.

(3) Uniform 20 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) may be considered to conform to "uniform 20 acre well-spacing" only where, with respect to the pool in which the well is to be completed,

(i) The well is located on a drilling unit consisting of at least 20 contiguous surface acres, no portion of which drilling unit is attributable to or falls within 300 feet of any other drilling or producible oil or gas well located on the same lease or property, and

(ii) The well is located at least 800 feet from every other drilling or producible oil or gas well, and

(iii) The well is located at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line separating unconsolidated property interests, and

(iv) The distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit upon which the well is located does not exceed a distance of 1500 feet.

(4) Uniform 40 acre well-spacing. Each new well drilled pursuant to paragraph (c) may be considered to conform to "uniform 40 acre well-spacing" only where, with respect to the pool in which the well is to be completed,

(i) The well is located on a drilling unit consisting of at least 40 contiguous surface acres, no portion of which drilling unit is attributable to or falls within 300 feet of any other drilling or producible oil or gas well located on the same lease or property, and

(ii) The well is located at least 900 feet from every other drilling or producible oil or gas well, and

(iii) The well is located at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line, or subdivision line separating unconsolidated property interests, and

(iv) The distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit upon which the well is located does not exceed a distance of 2,100 feet.

(e) Computation of acreage attributable to wells. (1) The acreage attributable to any well spudded on or before December 23, 1941, shall be determined by assigning to the well an acreage equivalent to that of the existing well density contiguous to the well. In no event need the attributed acreage be greater than that provided in Exhibit A for a new well to the same pool in which such well is completed.

(2) The acreage attributable to any well spudded after December 23, 1941, shall be the same as the drilling unit assigned to such well pursuant to Conservation Order M–68, Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended

January 1, 1944, or any supplement or exception thereto, or any amendment thereof, whichever is applicable.

(f) Authorized uses of material for deepening, plugging back or reworking, and recompletion of wells. Notwithstanding the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, to the extent that the use of material for deepening, plugging back, or reworking, and recompletion operations in connection therewith, is not prohibited or otherwise limited by the provisions of any exception heretofore or hereafter issued pursuant to Conservation Order M–68, Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, or any amendments thereof, such deepening, plugging back, or reworking, and recompletion operations in connection therewith, may be undertaken in the designated area without obtaining further authorization, only where the material is used for or in connection with any of the following operations:

(1) Plugging back or redrilling, and recompletion of any well in or to a shallower pool, Provided, That,

(i) The well is not recompleted in any shallower pool from which production is regulated pursuant to allocation schedules issued by the Petroleum Administration for War pursuant to Recommendation No. 19 or in any other manner, and

(ii) Redrilling does not commence from a point more than 500 feet above the top of the pool in which the well is to be recompleted, and

(iii) No well shall thereafter be drilled or deepened to replace a plugged-back well in the pool in which it was abandoned, unless such well could have been drilled or deepened, before the plug-back operation, under the terms of paragraph (c);

(2) Reworking or deepening, and recompletion of any well in or to the same pool in which the well was last completed, Provided, That,

(i) The well, in the reworking or deepening operation, is not drilled into a deeper pool, and

(ii) The operation does not involve drilling or redrilling from a point more than 500 feet above the top of the pool;

(3) Deepening and recompletion of any well in another pool, if, with respect to the pool in which the well is to be deepened and recompleted, the well is located on a drilling unit of at least the size prescribed for that pool in Column 6 of Exhibit A and in conformity with the provisions of paragraph (c).

If any well recompleted in conformity with the provisions of this paragraph (f) is recompleted as a gas or condensate well, it shall not be produced other than for a test period of not exceeding 15 days, and no material may be used to produce the well or provide additions therefor, except as necessary for such testing of the well, until authorization has been granted by an authorized official of the Petroleum Administration for War. However, this provision shall not apply to the recompletion of any gas or condensate well in conformity with paragraph (f) (2).

(g) Restrictions on wells in pools designated "E" in Column 6 of Exhibit A. Notwithstanding the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, or this Supplementary Order, no material may be used to drill, complete, or recomplete any well, except to recomplete in conformity with paragraph (f) (2), in any pool marked "E" in Column 6 of Exhibit A opposite the name of the field in which such pool is located, unless the use is authorized by specific exception issued by the Petroleum Administration for War in response to an application filed as provided for by paragraph (j).

(h) Restriction on exposing more than one pool in same well-bore. Notwithstanding the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, or this supplementary order, no material may be used to complete or recomplete any well in the State of California in more than one pool, unless the use is authorized by specific exception issued by the Petroleum Administration for War in response to an application filed as provided for by paragraph (j).

(i) Authorized uses of material for installation of pumping or other artificial lifting facilities. Material may be used on any well to install, reinstall, or transfer pumping or other artificial lifting equipment, including a central pumping power unit, or to install additional tubing or sucker rods.

However, in no instance may pumping or other artificial lifting equipment be installed on any well which will produce its allotment by natural flow or be installed on any well unless the equipment is to be used regularly thereafter in producing the well to the extent permitted by allocation schedules approved by the Petroleum Administration for War.

(j) Applications for exception to this order. Where a person desires to use material in connection with production operations but cannot do so under the provisions of this supplementary order or Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, he may make an application for an exception by filing the information requested in PAW Form 3 (revised) attached to this supplementary order. The application shall be filed in duplicate and both copies addressed to:

(1) The District Director of Production, District Five, Petroleum Administration for War, Subway Terminal Building, Los Angeles 13, California, for a crude oil operation, including pressure maintenance, repressuring, and secondary recovery operations, or

(2) The District Director of Natural Gas and Natural Gasoline, District Five, Petroleum Administration for War, Subway Terminal Building, Los Angeles 13, California, for a natural gas, natural gasoline, or condensate operation.

(k) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this supplementary order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this supplementary order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this supplementary order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or may be subject to other appropriate action.

(l) Effective date. This supplementary order shall take effect on the date of issuance.

Chapter XVIII—Office of Economic Stabilization

PART 4001—WAGES AND SALARIES

AGRICULTURAL LABOR

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, and particularly by the act of October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Amend the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, to aid in preventing inflation, and for other purposes" (Public Law No. 729, 77th Cong., 2d Sess.), as amended by the Public Debt Act of 1943, entitled "An Act to increase the debt limit of the United States, and for other purposes" (Public Law No. 34, 78th Cong., 1st Sess.), and vested in turn by the President in the Economic Stabilization Director by Executive Order 9328 (8 F.R. 4681) the following amendments to the regulations promulgated by the Director of Economic Stabilization, dated August 28, 1943 (8 F.R. 11960, 12139, 16702), are hereby promulgated:

1. Section 4001.6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 4001.6 Authority of the War Food Administrator. Notwithstanding the provisions of §§ 4001.2, 4001.4, 4001.10 and 4001.13, the War Food Administrator shall have the authority to determine whether any salary or wage payments to agricultural labor are made in contravention of the Act or any rulings, orders or regulations promulgated thereunder: Provided, however, That the provisions hereof shall not be construed to affect any authority which the National War Labor Board may have by virtue of the War Labor Disputes Act (P.L. 89, 78th Cong.) and Executive Order 9017 (7 F.R. 237) as extended by Section 1, Title III of Executive Order 9250 (7 F.R. 7871, 7873). Any such determination by the Administrator shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of an employer for the purpose of any law or regulations, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Administrator made pursuant to the authority conferred on him shall be final and shall not be subject to review by the Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings.

2. Section 4001.7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 4001.7 Wage and salary increases for agricultural labor. Considering that the general level of salaries and wages for agricultural labor is substandard, that a wide disparity now exists between salaries and wages paid labor in agriculture and salaries and wages paid labor in other essential war industries, and that the retention and recruitment of agricultural labor is of prime necessity in supplying the United Nations with needed foods and fibers, no increases in wages and salaries of agricultural labor, notwithstanding any other provision of any rules, orders or regulations under the Act of October 2, 1942, shall be deemed in violation of the Act or of any rules, orders or regulations thereunder except as follows:

(a) After determination by the War Food Administrator of maximum permissible rates of compensation with respect to areas, crops, classes of employers or otherwise, and public notice of such determination, no increases in or payment of salaries or wages for agricultural labor shall be made above the rates specified in the public notice without the approval of the War Food Administrator. In no case, however, shall there be any reduction of wages or salaries for any particular work below the highest wages or salaries paid therefor between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942. As used in the preceding sentence, the words "for any particular work" refer to the particular work of the particular employee and not merely to a particular type of work.

(b) No increases shall be made in salary or wage payments to agricultural labor which are $2,400.00 per annum or more, or which will raise such salary or wage payments to more than $2,400.00 per annum, without the prior approval of the War Food Administrator.

As used in this section, the phrase "$2,400 per annum" shall mean $200 a month, or the equivalent weekly, hourly, piece work rate or comparable basis.

Dated this 1st day of June 1944.

FRED M. VINSON,
Economic Stabilization Director.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Project No. 405]

SUSQUEHANNA POWER COMPANY, AND PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY

ORDER DETERMINING ACTUAL LEGITIMATE ORIGINAL COST AND PRESCRIBING ACCOUNTING THEREFOR

MAY 23, 1944.

Upon consideration of the matters of record with respect to the actual legitimate original cost of Project No. 405, The Susquehanna Power Company and Philadelphia Electric Power Company, Licensees, as of December 31, 1932; and having on this date made and entered its Opinion No. 115, which is hereby referred to and made a part hereof by reference; and

It appearing to the Commission that:

The Licensees, in their initial cost statement, filed with the Commission on March 1, 1934, claimed $54,866,625.57 as the actual legitimate original cost of this project as of December 31, 1932;

The Commission finds and determines that:

(1) The record in this proceeding is inadequate for the disposition of the items totaling $1,301,042.05, which is the total of the amounts listed in Column (4) under the heading "Reserved" in the tabulation appended to the opinion, designated Table "A," and said amounts are reserved for future disposition by the Commission;

(2) The amounts totaling $47,432,546.09, listed in Column (5) under the heading "Allowed" in said Table "A," are a part of the actual legitimate original cost of this project as of December 31, 1932, and said amounts totaling $47,432,546.09 are allowed;

(3) The amounts totaling $6,133,037.43, listed in Column (6) under the heading "Disallowed" in said Table "A," do not constitute part of the actual legitimate original cost of this project as of December 31, 1932, and said amounts totaling $6,133,037.43 are disallowed;

The Commission orders that:

(A) The Licensees establish and maintain control accounts with reference to this project showing a total debit balance in their plant accounts of $47,432,546.09 (being the total of the amounts listed in Column (5) under the heading "Allowed" in said Table "A") as actual legitimate original cost of this project as of December 31, 1932;

(B) The Licensees establish and maintain subsidiary accounts showing and substantiating all entries in such control accounts and classifying the total for plant in appropriate detail and in accordance with the provisions of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Public Utilities and Licensees, revised to December 31, 1936;

(C) The Licensees remove from project plant accounts and transfer to Account No. 110, Other Physical Property, the amounts totaling $46,961.44, listed in Column (7) under the heading "Other Physical Property" in said Table "A";

(D) The Licensees remove from project plant accounts and transfer to Account No. 111.1, Investments in Securities of Associated Companies, on the books of Philadelphia Electric Power Company, Pennsylvania Licensee, the amounts totaling $103,133.79, listed in Column (8) under the Heading "P. E. P. Co. Investment in Securities of The S. P. Co." in said Table "A"; subject, however, to the reservation by the Commission of full jurisdiction and authority to determine the adjustments which should be made to the latter account as a result of the disallowances made by this order of amounts claimed as project costs;

(E) The Licensees remove from project plant accounts and charge to Account No. 223.2, Accounts Payable to Associated Companies, on the books of The Susquehanna Power Company, Maryland Licensee, the amount of $380,000.00, listed in Column (9) under the heading "Accounts Payable to Associated Companies" in said Table "A";

(F) The Licensees remove from project plant accounts and charge to Account No. 271, Earned Surplus, the amounts totaling $5,602,942.20, listed in Column (10) in said Table "A": Provided, however, The amounts marked by an asterisk in said Column (10), totaling $4,372,263.67, may be charged to Account No. 270, Capital Surplus, if a capital surplus is properly created for that purpose;

(G) A further hearing be held on a date to be set by the Commission with respect to the portions of the claimed cost totaling $1,301,042.05 (including applicable interest, and being the total of the items in Column (4) of said Table "A") incident to the construction of a second-track road-bed for the Pennsylvania Railroad in connection with the relocation of a portion of the Columbia and Port Deposit Branch of said railroad in the area of the project reservoir;

(H) Within sixty (60) days of service of this order, Licensees comply with this order and submit to the Commission certified copies of their entries showing such compliance.

The Director may, after said review, take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final. The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not be construed to deprive the Director of authority to consider originally any petition for relief from hardship submitted in accordance herewith. The Director may consider any such petition and take such action with reference thereto that he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(g) Violations. Any person who violates any provision of this order may, in accordance with the applicable procedure, be prohibited from receiving, making any deliveries of, or using cucumber pickles or pickle products, or any other material subject to priority or allocation control by any governmental agency. PAR. 5. Section 29.23 (k)-1 of Regulations 111, and § 19.23 (k)-1 of Regulations 103 as amended by Treasury Decision 5234, approved March 1, 1943, are each amended as follows:

(A) By striking from the third sentence of the second paragraph of paragraph (a) of such sections the words "which becomes worthless", and inserting in lieu thereof the words "which becomes wholly worthless".

(B) By striking the first two sentences of the first paragraph of paragraph (b) of such sections, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

If, from all the surrounding and attending circumstances, the Commissioner is satisfied that a debt is partially worthless, the amount which has become worthless, to the extent charged off during the taxable year, shall be allowed as a deduction in computing net income. If a taxpayer claims a deduction for a part of a debt for the taxable year within which such part of the debt is charged off and such deduction is disallowed for such year and the debt becomes partially worthless subsequent to such year, a deduction may be allowed for a subsequent taxable year, not in excess of the amount charged off in the prior year plus any amount charged off in the subsequent year, the charge-off in the prior year, if consistently maintained as such, being sufficient to that extent to meet the charge-off requirement. Before a taxpayer may deduct a debt in part, he must be able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Commissioner the amount thereof which is uncollectible and the part thereof which was charged off.

(C) By striking the last sentence of paragraph (c) of such sections, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

If a taxpayer does not claim a deduction in its return for such a totally or partially worthless debt for the year in which such charge-off takes place, but claims such deduction for a later year, then such charge-off in the prior year will be deemed to have been involuntary and the deduction shall be allowed for the year for which claimed, if the taxpayer produces sufficient evidence to show (1) that the debt became wholly worthless in such later year or became recoverable only in part subsequent to the year of such involuntary charge-off, as the case may be, and (2) that, to the extent that the deduction claimed in the later year for a debt partially worthless was not involuntarily charged off in prior years, it was charged off in the later year.

PAR. 6. Section 29.23 (k)-3 of Regulations 111, and § 19.23 (k)-3 of Regulations 103 as amended by Treasury Decision 5234, are each amended by changing the first sentence of the first paragraph of such sections to read as follows:

If mortgaged or pledged property is lawfully sold (whether to the creditor or another purchaser) for less than the amount of the debt, and the portion of the indebtedness remaining unsatisfied after such sale is wholly or partially uncollectible, the mortgagee or pledgee may deduct such amount (to the extent that it constitutes capital or represents an item the income from which has been returned by him) as a bad debt for the taxable year in which it has become wholly worthless or is charged off as partially worthless.

PAR. 7. Section 29.23 (k)-4 of Regulations 111, and § 19.23 (k)-4 of Regulations 103 as amended by Treasury Decision 5258, approved April 13, 1943, are each amended by striking out the second sentence of the fourth paragraph in such sections, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

If, however, due, for instance, to the financial condition of a debtor, or conditions other than market fluctuation, the taxpayer will recover upon maturity none or only a part of the debt evidenced by the bonds or other similar obligations (which bonds or other obligations are not securities as defined in this section) and he so demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Commission, and if he has made a proper charge-off with respect to the debt partially uncollectible, he may deduct in computing net income the uncollectible part of the debt evidenced by the bonds or other similar obligations.

PAR. 8. Section 29.23 (k)-4 of Regulations 111 is amended by changing the last sentence of the last paragraph to read as follows:

For the purpose of this section, a corporation is deemed to be affiliated with the taxpayer only if the taxpayer owns at least 95 percent of each class of the stock of such corporation, if more than 90 percent of the aggregate of the gross incomes of such corporation for all taxable years has been from sources other than royalties, rents (except rents derived from rental of properties to employees of the company in the ordinary course of its operating business), dividends, interest (except interest received on deferred purchase price of operating assets sold), annuities, or gains from the sales or exchanges of stocks and securities, and if the taxpayer is a domestic corporation.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 13, as Amended June 3, 1944]

§ 944.34 Priorities Regulation 13—(a) Purpose of this regulation. This regulation, in general, describes the rules under which materials may be sold by persons who are not in the regular business of selling such materials. While most sales of this kind will be sales of frozen, idle, or excess materials the regulation also covers any sale from inventory by such persons. For example, a person who has idle materials on hand because his business has been converted to war work, or because the business he used to carry on has been stopped or limited by War Production Board orders, or whose contract has been cancelled or changed, may sell off the idle or excess materials only under the rules in this regulation and, if he follows this regulation, he does not have to look at any other order or regulation except in a few cases which are described in paragraph (f) (2) below. This regulation also controls liquidation sales, bankruptcy sales, general auction sales, and other special sales, as defined in paragraph (b) (1).

(b) Special definitions used in this regulation. This regulation deals only with "special sales" of "industrial materials" or "finished products." As used in the regulation, those terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Special sale" means a sale of a material or product by a person who does not, in the regular course of his business, sell it in that form. For example, if a manufacturer sells the raw material he has bought to use in making his regular product, it is a special sale because selling raw material is not his regular business. Or, if a contractor has bought building materials and equipment to build a building and cannot finish it and sells them, that is a special sale because his business is building houses, not selling lumber and nails and lighting fixtures. Liquidation sales by trustees in bankruptcy, receivers and other kinds of liquidators (unless they are continuing to operate a business) and sales by general auctioneers are special sales as that type of person is not considered to be regularly in the business of selling any particular products.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind. It includes both "industrial materials" and "finished products."

(3) "Industrial materials" means the simple kinds of materials that finished products are made out of. It includes simple material forms like pipe, metal sheet and rod, wire, lumber, chemicals, nails, nuts and bolts. These are things that are bought for use in making something else, or are to be put together with other things to make a finished product.

(4) "Finished products" means completed articles which are ready for use just as they are and which do not need to be put together with something else before they can be used. It includes wrenches and hammers, assembled parts, replacement parts and products like tools, machinery, motors, valves, drums and fabricated industrial, agricultural or household equipment. Other examples of what it includes are clothing, furnishings, light bulbs, etc.

(5) "Used materials" means any industrial materials or finished products which have been put into actual use.

(6) Materials not covered by this regulation. There are three types of materials which are not covered by this regulation. They are the following:

(i) Scrap. This includes both scrap normally generated in production and other material which is sold as scrap. There are special orders covering certain types of scrap and except in those cases scrap may be sold to a scrap dealer.

(ii) Rationed products which are controlled by another government agency.

(iii) Foods for humans or animals, medicines, tobacco, oils and fats, petroleum and petroleum products including natural and liquefied petroleum gases.

(c) Kinds of special sales which may be made. If a person wants to make a "special sale" (as described above), the rules in this regulation apply and only these rules. There is no need to look at any other order or regulation, and these rules must be followed, no matter how the material was bought, and no matter what any other order or regulation provides. The only exceptions to this rule are stated in paragraphs (f) (2) and (3). The types of special sales which may be made are the following:

(1) Materials not on Lists A or B. (i) Industrial materials not on List A may be sold freely to anyone.

(ii) Finished products not on List B may be sold freely to any producer who makes such a product in the form in which the holder has it, or to a wholesaler whose regular business is selling that sort of a product either to industrial users or to other distributors for resale. They also may be sold to anyone else on a rating of AA-5 or higher. If a holder has a total of not more than $100.00 worth of the particular finished product he wants to sell, he may sell it freely to anyone. In deciding whether he has $100.00 worth, he must count all products of the same type and style. For example, all wrenches, or chairs or ash cans. This does not mean that a person may sell freely separate lots worth less than $100.00 if he has more than that amount. It only allows the sale if all he has of that product is worth $100.00 or less. A holder may also make a special sale of a finished product which is not on List B if he obtains permission from the War Production Board as explained below in paragraph (c) (2) (iii).

(2) Materials on List A or List B. If the material that the holder wants to sell is one of the industrial materials listed on List A or is a finished product appearing on List B, the following are the only kinds of sales that can be made.

(i) Sales may be made in accordance with List A or List B. Those lists have four columns showing classes of buyers who might want to buy materials. Opposite each material on the lists in each column is shown whether, and under what conditions, sales can be made to the class of buyer described in the heading of the column.

(ii) A holder may sell freely to one of the following Government corporations, or to anyone buying as agent for one of them: Commodity Credit Corporation, Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company or Rubber Reserve Company.

(iii) A holder may sell if he has been given permission by the War Production Board to make the particular sale. Form WPB-1161 (FD-470) should be used in applying for permission. It shows the information which is needed before permission can be given and it should be sent to the regional office of the War Production Board in the region where the material is located. Copies of this form can be obtained from district or regional offices of the War Production Board. If a note in List A or List B states that another form is to be used, application should be made on that form.

(iv) A holder may sell freely to anyone if he has a total of not more than $100 worth of the particular material to be sold, unless it is one of the few materials for which special rules and amounts are stated in Column 6 of List A or List B. In deciding whether the holder has $100 worth he must count all material of the same type and composition. For example, all zinc sheet or cattle hides, or all cotton duck, or all shovels or hammers. This paragraph does not mean that a person may sell freely lots worth less than $100 if he has more than that amount. It only allows the sales if all he has of that kind of material is worth $100 or less.

(v) If the material is copper, copper base alloy, aluminum or steel in a form described as a "controlled material" in CMP Regulation 1, the holder may sell it to a buyer who gives him an order bearing a CMP allotment symbol or number and this certification:

Or the certification may be in the form set out in CMP Regulation 7 or in any other form which may be used in placing an authorized controlled material order. The buyer must charge material bought under this paragraph, against his CMP allotment account. If the material which the holder wants to sell is steel he may also sell it to steel warehouses, dealers or distributors on orders bearing the endorsements described in M-21-b-1 and M-21-b-2.

(vi) Special permission to sell controlled materials. The War Production Board may give special permission to sell idle or excess controlled materials for any use which is permitted under War Production Board orders or regulations either to a person who has no allotment or to a person who already has an allotment and an authorized production schedule under the Controlled Material Plan. This permission may be given only if the material has been reported to the War Production Board as idle or excess and if the material is iron, steel, aluminum, copper or copper base alloy in controlled material form. If this permission is given, the holder need not get from the buyer the certification provided in paragraph (c) (2) (v) above and if the buyer has an allotment he does not have to charge against his allotment account the amount of controlled materials bought under this special permission. In the case of copper and copper base alloy in controlled material form, the above permission may be given only if the buyer has a production schedule authorized under the Controlled Materials Plan and will use the material for the same purpose for which the production schedule was authorized. The seller may apply for this permission in person or by writing, wiring or telephoning, giving full details about the size, shape, analysis, specifications and quantity of the material and the purpose for which it will be used. Requests for such permission should be directed to the regional office of the War Production Board for the region in which the material is located or to the appropriate materials division.

(3) Special orders. If the War Production Board, by an order or in any other way, has ruled that all persons engaged in a particular business may sell or exchange materials between themselves, they can do so.

(4) Used materials. Used materials may be sold freely to anyone unless there is a notation in List A or List B restricting the sale of the particular used material which the holder wants to sell.

(d) Transfers within a company. If a person wants to transfer material from one of his plants or operating units to another one which normally purchases separately, the transfer is considered equivalent to a sale and he may make it only under the same conditions as he could make a special sale under this regulation. In any other case where a person who has obtained material with priorities assistance wants to use it for another purpose, he should refer to § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation 1 or (in the case of controlled materials or Class A products obtained with an allotment) to paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation 1.

(e) Replacing material sold. If a person sells material under this regulation to someone who gives him a priority rating or a CMP allotment symbol or number, the seller cannot use this rating or allotment to replace the material he has sold. The effect of this rating or symbol or number stops when the seller receives it.

(f) Sales covered by this regulation. (1) This regulation applies only to "special sales" (as described in paragraph (b) (1)) and if the holder is regularly engaged in selling a material a sale of it by him is not a special sale and he is governed by all orders and regulations of the War Production Board which apply to the material he is selling.

(2) Provisions in any orders or regulations issued before June 1, 1944 which say that this regulation does not apply may be disregarded, except for Order U-1 affecting utilities, WPB Directive 16, which provides special rules for aircraft inventory transfers, and Order P-98-c, which applies to special sales in the petroleum industry. To find the rules for making a special sale there is no need to refer to any order or regulation other than Priorities Regulation 13, outside of the three exceptions stated. However, if another order or regulation issued after June 1, 1944 expressly mentions Priorities Regulation 13 and says that this regulation does not apply to a particular type of sale, then that order or regulation takes the place of this regulation.

(3) If any seller is allowed to make a sale under this regulation, the buyer is permitted to buy and accept delivery, except that:

(i) The buyer may not violate any regulation or order controlling the quantity of material which he may have or buy or receive or the amount of any product he may make or the use that he may make of any particular material. All the prohibitions in orders against the use of materials for particular purposes remain in effect.

(ii) If any order or regulation provides that a buyer of material must make any report or furnish any information either to the War Production Board or to the seller, this regulation does not excuse him from these requirements.

(iii) If any holder of material knows that a person who wants to buy it will use it for a prohibited purpose or would have more of it than he is permitted to have, the sale cannot be made.

(g) Records. Any person making a sale under this regulation must keep sufficient records so that he can show that the sale was permitted under this regulation.

(h) Listing materials with the War Production Board. If anyone has any excess, idle or frozen material that he wants to sell, he should report it to his nearest War Production Board office giving full details about its size, shape, analysis, specifications and quantity, and they will try to help him.

(i) Letters and questions. Any letters or questions about this regulation should be sent either to the Redistribution Division of the War Production Board in Washington, marked "Ref: P.R. 13", or to any of the field offices of the War Production Board.

(j) Revisions of Lists A and B. Lists A and B attached to this regulation will be revised on the first of each month. A person wishing to sell material under this regulation should be sure that he has the list which is in effect at the time of the sale. Copies may be obtained from any field office of the War Production Board.

Issued this 3d day of June 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

LISTS A AND B

Explanation of Lists A and B: Column (1) of List A lists the industrial materials (as defined in paragraph (b) (3) that are restricted under the regulation. This shows in some instances the class or group of materials and does not always list all the trade names and related materials.

Column (1) of List B lists the finished products to which the general sales rules in paragraph (c) (1) (ii) do not apply because the finished product is either more or less restricted than the general rule.

Columns (2), (3), (4) and (5) each apply to a type of possible buyer. Opposite each material in each column is shown the conditions under which a special sale of the particular material may be made to the person described in the heading of the column.

Column (2) applies to persons who make or produce material in the form in which the holder bought it. This includes non-integrated producers. If the holder bought copper wire, column (2) refers to a wire mill, which makes copper wire. If he bought a machine tool, it refers to a company which makes that kind of a product.

Column (3) refers to persons who are permitted to buy and use the material for production, construction, maintenance, repair or operating supplies or for capital expansion or replacement.

Column (4) refers to persons who buy new, rejected or second grade materials and who rework them. This includes persons who change the form of the material by redrawing, rerolling, etc., except that it does not include controlled material producers.

Column (5) refers to persons who are wholesale dealers in the material the holder has like a wholesaler in chemicals or textiles. A wholesaler means anyone whose regular business consists in whole or in part of the sale from stock or inventory of the particular materials or products to other persons for the purpose of resale, or for fabrication or assembly into other products. It also includes persons who recondition or rebuild equipment and machinery for resale to industrial users. Such a person is not, however, relieved from compliance with any orders or regulations of the War Production Board which control the distribution of the material by him.

Column (6) contains notes which should be read whenever a star (*) or note shows on the list.

If the list shows "no," it means that the holder cannot sell to the class of person mentioned in the column head without special permission of the War Production Board except when a note in column (6) allows certain kinds of sales. Paragraph (c) (2) (iii) of the regulation tells how to get permission.

If the list shows "PR" followed by a letter and number, like "PR AA-5," it means that the holder can sell to anyone who gives him an AA-5 priority rating for the sale, or a higher rating.

If the list shows "W. O. P.," it means the holder can sell to the person at the head of the column without any priority rating or allocation or allotment being necessary.

If the list shows "X," it means that there are no persons who fall in the description at the top of the column so far as that particular material is concerned.

PART 1041—PRODUCTION, TRANSPORTATION, REFINING AND MARKETING OF PETROLEUM

[Preference Rating Order P-98-c, as Amended June 3, 1944]

To facilitate sales of idle or excess materials, equipment and facilities by persons engaged in the petroleum industry to other persons engaged in the petroleum industry and to control the acquisition of materials by persons engaged in the petroleum industry, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national war effort:

Section 1041.3 Preference Rating Order P-98-c, as amended August 24, 1943 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) Definitions. (1) "Operator" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the petroleum industry.

(2) "Surplus material" means that quantity of any item of material, usable for purposes other than scrap, in the operator's possession or under his control, which is determined as follows:

(i) For material listed on Schedule A, B or C, the quantity which is determined to be surplus critical material in accordance with the provisions of the applicable schedule.

(ii) For material not listed on Schedule A, B or C, the quantity which exceeds the quantity required or scheduled for use during the succeeding 90 days.

(3) All other definitions of Preference Rating Order P-98-b shall apply in this order.

(b) Sales of material between operators. (1) Any operator may sell or transfer material to any operator, and may sell or transfer material from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same enterprise under common ownership or control.

(2) Any operator may sell or transfer material to any supplier. Any sale or transfer of such material by a supplier to an operator may be freely made, but must conform to the provisions of this order.

(3) Any transaction effected pursuant to this paragraph (b) must be accomplished without the use of a preference rating or an allotment number or symbol, as the case may be.

(4) Where any material is to be used by an operator outside of the United States, its territories or possessions, no operator may sell, transfer or accept delivery of such material under the provisions of this paragraph (b) unless Form WPB-1161 is filed with the Petroleum Administration for War prior to any such sale or transfer. For the purposes of this subparagraph, Form WPB-1161 will be treated as an information form only and not as an application, and the sale or transfer may be effected immediately after its filing.

(c) Restrictions on acquisition of material. No operator may accept delivery of any material for ultimate use in the United States, its territories (other than Hawaii) or possessions, in a quantity which, if accepted by the operator, would result in surplus material for that operator.

(d) Participation in Materials Redistribution Program. Where any material is to be used by an operator in the United States, its territories or possessions, such operator shall file such applications as are required by the PAW–Materials Redistribution Program No 2 and shall participate in such program to the extent required by its terms and provisions. Any operator required to make a certification of compliance under the provisions of the PAW–Materials Redistribution Program No. 2 may be deprived of priorities assistance where a determination has been made that such operator has surplus material which he has not made available for redistribution in accordance with such program.

(e) Communications and appeals. (1) All reports which may be required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Materials Division, Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–98–c.

(2) Any person affected by this order or the applicable provisions of Part 1 of the PAW–Materials Redistribution Program No. 2, who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may file an appeal with the Petroleum Administration for War, setting forth in a letter in triplicate, the pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. Action with respect to this order and the PAW–Materials Redistribution Program No. 2 may thereupon be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(f) Applicability of orders and regulations. (1) An operator may sell or transfer material to any person other than an operator or a supplier in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation 13.

(2) Any sale, delivery or transfer of material or the use of implementing documents accomplished under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this order shall not be subject to the provisions of CMP Regulation 2 or paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation 5 (except for any sale, delivery or transfer to an operator in the Territory of Hawaii), or to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 1 or 13, and shall be expressly permitted by paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation 13.

(3) In the event that a supplier sells or transfers to any person other than an operator any merchant trade products, as defined in Order M–21–b–2, acquired from an operator under this order, the merchant trade products so sold or transferred shall be deemed to have been acquired by the supplier under Order M–21–b–2.

(4) This order does not authorize the violation of any acquisition, inventory, quota or use provisions imposed by any applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board or the Petroleum Administration for War in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

(h) Further limitations on use of priorities assistance. The Petroleum Administration for War may issue in its own name further restrictions or limitations on the use of priorities assistance by operators in the petroleum industry.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 3d day of June 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3288 [1]—PLUMBING AND HEATING EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–173 as amended June 3, 1944]

OIL AND GAS BURNING DOMESTIC SPACE HEATERS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of metals for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3288.41 [1] General Limitation Order L–173—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Domestic space heaters" means any device (except electric) for the direct heating of the space in and adjacent to that in which the device is located, designed for use without heat distribution pipes or ducts as integral parts of such heating devices, and includes but is not limited to circulating heaters, radiant heaters, floor furnaces and wall furnaces: Provided, That "domestic space heaters" does not include direct fired gas unit heaters.

(2) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum classified as grade No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, or 6, including Bunker "C" fuel oil, kerosene range oil, gas oils and any other liquid petroleum product used for the same purpose as the above designated grades.

(b) General restrictions. (1) No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic space heaters using fuel oil as fuel, except:

(i) To fill a contract, subcontract or purchase order for such heaters for delivery to or for the account of the Army, Navy, War Shipping Administration, or Maritime Commission of the United States; or

(ii) For approved installation in a building or project authorized under an order in the P–19 or P–55 series or on Form GA–1456 or Form WPB–2896, provided that such space heaters of the types controlled by Limitation Order L–23–c are limited to the sizes and capacities permitted by that order.

(iii) Any number of such heaters (other than floor or wall furnaces) in any calendar quarter beginning after June 30, 1943, which he can manufacture, fabricate, or assemble by using a total weight of iron and steel not in excess of 8% of the total weight of iron and steel which he used in the manufacture, fabrication or assembly of such heaters during the twelve months' period, July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941: Provided, That any heater manufactured under this subparagraph (iii) conforms to the models and BTU ratings stipulated in Limitation Order L–23–c, Schedule B—Stoves—Item 4.

(2) No person shall manufacture, fabricate, or assemble any floor or wall furnaces using gas as fuel except:

(i) To fill a contract, subcontract or purchase order for such floor or wall furnaces for delivery to or for the account of the Army, Navy, War Shipping Administration, or Maritime Commission of the United States; or

(ii) For approved installation in a building or project authorized under an order in the P–19 or P–55 series or on Form GA–1456 or Form WPB–2896.

(c) Replacement parts. Nothing in this order shall be construed to prohibit or limit the production, by any manufacturer, of replacement parts for domestic space heaters using fuel oil or gas as fuel.

(d) Violations and false statements. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(e) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB–1477 with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(f) Applicability of regulations. All persons and transactions affected by this order are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other order issued by the War Production Board, or to be issued by it hereafter, limits the use of any material to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern, unless otherwise specified therein.

(h) Routing of correspondence. Reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–173.

Issued this 3d day of June 1944.

In accordance with the provisions of § 1210.1 General Limitation Order L–112, which the following order supplements: it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1226.122 Supplementary Limitation Order L–112–a—(a) Approved standard models. Pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of Limitation Order L–112, approved standard models of industrial power trucks for each manufacturer named in this supplementary order shall be those models listed below for such manufacturer: Provided, however, That notwithstanding any other provision of Limitation Order L–112, as supplemented, no such model shall be manufactured which is not produced in accordance with the following restrictions:

(1) No such model shall be manufactured in more than one size of platform width and length, nor shall any such model contain battery boxes built to accommodate larger capacity batteries than the manufacturer's standard battery for the model; and

(2) No fork truck (other than Army or Navy Ordnance models) having a load capacity rated at less than ten thousand (10,000) pounds shall be manufactured which is not (i) of the tilting, telescopic type and having a standard minimum overall height not in excess of eighty-three (83) inches, and a standard maximum lift height, adopted for such model of fork truck by the manufacturer thereof, except that if any such model of fork truck has a rated load capacity for which one or more alternative (in addition to standard) maximum lift heights are shown in Table I below, then such model of fork truck may also be manufactured with any maximum lift height thus shown and with a standard minimum overall height which may be in excess of eighty-three (83) inches, adopted for such fork trucks by the manufacturer; and (ii) equipped with a standard fork of the length designated in Table I for trucks of such capacity (but this restriction shall not be deemed to prohibit the furnishing of separate fork extensions):

TABLE I

Rated load capacity	Maximum lift height	Fork length
2,000 lb	Standard	30"
3,000 lb	Standard or 144"	36"
4,000 lb	Standard or 144"	36"
6,000 lb	Standard, 144" or 168"	42"
7,000 lb	Standard or 144"	42"

Any manufacturer who has been engaged, prior to July 10, 1943, in producing fork trucks without standard heights or in heights not permitted by this order, shall determine upon and adopt a standard minimum over-all height and a standard maximum lift height for each of the approved standard models (and for each of the permitted maximum lift heights which he proposes to furnish in any model) being produced by him, in accordance with this order, within ten (10) days after July 20, 1943 (and for any proposed new model which he may propose to manufacture, within ten (10) days after the listing of such model in this order as an approved standard model); and such manufacturer shall not thereafter commence the manufacture of any model which is not produced in accordance with the standard heights so adopted by him.

PART 3037—ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L–183–a, Direction 1]

EFFECT OF PRECEDENCE LIST DESIGNATIONS ON COMPONENT ORDERS PLACED BY JOBBERS AND DISTRIBUTORS

A precedence list designation on a purchase order placed with a component manufacturer by a jobber or distributor must not be given any effect by the component manufacturer in scheduling shipment on that order, unless the purchase order also has all of the other information required by paragraph (b) (4) of Limitation Order L–183–a (name of contracting agency or customer on the prime contract; prime contract number; definite minimum delivery schedule required to support production according to the precedence list; and producer's manufacturing lead factor). It also must not be given any effect by the component manufacturer in any case where the component manufacturer knows, or has reason to believe, that the purchase order of the jobber or distributor is for replacement of inventory, even though the order purports to carry the other information required by paragraph (b) (4).

This means, in effect, that precedence list designations when accompanied by the other required information have effect on the scheduling of jobbers' and distributors' orders only when those orders are placed by the jobber or distributor as an intermediary for an equipment manufacturer for equipment being produced under a contract carrying Precedence.

For example, if Brown Radio Manufacturing Company places an order for resistors on White Resistor Company through a distributor, the distributor placing the order directly on White Resistor Company may use the precedence list designation, minimum delivery schedule, contract and contractor information and lead factor furnished by Brown Radio Manufacturing Company. White Resistor Company in turn may schedule that order according to precedence. If Brown Radio Manufacturing Company buys resistors from the distributor's stock, however, and the distributor extends the rating and precedence on his order with White Resistor Company to replace his inventory, then in that case the precedence list designation on the distributor's order shall not be given any effect.

WAR DEPARTMENT SMALL ORDERS

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Reg. 1.

(a) This direction provides for the use by the War Department of the symbol SO in placing purchase orders for controlled materials and Class A products. This supersedes all previous orders, regulations, and instructions on the same subject.

(b) Any one purchase order for any Class A product may be placed as a small order where the total amount of controlled materials needed to produce the products for that one order do not exceed the quantities specified in paragraph (L) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(c) Any single authorized controlled material order may be placed where the total amount of the controlled materials covered by such order do not exceed the amount specified in paragraph (L) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(d) Purchase orders may not be split in order to fall within this direction.

(e) Orders placed under this direction shall be treated as though placed under paragraph (L) of CMP Regulation No. 1. Orders placed under this direction must bear the allotment symbol SO. An order so placed for a controlled material is an authorized controlled material order.

PART 3274—MACHINE TOOLS AND INDUSTRIAL SPECIALTIES

[General Preference Order E-6, as Amended June 5, 1944]

HAND SERVICE TOOLS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of hand service tools and of alloy steel used in their manufacture, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3274.51 General Preference Order E-6—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Mechanic's hand service tool" means any tool listed on Exhibit A hereto attached which is used by hand, and is made of iron or steel or has a principal component part made of iron or steel.

(2) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of mechanics' hand service tools.

(4) "WPB-547 order" means any order for mechanics' hand service tools now or hereafter placed with a producer by any person acquiring such tools for his own inventory or shelf stock pursuant to a rating assigned on Form WPB-547 (formerly PD-1X).

(5) "Other order" means any purchase order for mechanics' hand service tools except WPB-547 orders.

(6) "Total monthly production" means either.

(i) The total dollar value of each kind of mechanic's hand service tool listed on Exhibit A hereto attached, scheduled to be produced in any given month by a producer, including both special and standard tools of that kind; or

(ii) The total number of units of each kind of mechanic's hand service tool listed on Exhibit A hereto attached, scheduled to be produced in any given month by a producer.

(b) Restriction on use of steel. No producer shall manufacture any mechanics' hand service tools out of any alloy steel except those which are in the series specified in Exhibit B hereto attached or except pursuant to specific permission of the War Production Board.

(c) Allocation of production between WPB-547 orders and other orders. Commencing with the month of July 1943 and each month thereafter, each producer shall schedule his total monthly production and the delivery thereof as follows:

(1) To the extent that he has WPB-547 orders on hand, he shall schedule between 20 and 25 percent of his total monthly production of each kind of mechanic's hand service tool specified in Exhibit A hereto attached for delivery against WPB-547 orders requiring delivery in such month. No producer shall schedule any order pursuant to this paragraph (c) (1) unless it clearly appears from such order that the rating applied thereto was assigned on Form WPB-547 (formerly PD-1X).

The sequence of deliveries on WPB-547 orders within the percentage limitation thereon which may be delivered in any given month shall be scheduled according to applicable War Production Board regulations.

(2) To the extent that he has other orders on hand, he shall schedule between 75 and 80 percent of his total monthly production of each kind of mechanic's hand service tool specified in Exhibit A hereto attached for delivery against other orders requiring delivery in such month.

The sequence of deliveries on other orders within the percentage limitation thereon which may be delivered in any given month shall be scheduled according to applicable War Production Board regulations.

(3) Any portion of the percentage allocated to WPB-547 orders which has not been taken up by such orders on or before the fifteenth day of the month preceding the month being scheduled, shall be scheduled for delivery against other orders, and vice versa.

(d) Necessity for preference ratings and authorizations to place orders. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order:

(1) No producer shall sell or deliver any mechanics' hand service tools pursuant to any purchase order placed prior to June 12, 1943 unless such order bears a preference rating of A-9 or higher, nor shall any producer sell or deliver any mechanics' hand service tools pursuant to any purchase order placed subsequent to June 12, 1943 unless such order bears a preference rating of AA-5 or higher, or except pursuant to specific permission of the War Production Board.

(2) [Deleted Feb. 19, 1944]

NOTE: Specific authorization to purchase certain types of mechanics' hand service tools is now required by Table 12 under General Scheduling Order M-293.

(e) Restrictions on inventory. On and after June 12, 1943, no person purchasing more than ten mechanics' hand service tools of any kind specified on Exhibit A shall accept delivery of any such tools the delivery of which will effect an increase in his inventory beyond a supply required by his current practices for use or for resale during a sixty-day period. In the event that the provisions of Suppliers' Inventory Limitation Order L-63 as applied to any supplier as defined in that order are more restrictive, such provisions shall govern. The restrictions on inventory contained in this paragraph (e) shall not apply to the following designated types of purchase orders:

(1) Purchase orders for mechanics' hand service tools made pursuant to the purchaser's special design or specifications which are not standard items in the producer's production schedules.

(2) Purchase orders placed by the Army, Navy, or Maritime Commission for mechanics' hand service tools required for bases or supply depots outside the continental United States (comprising the several States and the District of Columbia), or for bases or supply depots within the continental United States which are maintained for emergency purposes, or to supply such bases or supply depots outside the continental United States.

(3) Any other purchase order specifically excepted from this restriction by the War Production Board.

(f) Repair parts. Nothing in this order shall be construed to prevent the sale and delivery of repair parts for mechanics' hand service tools in accordance with applicable regulations and orders of the War Production Board concerning repair parts.

(g) [Revoked Feb. 19, 1944]

(h) Applicability of General Scheduling Order M-293. Those mechanics' hand service tools which are listed on the schedule attached to General Scheduling Order M-293 are also subject to the terms and provisions of that order.

(i) Reports. Each producer shall execute and file with the War Production Board Form WPB-2057 and such other reports and questionnaires as said Board may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(j) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(k) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board.

(l) Communications. All reports, appeals, and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Tools Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: E-6.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule I, as Amended June 5, 1944]

PAPER AND PAPERBOARD FOR USE IN COMMERCIAL PRINTING

§ 3281.17 Schedule I to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix:

(1) The term "paper and paperboard" means and is limited to the kinds of paper and paperboard commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the appendix below.

(2) The term "paper and paperboard for use in commercial printing" means all paper and paperboard commonly manufactured and distributed for use in printing, including but not limited to the printing of house organs, music, labels and posters; and excluding only those manufactured and distributed for use in printing newspapers and magazines, pamphlets published for resale, and books, or for conversion into another paper product or products otherwise than by printing.

(3) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of paper or paperboard such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any common property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper or paperboard, or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(4) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(5) The term "basis weight" means the weight in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(6) The term "thickness" means the thickness of a sheet of paper or paperboard expressed either in terms of plies or in terms of thousandths of an inch measured by the Cady Micrometer.

(7) An "item" means a quantity of paper or paperboard all of which is of the same size, grain, basis weight, finish, color and grade.

(8) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a basis weight or thickness, and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(9) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight, thickness or size that is not standard.

(10) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer or consumer.

(11) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing, including pasting whether by a primary manufacturer or otherwise.

(12) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers or paperboards subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper or paperboard to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the appendix belongs each of the "paper and paperboard for use in commercial printing" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper or paperboard in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers or paperboards selling within the same general price range as the paper or paperboard in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers or paperboards possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper or paperboard in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "paper or paperboard for use in commercial printing", or whether a particular kind of paper or paperboard is such a paper or paperboard at all or belongs under any caption of the appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper or paperboard, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper or paperboard, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of paper or paperboard with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefore an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "paper or paperboard for use in commercial printing", shall select such "grade" or "grades" (if selection is indicated under the appropriate caption and has not already been made by him), not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board, in writing, the original selection shall remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "paper and paperboard for use in commercial printing", to select a number of colors and such selection is indicated and has not already been reported by him, each person desiring to manufacture such grade in colors shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing, the original selection shall remain binding.

(e) General limitations. No person shall manufacture any kind of "paper or paperboard for use in commercial printing" in any grade, color, basis weight, or size other than those specified or selected as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the appendix (where such standards are specified or selected under A of the appropriate caption), or contrary to any other provision under the appropriate caption. This general rule is, however, subject to the following exceptions:

(1) Tolerances and variations are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (f).

(2) Cutting and slitting to various sizes are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (g).

(3) Special provision is made for "jobs" and "seconds" in paragraph (h).

(4) Special provision is made for export orders in paragraph (i).

(5) Exceptions are made for "special making orders" under certain captions of the appendix. However, regardless of these exceptions where special making orders are so permitted under any caption, the basis weight or thickness must not exceed the heaviest standard basis weight or thickness permitted under A of such caption.

(6) Paper or paperboard in process of manufacture on June 5, 1944, and conforming to the requirements of this order prior to the amendment effective that date, may be completed otherwise than by pasting.

(7) Paper or paperboard may be manufactured for a particular use in any basis weight or thickness permitted for such use by this or any other order of the War Production Board, provided the basis weight or thickness does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other orders are fully complied with.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of paper or paperboard under each caption and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade for such kind. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for rolls; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions, if any, applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds" resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture "paper and paperboard" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper or paperboard is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L-120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing from the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any "kind" of "paper or paperboard for use in commercial printing" in any size, basis weight or thickness required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with and (if the basis weight or thickness is heavier than permitted) such person has received permission in writing from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such heavier basis weight.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "paper or paperboard for use in commercial printing" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after September 1, 1943, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Export orders. On and after September 1, 1943 each person who manufactures "paper or paperboard for use in commercial printing" for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of paragraphs (c) and (d) have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of June 1944.

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule II, as Amended June 5, 1944]

PAPER AND PAPERBOARD FOR USE IN BOOK PUBLISHING

§ 3281.18 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix:

(1) The term "paper" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the appendix below.

(2) The term "paper for use in book publishing" means all "paper" commonly manufactured and distributed for use in books and in publishing pamphlets for resale.

(3) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(4) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(5) The term "basis weight" means the weight of a kind of paper in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(6) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, grain, basis weight, finish, color and grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a basis weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer or publisher.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing, including pasting whether by a primary manufacturer or otherwise.

(11) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption of the appendix, if any, belongs each of the "papers for use in book publishing" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "paper for use in book publishing", or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "paper for use in book publishing" shall, with respect to each such kind he manufactures select such "grade" or "grades" thereof (if such selection is indicated under the appropriate caption and has not already been reported by him to the War Production Board), not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "paper for use in book publishing", to select a number of colors, and such selection is indicated and has not already been reported by him to the War Production Board, each person desiring to manufacture such grade in colors shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall remain binding.

(e) General limitations. No person shall manufacture any kind of "paper for use in book publishing" in any grade, color, basis weight, or size other than those specified or selected as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the appendix (where such standards are specified or selected under A of the appropriate caption), or contrary to any other provision under the appropriate caption. This general rule is, however, subject to the following exceptions:

(1) Any item the manufacture of which is permitted under Schedule I to Limitation Order L-120 may be manufactured for use in books or in publishing pamphlets for resale, provided the basis weight of the item is no heavier than permitted under the maximum weight provisions of this Schedule II for the grade.

(2) Tolerances and variations are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (f).

(3) Cutting and slitting to various sizes are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (g).

(4) Special provision is made for "jobs" and "seconds" in paragraph (h).

(5) Special provision is made for export orders in paragraph (i).

(6) Exceptions are made for "special making orders" under certain captions of the appendix. However, regardless of these exceptions where special making orders are so permitted under any caption, the basis weight or thickness must not exceed the heaviest standard basis weight or thickness permitted under A of such caption.

(7) Paper in process of manufacture on June 5, 1944, and conforming to the requirements of this order prior to the amendment effective that date, may be completed otherwise than by pasting.

(8) Paper may be manufactured for a particular use in any basis weight or thickness permitted for such use by this or any other order of the War Production Board, provided the basis weight or thickness does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other orders are fully complied with.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of paper under each caption and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions, if any, applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture paper according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L-120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any kind of paper for use in book publishing in any size or basis weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with and (if the basis weight is heavier than permitted by this schedule) such person has received permission in writing from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such heavier basis weight.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "paper for use, in book publishing" shall keep readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after September 1, 1943, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer or publisher, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Export orders. On and after September 1, 1943, each person who manufactures "paper for use in book publishing" for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require.

(4) Buyer's statement of use. On and after September 1, 1943, each manufacturer, before filling any order for "paper for use in book publishing" manufactured after September 1, 1943, shall require from the buyer a statement that such order is for use in books or in publishing pamphlets for resale, and shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board.

(k) Deleted June 5, 1944.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of WPB 1295 (formerly PD 589) have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of June 1944.

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule III as Amended June 5, 1944]

FINE WRITING PAPERS

§ 3281.19 Schedule III to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix:

(1) The term "fine writing papers" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the Appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of fine writing paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "substance weight" means the weight of a kind of fine writing paper in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(5) The term "thickness" means the thickness of a sheet of paper or paperboard expressed either in terms of plies or in terms of thousandths of an inch measured by the Cady Micrometer.

(6) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, grain, substance weight, finish, color and grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a substance weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, substance weight or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer, converter or consumer.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing, including pasting whether by a primary manufacturer or otherwise.

(11) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other form of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption of the Appendix, if any, belongs each of the "fine writing papers" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "fine writing paper," or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the Appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "fine writing paper" shall with respect to each such kind he manufactures, select such "grade" or "grades" thereof (if such selection is indicated under the appropriate caption and has not already been reported by him to the War Production Board) not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall remain binding. Each person who regularly manufactures any Extra 100 percent rag content grade of any kind of "fine writing paper" shall notify, as above, the War Production Board thereof on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589), stating, in addition, in what respect each such grade differs from his standard 100 percent rag grade, and submitting with his statement representative samples of each such grade and a list of sizes, weights and colors regularly manufactured.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "fine writing paper", to select a number of colors each person desiring to manufacture such grade in colors (and such selection is indicated and has not already been reported by him to the War Production Board), shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall remain binding.

(e) General limitations. No person shall manufacture any kind of "fine writing paper" in any grade, color, basis weight, or size other than those specified or selected as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the Appendix (where such standards are specified or selected under A of the appropriate caption), or contrary to any other provision under the appropriate caption. This general rule is, however, subject to the following exceptions:

(1) Tolerances and variations are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (f).

(2) Cutting and slitting to various sizes are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (g).

(3) Special provision is made for "jobs" and "seconds" in paragraph (h).

(4) Special provision is made for export orders in paragraph (i).

(5) Exceptions are made for "special making orders" under certain captions of the Appendix. However, regardless of these exceptions where special making orders are so permitted under any caption, the basis weight or thickness must not exceed the heaviest standard basis weight or thickness permitted under A of such caption.

(6) Paper or paperboard in process of manufacture on June 5, 1944, and conforming to the requirements of this order prior to the amendment effective that date, may be completed otherwise than by pasting.

(7) Paper or paperboard may be manufactured for a particular use in any basis weight or thickness permitted for such use by this or any other order of the War Production Board, provided the basis weight or thickness does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other order are fully complied with.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of "fine writing papers" under each caption and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for rolls; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions, if any, applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona-fide attempt to manufacture "fine writing paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any kind of "fine writing paper" in any size or substance weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with and (if the substance weight or thickness is greater than permitted by this schedule) such person has received permission in writing from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such greater substance weight or thickness; and further, bonds, ledgers and writings may be manufactured with any percent of rag content specified by any foreign government to fill a special making order for such government.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "fine writing paper" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule IV, as Amended June 5, 1944]

TABLET PAPER

§ 3281.20 Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule including the appendix:

(1) The term "tablet paper" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly known in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the Appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality of "tablet paper", such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, or in the dyes used in the paper shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "basis weight" means the weight of a tablet paper in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated in the Appendix, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(5) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, basis weight, grain, finish, color and grade.

(6) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a basis weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(7) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or size that is not standard.

(8) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one converter or consumer.

(9) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(10) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management, or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, which papers manufactured by him belong under the caption "tablet paper" in the Appendix below. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to whether or not a particular paper manufactured by him is such a paper he may apply to War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board, by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures "tablet paper" shall select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD 589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of "tablet paper", to select a number of colors, each person desiring to manufacture such grade in colors shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the Appendix, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD 589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall remain binding.

(e) General limitations. (1) Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraphs (e) (2), (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this revised schedule, or under B of the Appendix below, no person shall manufacture "tablet paper" in any grade, color, basis weight or size other than those selected or specified as standard under A of the Appendix, or contrary to any other provision under A of the Appendix; nor shall a manufacturer sell tablet paper otherwise than as provided under A of the Appendix.

(2) Exceptions to paragraph (e) (1). Nothing in this revised schedule shall prevent the manufacture of tablet paper in any basis weight or with any ash content not prohibited by the provisions of this schedule as previously amended, provided such tablet paper was in process of manufacture prior to June 5, 1944; nor shall the provisions of this revised schedule prevent the manufacture of tablet paper for a particular use in any basis weight permitted for such by this or any other order of the War Production Board, provided the basis weight does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other order are fully complied with.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of "tablet papers" and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture of overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture "tablet paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L-120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing from the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any grade of "tablet paper" in any size or basis weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with, and (if the basis weight is heavier than permitted under the appropriate caption) such person has received permission in writing from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such heavier basis weight.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any grade of "tablet paper" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the Appendix below.

(2) Special making orders. On and after September 1, 1943 each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the Appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one converter or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Export orders. On and after September 1, 1943 each person who manufactures "tablet paper" for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of WPB 1295 (formerly PD 589) have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of June 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule XIV, as Amended June 5, 1944]

PAPER FOR USE IN NEWSPAPERS OR MAGAZINES

§ 3281.30 Schedule XIV to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix:

(1) The term "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the appendix below.

(2) The term "basis weight" means the weight of a kind of paper in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(3) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing, including pasting whether by a primary manufacturer or otherwise.

(4) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identifications of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the appendix, belongs each of the "papers for use in newspapers or magazines" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "paper for use in newspapers or magazines," or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) General limitations. (1) Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraph (c) (2) and paragraphs (d), (e) and (f) of this schedule, no person shall manufacture any kind of "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" in any basis weight heavier than the basis weight specified as the maximum for the kind of paper indicated by each caption in the appendix below, or contrary to any other provision in the appendix.

(2) Exceptions to paragraph (c) (1). Nothing in this schedule shall prevent the manufacture, otherwise than by pasting, of "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" in any basis weight exceeding the maximum specified, provided such paper was in process of manufacture prior to June 5, 1944, nor shall the provisions of this schedule prevent the manufacture of paper for a particular use in any basis weight permitted for such use by any other order of the War Production Board, Provided, the basis weight does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other order are fully complied with.

(d) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of paper indicated by each caption and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade.

(e) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds" resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" according to the terms of this schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(f) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this schedule and of Limitation Order L-120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing from the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any kind of "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" in any basis weight required, provided that (if the basis weight is heavier than permitted by this schedule) such person has received permission from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such heavier basis weight.

(g) Records and reports. (1) Each person who manufactures "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, records of the basis weights of each manufacturing run of such paper.

(2) On and after September 1, 1943, each person who manufactures "paper for use in newspapers or magazines" for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of June 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule XV]

GROUNDWOOD PAPER

§ 3281.31 Schedule XV to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix:

(1) The term "groundwood paper" means and is limited to the kinds of paper (not less than 26% of the fibre content of which is groundwood pulp) commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of groundwood paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, or in the dyes used in the paper shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white, and the term "color" includes only those specific depths and hues associated with color names in the volume of color samples entitled "Groundwood Paper Manufacturers' Standard Color Nomenclature System and Manual."

(4) The term "basis weight" means the weight in pounds of the number of sheets and in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of the same number of sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(5) The term "thickness" means the thickness of a sheet of paper expressed either in terms of plies or by caliper in terms of thousandths of an inch measured by the Cady Micrometer.

(6) An "item" for sheets means one size, grain, basis weight, finish and color in one grade. An "item" for rolls means one basis weight, finish, color, and diameter in one grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a basis weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer, consumer, or converter.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(11) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the appendix belongs each of the groundwood papers manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in review and reclassification by the War Production Board, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of groundwood paper, or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board in writing for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "groundwood paper", shall, with respect to each such kind he manufactures, select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a "grade" or "grades" and substituting another or others but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "groundwood paper", to select a number of colors, each person who manufactures such grade, if he desires to manufacture such grade in colors, shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB 1295 (formerly PD-589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a color or colors and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(e) General limitations. No person shall manufacture any kind of "groundwood paper" in any grade, color, basis weight, or size other than those specified or selected as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the appendix (where such standards are specified or selected under A of the appropriate caption), or contrary to any other provision under the appropriate caption. This general rule is, however, subject to the following exceptions:

(1) Tolerances and variations are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (f).

(2) Cutting and slitting to various sizes are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (g).

(3) Special provision is made for "jobs" and "seconds" in paragraph (h).

(4) Special provision is made for export orders in paragraph (i).

(5) Exceptions are made for "special making orders" under certain captions of the appendix. However, regardless of these exceptions where special making orders are so permitted under any caption, the basis weight or thickness must not exceed the heaviest standard basis weight or thickness permitted under A of such caption.

(6) Paper in process of manufacture on June 5, 1944, and conforming to the provisions of Order L-120 prior to that date, may be completed otherwise than by pasting.

(7) Paper may be manufactured for a particular use in any basis weight or thickness permitted such use by this or any other order of the War Production Board, provided the basis weight or thickness does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other order are fully complied with.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of paper indicated by the appropriate caption and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of any order accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture "groundwood paper" according to the terms of this schedule, provided the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L-120 a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in wrting by the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any kind of "groundwood paper" in any size required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "groundwood paper" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after "issuance date" each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under (b) of the appropriate caption of the appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer, converter or consumer, shall keep such statement together with a complete record of such order readily available for inspection by the War Production Board and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Export orders. On and after June 5, 1944, each person who manufactures "groundwood paper" for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of paragraphs (c) and (d) have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 5th day of June 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.
